

Death of M. S. Crow.

Mrs. Nannie Barwell Crow, relict of the late Mr. W. H. Crow, died at her home, corner of Halifax and East Jones streets at 4 o'clock this morning. She had been sick for several months with cancer of the stomach, but bore her sufferings with the sweet christian resignation which marked her life. She was a sister of ex-judge Armistead Barwell of Charlotte, Mr. Dandridge S. Barwell of Norfolk, Va.; and Capt. John B. Barwell of this city, and these loving brothers were all with her in her last moments. She left two children. Mrs. Barwell was born at Hillsboro. Her funeral services are held this afternoon at 6 o'clock from the Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. Eugene Daniels officiating. The pallbearers are Messrs. James Dinwiddie, Seymour Whiting, A. M. McPheeters, Herbert Jackson, George W. Thompson, L. D. H. Hart, Thomas S. Kenas and Herbert Battle.

The Populist in Conference.

The populist leaders had a meeting here last evening. Calls were sent out to them some days ago asking their presence. The first meeting was of the state executive committee. There were on hand Marion Butler, W. H. Worth, congressmen Shuford and Stroud, Dr. Cyrus Thompson, the new president of state Farmers' Alliance, Otho Wilson, James E. Lloyd, W. A. Guthrie. It was decided to press the organization, especially in the western part of the state. Later there was a conference in the interest of fusion at which Dr. J. J. Mott, republican, was present.

The Garbage Question.

It is urged that the garbage, which in this reeking hot weather, with melons and fruit so abundant, is twice as great in quantity as usual, ought to be taken out of the city oftener than once a week. The sanitary officer says the city has not the teams to haul it, and that one removal a week is enough for a place the size of this. Perhaps some people will take issue there with him quite plainly. Some persons do not like to be forced, as they are now, to keep garbage in their lots from Friday to Monday. Hire wagons if necessary, they say to the city authorities.

Charged With Larceny.

This morning the chief of police received a telegram from the mayor of Selma asking that J. W. Tomlinson be arrested. The latter was found and taken into custody. The mayor of Selma also asked that any money of Tomlinson be taken and said that charge against him was larceny. On his person was $30. At 1 o'clock this afternoon officer Upchurch took him to Selma. Tomlinson is white and is 30 years of age. He said at the depot that he did not know why he was arrested. He sat beside officer Upchurch, utterly unconcerned, apparently.

BAPTIST CHAUTAUQUA.

Today's Proceedings at Red Springs.

The exercises of the Baptist Sunday school chautauqua at Red Springs today were as follows: Prayer and praise service, by Rev. J. C. Blalock, of Rockingham; address, "How to run mission schools," by Dr. C. A. Rominger; address, "Our enemy, the liquor traffic, how shall we array the Sunday schools against it?" by J. A. Smith of Fair Bluff; exercises by class from Baptist orphanage at Thomasville; concert, vocal and instrumental, conducted by Prof. Ruebush; superintendent's "exhortations" by president Broughton of Raleigh; conference on the officers of a Sunday school and their duties; address, "A typical life of devotion to principle," by Rev. Baylus Cade; concert of praise; lecture, "Laugh and grow fat," by Rev. B. W. Spillman of Kinston.

A Charlotte Sensation.

At Charlotte late Monday night as Mr. Frank McNinch was journeying homeward through the Presbyterian church yard he was set upon by eight or ten white men, among whom he recognized aldermen Tom Garibaldi, Osprey Asbury and Will Anthony who jostled him and cursed liberally. The Post says Mr. McNinch went to mayor Weddington's residence and stated the case. Police were sent with him to his home. The crowd who were after him, thinking he had gone home, went to his house. They gathered in front of it, and the demonstration greatly alarmed McNinch's mother and sister. There are various reports about what occurred, one being that two men wanted to enter the house, but were restrained.

The cause of the trouble was the arrest of some young men Sunday for gaming, which they thought was owing to McNinch's efforts. He is mayor Weddington's private secretary, but was in no way connected with the arrests. McNinch was unarmed at the time, but the other persons were armed. His residence was guarded all night.

The railway conductors excursion which left here yesterday carried 300 into Wilmington. Most of the excursionists went to the seaside resorts. They will return tonight.

STATE NEWS.

ITEMS OF ALL KINDS FROM ALL PARTS.

The North Carolina Happenings Briefly Collated.

City attorney David B. Sutton of Wilmington commenced the active operations in the matter of back taxes.

Capt. Roessler and Mr. Hyams have bought the two broom factories at Charlotte and consolidated them and will operate a large plant.

