ALGER ON LEE.

In speaking of the management of the management of camps, and their commanders, in reference to the suffering, sickness and death of our soldiers...

"The camp at Jacksonville was in charge of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, who is a graduate of West Point, and has turned out to have been the best corps commander we have..."

"He had the advantage of artesian wells," was suggested. "He had no advantage at all," retorted the Secretary sharply.

"The court martialled Kansas hyena—Dr. Duncan has been sentenced to four years' imprisonment for desecrating on the grave of a Confederate soldier..."

"The historic remark. Detroit Journal. 'Let us on,' cried the army impatiently. But the word came not.

It has narrowed down to a fact that General Alger wants to do the "investigating" of camp abuses. But the general public will have none of such.

"Making hay while the sun shines" is the easiest work on earth, but to cultivate a harvest of Anglo-Saxon apathy with the dark clouds of war hovering about the horizon of the world...

Admiral Dewey's declining to come home is because he is desirous to do some more fighting if necessary, and while he is not afraid to tackle a whole fleet of men of war, he does not wish to engage a mosquito fleet of little smacks.

It was to avenge the starving Cubans that the United States sent her brave sons to war with Spain. The question is now settling down to what is going to be done to avenge the starving soldiers who avenged the Cubans?

Orders were issued last night for a suspension of hostilities on the part of that insurgent general in Dr. Burns' hands.

Atlanta is again pleading for a Grand Army encampment.

Fusion seems to be the sweetest word in the lan guage to a certain class.

The ferocious squirrel is vying with the aldermanic goat for supremacy.

Mr. Burns may abhor dogs and nurses but vicious squirrels are not on his black list.

The re-transportation of tanned humanity from Morehead City is on the decline.

The accession of a goat seems to have hampered the popularity of a First Ward Alderman.

There will be a Dewey time in Manila when the 488,000 bottles of beer for the soldiers arrives.

Raleigh has an aged colored citizen who says that he has been to heaven and come back again.

The Archbishop of Santiago has experienced the hardships of war. His salary has been reduced from $18,000 to $6,000 a year.

Are unmarried women called spinners because they are always spinning a web to catch some naughty man?

The change which has come over the dreams of the Czar are not a nightmare—on the contrary he desires peaceful slumber for all.

Since the Goat has become the emblematic symbol of aldermanic honor Moore Square will be converted into a goat farm.

There is some consolation for disfigurement and inconvenience when a dollar is made. The chairman of the Street Committee says the Hargett Tramway saves Raleigh $11.00 a day.

The total list of killed on the American side in the late war was 278, in army and navy, and the total number wounded 1,423. This is more than 500 less than have died from sickness and neglect in our various military camps.

REWARDING COWARDICE. On the last few weeks says the Syracuse Post, this government has several times rewarded heroism. It is left for the French government to reward cowardice. That government has lately awarded badges of honor to the survivors of the crew of the wrecked La Bourgogne. In the face of the fact that one woman out of a large list of women passengers was saved—an indictment in itself of cowardice and inhuman selfishness—members of the crew who succeeded in saving their own lives have been decorated by their government with badges of honor.

PUTTING TEETH IN HIS OWN MOUTH. Cleveland Leader. Enpeck: If I could be born again and could have my own choice about it, I think I'd be a woman.

Mrs. Enpeck: Why? Enpeck: Well, then I couldn't possibly repeat the mistake I made when you and I— But his last words were lost as he jumped through the window.

THE HISTORIC REMARK. Detroit Journal. "Let us on," cried the army impatiently. But the word came not.

The army chafed. But the commander was determined not to attack until he was fully prepared, and he had not yet thought up any epigram to utter in the seemingly certain event of victory.

THE INSTALLMENT PLAN. Chicago Record. "The Binkins must buy everything on the installment plan."

"What makes you think so?" "I heard Jimmy Binkins ask his father whether their new baby would be taken a way if they couldn't keep up the payments."

PLENTY OF MANNERS. Indianapolis Journal. "I guess," said Rubberneck Bill, in his most rasping tones, when the waiter handed him a napkin, "I guess I got manners enough not to wine my hands on your dun tablecloth, without your handing me that thing."

A SECOND-HAND BABY. Brooklyn Life. Lady Visitor—What a pretty baby. How old is he? Mamie (aged five)—I ain't quite sure, mum; we've had him about a year.

A STRONG NATION. Consists of strong men and healthy women, and health and strength depend upon pure, rich blood which is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla. A nation which takes millions of bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla every year is laying the foundation for health, the wisdom of which will surely show itself in years to come.

DAVE RETURNS.

Mr. Burwanger Tells of a Visit to a Former Raleighite's Home.

Mr. Dave Burwanger has returned from a delightful trip in the north and west. This morning he said to a reporter:

"I had a delightful trip. I went to Chicago and then visited my brother in Logansport, Indiana. By special invitation my brother and I then went over to Marion, Indiana, and paid a visit to Dr. W. H. Bobbitt, formerly of Raleigh. Dr. Bobbitt has the most elegant and complete office for a physician I ever saw. His practice is very large and this office consultation keeps him busy. His practice is among the most prominent people and his success in his new home is phenomenal."

