STRIKING PLASTERS RIOT AT ST. LOUIS

Vesuvius in Eruption.—Relations of Cuban Peace Commission not Strained—More Secret Documents in Dreyfus Case—Gen. Miles Sick.

By Cable to The Times-Visitor.

London, Sept. 15.—Advices this morning show that the first reports regarding the fearful destruction of life and property by the terrible hurricane, which swept over the Barbadoes, St. Vincent, St. Lucia and other islands to the inward of this group were not exaggerated. Indeed appalling as the details are they fail utterly to present an adequate idea of the terrible havoc wrought by the storm. All the estimates made thus far as to the loss of life are believed to be far short of the actual number killed, while the number of persons who were rendered homeless is far greater than was at first stated. The aggregate damage to property on the islands cannot be estimated even approximately since the winds, rainfall, tidal waves and landslides have completely devastated the country. It is now believed that the number of the dead at Kingston, the capital of the island, which was totally destroyed, will exceed three hundred and the number rendered homeless is twenty thousand. The British man of war Alert went to sea to escape the coming storm. A very heavy loss is reported in shipping circles. Guadeloup suffered heavily.

BEN ROBINSON'S CASE

Mayor Russ Put Him Under a $50 Bond Until Monday

Alderman Ben Robinson of the Fourth Ward, has returned from New York, where he went, it is said, for the purpose of securing $500 in cash which his sister, who recently died there, left him.

The case against the Alderman for holding his wife while "Red" Eliza gave her a thrashing was set for last Monday, but the Alderman's absence prevented a hearing.

Today an officer called on the Alderman at his place of business in the "Bloody Fourth" near the depot, and summoned him to appear without delay. The Alderman filled his pockets with cash and wended his way to the office of his Honor. He was not ready for trial, so Mayor Russ placed him under a $50 bond for his appearance before him next Monday morning. The Alderman readily gave the requisite bond.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

Sheriff Kinney, of Davidson, brought Kindred Gossett last night to the State prison to serve a five years sentence. Gossett hired a horse and buggy from Craver Bros., livermen, at Lexington, about six years ago. He never came back, but sold the team. Gossett evaded the vigilance of the officers for several years, but was captured a short time ago, carried to Lexington and placed in jail. At the last term of court he was given a hearing, pleaded guilty and sentenced to a term of five years in the penitentiary. He seems to be very penitent and on last week wrote Judge Allen a note acknowledging his crime and pleading for mercy.

WHITE HOUSE BURNED.

By Telegraph to The Times-Visitor. TOLEDO, Sept. 15.—A special from White House, Ohio, states that the whole business part of that city was burned this morning.

ACCIDENT TO THIRD REGIMENT

Second Section of the Train Wrecked

A Telegram From Asheville States that No One Was Seriously Hurt

The three special trains bearing the Third Regiment from Fort Macon to Knoxville, Tenn., passed through Raleigh late yesterday afternoon.

Col. James Young occupied a Pullman palace car on the rear of the third section. This section left Raleigh about six yesterday afternoon.

This morning Young sent the following telegram:

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 15, (11:17 a. m.) '98.

A. J. Rogers, Raleigh, N. C.: Second section had a wreck but no one was injured seriously.

JAMES H. YOUNG.

The telegram was not received by Rogers until about three o'clock today, so no particulars of the wreck could be learned.

However, neither of the two companies in the Third Regiment from Raleigh were on the second section since the cars bearing them were attached to the first section. Col. Young's palace car was on the third section so he was not in the wreck. The wreck must have happened near Asheville, but nothing further than Young's telegram could be learned.

It will be remembered that an accident happened to the train carrying the First Regiment to Jacksonville in which several were hurt.

CAMP MOVED.

The First North Carolina Regiment Moves Its Quarters.

A special from Jacksonville to the Charlotte News says: The camp of the First North Carolina Regiment has been moved from Srinfield to the southern part of Panama Park. The present location is claimed to be fifty feet higher than the old camp ground, but it is very inconvenient for those desiring to go to the city. It is one and one-half miles to the street car line. One mile to Panama Park Railway station, so those desiring to visit the city must either take not less than a three mile walk to and from the car line or else pay one dollar for a carriage. There will not be such a rush for "passes" in the future from the enlisted men and toward the end of the month it is quite likely visitors at the camp will be more certain of finding the officers at home.

On the west of the North Carolina line is the camp of the Second Illinois; on the north Torry's Rough Riders; on the northeast the Third Nebraska, First South Carolina and Fourth Illinois.

The camp is supplied with water from an artesian well in Panama Park. The water is considered very healthy. It being very strong with sulphur. One of the boys after tasting the water carried a cup full to a quartermaster sergeant in the regiment, said to him, "Sergeant, some low down scoundrel has trown rotten eggs in the water."

Pay-day, which usually comes about the 15th of every month, has for some reason left the men of the regiment guessing. Now, since it is a settled fact that the Regiment will be retained the only question to be heard, "When will we be paid off?"