The government distillery of Theodore Turner, near Hillsboro, was closed and seized yesterday for irregularity.

The cigar factory at Durham of W. P. Henry & Co. was bought yesterday by S. R. Carrington, who will enlarge it.

The Biblical Recorder says that 43 3/4 per cent of the people of North Carolina are church members. This is far above the average, which is about 27 per cent.

Rev. J. Henry Smith, D. D., pastor for nearly thirty-seven years of the First Presbyterian church at Greensboro, yesterday passed his 75th birthday.

At the last term of Robeson superior court nothing was done. Judge Norwood, the Review says, couldn't hold court and was hustled off to Greensboro by his friends to try the Keeley cure.

Rock springs campmeeting has just ended. There are 400 tents and houses and it is noted for the large attendance every year. This year, though, the crowd was even larger than usual, between 6,000 and 7,000 people being in daily attendance, the Charlotte News says.

Several weeks ago a party of young men at Morganton hired a team there and drove from Morganton to Lincolnton and return the same day. The horses suffered terribly from the treatment and were made useless for life. Three of the men are in jail.

Mr. H. H. Dougherty is at Wilmington in the interest of the proposed Carolina, Tennessee & Ohio R. R., which he thinks will surely be under way in the near future. Mr. J. E. Challenge of Philadelphia, manager of the Philadelphia car service association, is president of the road. Part of the track, several miles, leading out of Southport is graded and judgment against this, the Review says, has been entered in favor of the new road.

The good results of the quieting effect of a gatling gun is seen in the Winston affair. There is probably not a town in the state where better order is being preserved at present. Yet a few days ago, before the gun arrived, the town was on the verge of a great riot, in which both life and property were greatly endangered. Business is moving along smoothly; no friction or signs of a renewal of hostilities. That the negroes are happy is evidenced by a new song they are singing while at work in the factories. "Gatling gun no good at all, We've been shot with a cannon ball."

A gentleman from High Point tells the Record that Jim Balajack who was arrested in Florida on a charge of bigamy committed in this state is again a free man. Pending the arrival of the proper evidence from this state he sued out a writ of habeas corpus and was liberated. With his new or third wife he then left for parts unknown. Balajack married a daughter of one of the Siamese twins, at their home in Mt. Airy, and got away with her fortune. Mrs. Balajack obtained a divorce. Balajack moved near Yaddin College and married again. His second wife had some property at High Point. Then he and his wife moved to Jacksonville, Fla., and lived there until a week or two ago, when they returned to High Point. Balajack sold the property and returned to Jacksonville. The next heard of him was a dispatch asking if his wife was living. An affirmative reply was sent and was arrested and jailed for bigamy, having married immediately on his return to Florida.

THE WEATHER.

The Predictions and the Conditions Local and General.

For North Carolina: Showers. Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Friday, showers. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m.: Maximum temperature 85, minimum temperature 70, rainfall 0.01.

The storm yesterday central over Kansas has moved to the mouth of the Mississippi river, where the barometer is down to 29.90 inches. The pressure is falling again in the extreme northwest. The pressure is high from the lakes southwest to Kansas, and on the middle Atlantic coast. Scattered showers have occurred at a number of stations, and the weather remains cloudy and threatening over most of the southern and Atlantic states. The temperature is rising in the northwest, but has only changed slightly elsewhere. The low area in the gulf will probably cause rains over most of the Atlantic states today and tomorrow.

REMNANTS.

Maj. Jack Hayes, U. S. A., left for Morganton this morning.

Peaches were yesterday shipped from Southern Pines to England.

A load of watermelons sold here today for only 2 cents each.

Two dissolute white women, Clark and Dinkins, were today sent out of the city.

Mrs. R. E. L. Bunch of Washington, D. C., arrived this afternoon from Wrightsville. At the depot here at 5:30 this morning ex-senator Ransom and senator Butler were conspicuous figures.

At Wilmington yesterday the team there "chicagoed" the Raleigh baseballists—score 12 to 0.

The canning of okra is quite a large business at Gibson station, Richmond county. This cannery will make an exhibit at the state fair.

A waggish colored man says his idea of paradise is a place where watermelons can be pulled from the vine every day in the year.

The work of refitting and renovating Tucker's store is now in progress. One side will receive attention and then the other.

Miss Elinor McBride, who is professor of Latin at Bradford school Pa., left today for Geneseo, N. Y., after a visit to the Misses Dinwiddie.