Mr. Burwanger says that Marion is a beautiful little city. The home for Federal soldiers is magnificent.

Mr. Burwanger also visited Washington. He became extravagant in his praise in describing the beauty of the play "Under One Flag," as seen in the Electric Park at Philadelphia.

'POSSUM AND SWEET POTATO. Col. John E. Duke is a great big jolly fellow, and so accomplished a caterer that he can make the most renowned French chef blush with envy in preparing those delicate morsels which tempt the connoisseur's palate. In his new quarters at the Capital Club (Cafe Colonel Duke) will add new lustre to his fame and serve to his patrons all the delicacies of the season, intermingled with the substantial of life. Saturday evening will mark the opening of his cozy, popular restaurant. Colonel John assures the writer that in enlarging his facilities for improvising new and attractive dishes he will not forget his cunning in the preparation of that luscious winter Marsupial dish composed of Didelphys Virginiana and Convolvulus Batatas, which has made a Tar Heel midnight lunch so popular all over the world.

The reserve seat sale for Chas. E. Blaney's big spectacular extravaganza, "A Boy Wanted," which will appear at the Academy of Music Tuesday night, September 6th, will open tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Admission to the gallery 25 cents; general admission, 50 cents; reserved seats 75 cents and $1.00.

VINDICATING HOBSON. There seems to be a stalwart kick concerning Hobson's kiss. And folks contend that he should not have acted thus amiss; But if a very pretty girl, With dreamy eyes of blue, Should pucker up her lips—er—er I'd kiss her—wouldn't you? If Hobson had a fault Instead of one kiss—listen— He should have taken twelve or more— In fact, have kept on kissing. Now my name isn't known to men, But this one thing I'd do: If I asked to kiss a pretty girl, I'd kiss her—wouldn't you? —Havez.

BACILLUS. They're coming home. In joy complete We'll hail both kin and stranger, Who showed that they were built to meet And come with any danger. They're coming home. Loud cheers will burst. And some of welcome thrill us. They triumphed over the Spaniard first And next the fierce bacillus. —Washington Star.

NO MARBLE FOR HIM. Maid of Athens, ere we part, Give, oh, give me back my heart; Right here now I say to you, This old marble thing won't do. —Detroit Tribune.

A PROFESSIONAL BIAS. Cleveland Plain Dealer. "That man Cutter has no business doing hospital work in a fever district."

"Why not?" "He's sure to diagnose everything as appendicitis."

NEW COTTON SEASON OPENS. Less than 200 Bales Increase Over '96-'97—Difference of 2 1/2 Cents in Price. The new cotton season opened yesterday. It is no pleasure to state that the season does not open with the same bright prospect as it did one year ago.

Yesterday the fleecy staple sold on the Raleigh market at 5 cents per pound, whereas at the opening of the season one year ago it brought 7 1/2 cents. There is every indication that there will be a large yield of cotton this year, but the farmer gets little encouragement from this fact when the staple is bringing only 5 cents.

Mr. Pat Wyatt, the secretary of the Cotton Exchange, has prepared the total number of receipts during the past season as compared with the year. The increase in receipts last year over the previous year was less than 200 bales.

The receipts for the season of 1897 and 1898, ending October 31st, were 27,625. The receipts for the year 1898-1899, the year previous, were 27,426.

The receipts on the local market yesterday, the first day of the new season, were 20 bales.

THE AUTUMNAL FASHIONS. Modes Which Will Be Affected by Stylish Dressers. Fashion's autocrats assert positively that very short jackets will be in high favor.

Fancy feathers will be a leading feature of fall hats and the Alpine shape much in vogue.

Black cravats promise to be all the rage for fall; white ones have been worn so long as to be tiresome.

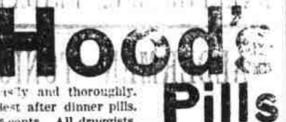

Unequal ribbon poplins bid fair to be one of the foremost weaves in dress goods the coming season.

SOMETHING IN A NAME. Minneapolis Tribune. Gum Coles, a candidate for the legislature in Tennessee, will probably not be obliged to come in out of the rain.

Testimonials as to the efficacy of SIMPSON'S ECZEMA OINTMENT

IN THE TREATMENT OF NASAL CATARRH.

EL DORADO, N. C., June 1, 1898. MR. W. M. SIMPSON, DEAR SIR:—You know I thought my wife incurable, having suffered long of Catarrh, roaring of the head, and bronchial trouble. I tried several physicians with little or no benefit, but since using your Catarrh Remedy she is almost entirely well. I can safely say that it is the best remedy for Catarrh and other diseases of like nature known to me, and I wish every sufferer of such troubles knew of its efficacy. I shall not fail to keep it in my house. Respectfully, A. M. PAGE