Wednesday the 15th will be a day of pleasure as sight-seeing for the citizens and visitors of the city, and one of joy to the soldiers. The Seventh Army Corps will be reviewed by President McKinley, Secretary Alger and General Lee. It is a very pretty sight to stand upon the sidewalks, sit on chairs, etc., watch the boys as they tramp through the city.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Temperature at Bismarck Today is Thirty-six Degrees.

For Raleigh and vicinity continued cloudy weather tonight and Friday, with possibly showers.

The pressure continues high over New England. There is evidence of the approach of a storm on the Florida coast. The weather continues cloudy and threatening over the Atlantic States from Florida to Maine.

Depressions also exist over the Lake region and over Kansas. Light showers have occurred over the Lakes. In the northwest the winds have shifted to northerly, with colder weather, the temperature at Bismarck this morning being 38 degrees.

CAMP BLACK NO MORE.

By Telegraph to The Times-Visitor. Camp Black, Sept. 15.—This is the last day of Camp Black as a military post for the three battalions now here are under orders to leave this afternoon. Two battalions will go to their armories in New York city and the third will leave for Rochester.

THE GRAND PARADE

Second Regiment March Through the City Tomorrow

PROVOST GUARD AGAIN

Mayor Russ Visited Colonel Burgwyn this Morning and Asked that a Good Provost Guard be Placed in the City.

The grand parade of the Second Regiment through the city tomorrow will draw a large crowd to Raleigh. The citizens of Raleigh will embrace this opportunity of seeing the entire Second Regiment on dress parade.

Col. Burgwyn very kindly consented to this at the request of Mayor Russ and other citizens.

Col. Burgwyn stated today that the regiment would leave camp between four and five o'clock tomorrow afternoon. They will then march down Hillsboro street, down McDowell to Martin, then to Fayetteville to Morgan then out Blount to the Governor's Mansion, where the regiment will be reviewed by Governor Russell, Mayor Russ and several other prominent citizens. This will be the grandest regimental parade seen in Raleigh.

Furloughs may be granted to some of the soldiers Saturday, but Colonel Burgwyn thinks that they will probably be here eight or ten days.

PROVOST GUARD.

The provost guard will be re-established in Raleigh and stringently maintained in future.

Col. Burgwyn will have discipline enforced at the camp and preserve order among the troops in Raleigh.

This morning Mayor Russ paid a visit to Camp Shipp-Bagley, where the Second Regiment of North Carolina volunteers are quartered, and had a conference with Col. Burgwyn. The Mayor informed Col. Burgwyn that it was impossible for the police force to preserve order among the troops in Raleigh, and requested him to establish a provost guard. This Col. Burgwyn said he would do and he stated further that he would have a conference with the other regimental officers in regard to enforcing discipline among the soldiers while they are in the city.

No one blames the soldiers of the Second Regiment for being lax while in town, for you cannot find 1,500 men anywhere who will be on their best behavior when gathered together in a city away from home. The boys should be given all the liberty possible but the Mayor thought it was for their good as well as that of the city to have a good provost guard. The men in the Second Regiment have been penned up and they cannot be blamed for trying to enjoy themselves while they have a little freedom. The boys have hosts of friends in Raleigh who want to see them and have them with them, and it is earnestly hoped that the order allowing only a few men from each company to visit Raleigh at a time will not be re-established. A good provost guard will be all that is necessary, in the opinion of the citizens of Raleigh, who are anxious to show all the consideration and honor to the soldiers that they can.

Some of the boys were having a lively time in town last night, and this was what led to the Mayor's visit to Col. Burgwyn. The affairs last night would have been prevented if the provost guard had been efficient. Nothing serious, however, occurred last night. One soldier fell down in the cellar where the Tucker building is being constructed, and was carried to the hospital. He is doing well and will be out soon. Another had his scalp cut by a blow with a beer bottle and Dr. Brevard stitched up the wound today. A third had his shoulder hurt from a brick thrown at him.

Col. Burgwyn says that a good provost will go on duty between six and seven this afternoon. Last night the provost guards were in the trouble.

The Times-Union and Citizen gives an account of the way in which a soldier is treated when found under the influence of intoxicants. He is usually found on the streets or in the bars, the first thing the provost guard does is to "phone for the patrol wagon, which is used to be used as a fire patrol and on the sides of the body of the wagon are the letters: "J. F. D." (Jacksonville Fire Department) but now it is turned, "Just For Drunks." Upon the arrival of the wagon the victim is hustled into it and carried to Provost headquarters. There he is stripped of all clothing and the "cold water cure" applied. This is an invariable cure. The man at the end of the stream of water soon becomes conscious of the surroundings and pleads for mercy, but the water is thrown on him until he promises most sincerely not to drink any more and if this promise is broken it is usually done out of reach of the Provost Guard.

Remember the musicale at the Hotel Carrollton Friday night.

That will be the most enjoyable event of the season at Hotel Carrollton on Friday night.