Manager J. A. Egerton of the Western Union telegraph company who has been sick and who is yet very weak has gone to Warrenton to rest and recuperate.

At noon today Capt. Coke's physicians said he had held the little gain he had made yesterday. This news was confirmed at 3 o'clock.

Young Mr. Jennett, the News and Observer's cartoonist, is from Sampson county, and his work, though crude in outline as yet, is most unmistakably clever.

Mr. W. G. Upchurch's condition was a little more favorable this morning, but less so this afternoon. He has cancer of the stomach, the physicians think.

Two thousand people were at Cary today. This morning James M. Mewborne, John Graham of Ridgeway, Cyrus Thompson and Marlon Butler spoke. Then dinner was eaten, and at 1 o'clock Sibley's speech began.

There are some foul smelling lots in this city. The sanitary officer says, when asked about some of them, that they are now lots and that the odor can't be avoided. Anyway, they are not pleasant places to pass near.

Rev. Dr. I. Mc K. Pittinger went to Southern Pines this morning and united in marriage Mr. Stewart Thomas and Miss Frankie Raymond, daughter of Mrs. Raymond, the owner of the Prospect house. The bridal party went north at 11:30.

Complaints come to the Visitor about the sanitary condition of premises even in the center of the city. A lady is one of those who complain. Some say the sanitary officer does not really inspect premises. The sanitary officer says he does inspect and declares that the city is cleaner than usual.

Congressman Sibley arrived at 5:30 this morning from Washington. He was met by many populists of prominence, and soon after breakfast took the special train to Cary where he spoke this afternoon. A hundred or more persons went on this train, among them some prominent democrats. Many farmers gathered to hear the much-expected speech.

DOT AND DASH.

PICKED UP IN RALEIGH AND VICINITY.

The Happenings of a Day Told in Little Space.

Mrs. W. B. Mann and daughter are visiting at Oxford.

Pullen lodge Knights and Ladies of Honor will meet in its hall this evening at 8 o'clock sharp.

Mrs. D. L. Shively and daughters, accompanied by Miss Williamson of Lowell, Mass., left yesterday for Baltimore.

Mr. Augustus Lazar is at Mooresville, Iredell county, where his wife is very sick with typhoid fever.

The shoe factory at Cary is now settled on and a movement is on foot to transfer all the Alliance offices to that place from this city.

It is said that Walter H. Henry, Esq., of Henderson, well known as a populist speaker, is soon to begin to make populist speeches at various points in the state.

The Epworth League of Edenton street church is making preparations for one of its delightful receptions next Tuesday evening. In connection with the reception a "pound party" will also be given. Be sure to attend.

While there are several cases of typhoid fever in this city, physicians assure the Visitor that this disease is not epidemic or endemic, but that the cases are isolated. They add that the cases are not more numerous than usual.

Grand master Charles F. Lumsden of the Odd Fellows went to Wake Forest today to address a joint meeting of the Odd Fellows of the Wake Forest, Franklinton and Youngville lodges. A barbecue was given by the Wake Forest lodge.

The Seaboard railway may join the new Southern railway freight association but it depends upon the new articles of agreement adopted today. That road wants a sixty day limit but some of the other lines wish to require a member to give six months notice before withdrawal from the association. A merry rate war is possible.

Dr. Cyrus Thompson, the new president of the State Farmers' Alliance, is for free and unlimited coinage of silver, without waiting for international agreement; does not believe either the democrats or republicans can be trusted to restore silver to its former position; and thinks the movement to found a new silver party will fail, like other movements of the kind.

Last Friday night the residence of Mr. John R. Tarrentine at Wilmington was entered by burglars and a gold watch and two suits of clothes carried off. Since then the chief of police has been making strenuous efforts to locate and capture the burglars. He learned that they were in Newbern and yesterday they were arrested. They are negro men.

A year ago the Visitor waged a war against the filth placed immediately south of the city boundary. That is the direction from which the wind often comes, and the odors in southeast Raleigh are not pleasant now, for much filth is placed near Rocky branch not far below Tucker's mill.

Father Marion, of this city, who makes frequent visits to the small band of Catholics at Durham, was there yesterday and secured a second floor building and will have it fitted up and furnished as a temporary place for gathering his flock together for worship. It is said that they are discussing the question of building a church.

Peace institute has the finest outlook in its history for a large attendance at the next term. President Dinwiddie is enterprising and this admirable school is reaching out. Twice as many applications are on file as at this time last year. Miss Mary Adams formerly of the school at Clinton and latter lady principal of Isbell college, Alabama, will be in the literary department next term.
