Chicago boasts of an American flas 75 feet long, 40 feet wide, made of 800 vards of bunting.

A Madrid paper says that "Spain will win in the long run." Certainly if her M. McGowan, Justice of the peace at fleet keeps running away from Admiral Sameson. She will indeed win in a long run, but she better run quick and fast,

The North Carolina Press Association will meet this year at Waynesville and June 22nd or 23rd will, probably, be fixed as the date. The Chairman of the Executive Committee has issued a call for a meet ing of the cimmittee at Raleigh, on May 26th, to make preliminary arrangements for the annual session of the Association.

Admiral Dewey's victory at Manila wreathed American faces with smile of triumph and gladdened our hearts with true American pride. The Winslow disaster cast a cloud over our retolcing, dropping about us the dark mantle of the seriousness of war. Particularly so is the situation in Raleigh today, where our whole people are in deep bereavement and saddest mourning, with military honors, laying to rest in our beautiful city of the dead the mortal remains of Ensign Worth Bagley, the first American officer sac rificed upon the Nation's altar.

Thus it is we learn that war is not all a summer holiday rejoicing over victories achieved, for the future no doubt is full of pregnant questions which may not be answered with a smiling face. The noble, heroic men who man our warships are momentarlly awaiting orders that may lead them face to face with results when, like young Bagley, their names may be inscribed upon war's roll of patriotic and heroic dead with "Old Glory" as their winding-sheet.

What's that? Isn't this a combine and isn't combination plutocratic? Can our esteemed contemporary be sincere in hoping that a triple combine and a monopoly will succeed?—Richmond

Oh, no, Brother Times. This is not a combine, plutocratic orotherwise. It is a harmonious consolidation of a large amount of physical energy, limited intellectual capacity and capital-a kind of mingling together of contending forces into a journalistic enterprise calculated to push forward local interests and furnish the public with all the

Washington, May 15.—Senator Sewell Washington, May 15.—Senator Sewell, of New Jersey, who was nominated to be a major general in the volunteer army, has informed the Secretary of War that he will decline the honor. This action presumably is due to the belief of the Senator that in accepting a commission in the army he would be compelled to resign his position in the United States Senate.

As Senator Sewell was appointed as Senator Sewell was appointed.

As Senator Sewell was appointed from civil life, the expectation is that the vacancy will be filled in a similar way. The Senator has also been assigned to the command of the troops to be concentrated at Washington, and his retirement will necessitate a new selection for that command.
