Three Men Injured at the Rock Quarry.

NO ONE WAS KILLED

Mr. Chas. Wallen, Mr. John Wood and Ed. Tate Injured--Tates Wounds May Prove Fatal--Little Damage to Property.

This morning about 9:30 o'clock, an accident occurred at the rock quarry just east of the city, in which Mr. Chas. Wallen, superintendent of machinery and John Wood, white, engineer, and Ed. Tate, colored, fireman, were scalded.

The boiler, an upright one, exploded its flues filling the room, about 12x18 feet with steam. At the time of the accident Mr. Wallen, John Wood and Ed. Tate were close to the boiler and each was more or less injured. Mr. Wallen was badly scalded about the hands and face. He was at once carried home and there received medical attention. John Wood is badly scalded about the body and arms and was taken to Dr. Jas. Rogers' office, but he was so covered up with dust and coal cinders he was sent to his home, No. 534 East Martin street, where Dr. Rogers gave him necessary attention.

Ed. Tate, the colored fireman, was more severely injured than the others. He was shoveling coal in the fire-box when the boiler, an upright one, exploded its flues, downward directly into the fire box, scattering the hot coal and cinders covered him while the escaping steam completely enveloped him. He is very badly scalded about the face and neck, and the flesh on his hands and arms are nearly cooked. Tate was at once taken to the hospital where he will have every attention.

There is but slight damage done to the boiler, though work was suspended for the day.

MONUMENT FUND.

A Shaft to the Hero, Ensign Bagley.

SOME SUGGESTIONS.

The Army Post May be Named the Worth Bagley Post--People of the State Deeply Interested.

The Morning Post yesterday, soon after the report of the death of Ensign Worth Bagley was confirmed, suggested the erection of a suitable monument to record his heroic death.

This was warmly participated in by the large crowd gathered about the Post bulletin board and before the paper had gone to press $81.75 was subscribed.

In order that this fund may be shared in as largely as possible by all classes of our citizens, it has been deemed wise to ask no subscription from any one individual in excess of one ($1.00) dollar.

All day long today volunteer subscriptions have been coming in and the amount will be more than doubled in the morning report.

This evening the Times-Visitor received the following telegram from Asheville:

Asheville, N. C., May 12--Citizens opens subscription list to the monument for Bagley at Raleigh.

CITIZEN.

There is no doubt but that a spontaneous response will come from every city, town and hamlet in the good old State, and the result will be a handsome shaft erected at Raleigh commemorative of the hero of Cardenas.

It has been suggested also that a military company to be called the Worth Bagley Guards be organized in Raleigh, his birth place and home in honor of the young officer who so gallantly fought and gave up his life for his country.

Again some of our spirited citizens have aroused their best energies in hastening the subscriptions to guarantee the Army Post at this place and it will be recommended that the Post when located here be called Worth Bagley Post.

All these and even more may well be carried into successful accomplishment as marks of esteem to the first naval officer who fell in this war with Spain.

Let Raleigh and her people push all these suggestions forward and our sister cities will be glad to send their aid.

This monument is to be erected by popular subscriptions from one cent to one dollar. No person will be permitted to subscribe more than one dollar. It is suggested that every school in North Carolina secure one cent subscription from the pupils that every child may have an interest in the shaft.

DON'T LIKE BEEF ANYWAY.

The following, relating to camp fare is taken from the Lexington Dispatch: Mr. Editor: I notice in Saturday Evening Despatch, about myself, David Leonard and W. J. Lookbill leaving camp at Raleigh. We left because the grub we got was not fit to eat, and we had nothing to sleep on but straw in tents, had no cover at all. They gave us beef and loaf bread each meal, the last meal we went to, had maggots in it. The grub was cooked in large pots and we had tin plates to eat from, and had no table, and, of course, had to eat on the ground. In Capt. Gray's letter he says the balance of the Lexington boys are satisfied; they were not when we left, they, or most of them wanted to leave when we did, but was afraid and said they were going to try and not pass examination. If the food would have been clean we would have stayed, but couldn't live like dogs, and I don't like beef anyway, so I was not in it. Anyone wishing to volunteer can write Capt. R. P. Gray, Camp Grimes, Raleigh.

R. E. CECILL.

ARRESTED AT CAMP GRIMES.

J. W. Roberts, a member of the Statesville company, was arrested by Sheriff H. T. Jones, this evening upon a warrant from Statesville, endorsed by H. E.
