Talk 'bout crickets singin' on hearths,

Why, Georgy's ahead from the spring—

She's jest the best old country, an' she's what I do prefer!
An' ef she's goin' to glorr, I'm goin'
along with her!

ROWDY CONDUCT.

Third Regiment Terrifies People of Knoxville.

STONES, BULLETS, YELLS

Soldiers Court-Martialed for Rocking and Cursing a Pedestrian—People of Community Afraid for Their Lives.

The Third Regiment seems to be having a high old time while their colonel is absent.

Col James Young has not yet completed the little business matters that called him to Raleigh and his men are having a gay time. While Col. Young is here discussing politics the privates in his regiment, according to a Republican paper from Knoxville, are making life a terror to the people living in the vicinity of the camp.

The Tribune and Journal of Knoxville in yesterday's issue says, in its report of the camp, regarding the Third North Carolina Regiment:

"Frequent complaints are being made against certain men in this regiment by citizens living in the vicinity and by visitors to the camp of the Second Ohio. Saturday a citizen was walking along the road between the mill and the ford when a shower of stones fell about him. These were thrown by some North Carolina soldiers who were at the spring on the other side of the railroad. When the citizen told them to watch where they were throwing the stones they replied by cursing him and telling him if he didn't like it he could go back to town. The soldiers continued throwing until the citizen was out of throwing distance. He reported the facts to Colonel Kuert, commanding the Third brigade, who immediately dispatched a mounted officer to the spring to investigate the matter. The ring-leader of the stone-throwers was apprehended and arrested. He is now a prisoner in the guard house awaiting a trial by court-martial."

"Residents of the community complain that at night the soldiers become very boisterous along the railroad from the mill to the street car terminus. They make night hideous with their yelling and during the past three nights a great deal of shooting has been done. 'Friday night the proprietor of one of the stands was leaning over at the spring, getting a drink, when a bullet flattened itself on the rock not a foot from his head. This man states that at least one hundred shots have been fired each night for the last three nights by the colored soldiers."

"The reporter talked to a number of people in this vicinity yesterday and they all, without exception said that they are afraid of their lives, as there is no telling when they will be struck by a bullet while pistols are being fired so promiscuously."

"All those to whom a reporter talked stated that the Sixth Virginia soldiers do not mix up in these occurrences, but remain in their camp."

The Sixth Virginia is also a negro regiment, but the officers are white men.

COMMITTEE MEETS.

Populist Conference Committee Holds a Session Today.

This evening the State Populist conference committee will hold a session here in regard to the campaign. Congressman Skinner is expected. The work of the committee will be to arrange the difficulties now standing in the way of complete fusion. Some difficulty has arisen in the First Judicial district. There the Populists nominated W. J. Leary, Sr., for judge and left the solicitorship for the Republicans, but the Republican convention met and nominated Augustus Moore for judge and Isaac Meekins for solicitor. The Populists say that they will not support Meekins and it is probable that the matter will be arranged by making the ticket Moore for judge and Leary for solicitor.

Several other matters will come before the committee.

A THANKFUL SOUL.

Thankful for the weather, Lord!
If it's storm, in sweet accord
We go singing down the way
That was violet yesterday!
So we feel the fall of light—
Rest beneath thy stars at night—
Know thy loving kindness still,
Let thy weathers work their will!

Thankful for the weather, Lord!
Still the ample autumns hoard
Golden treasures, that thy poor
Hunger in thy sight no more!
Still our steps by these are led;
Still thy tables wide are spread;
There thy blessings falleth still;
Let thy weathers work their will!

Here, for all the storm and strife,
There are little links of life
Where the poor man's shelter charms—
Necklaced by his children's arms!
Star or storm, the way is sweet
So the heart for love shall beat.
So thy blessing falleth still,
Let thy weathers work their will!

Geo. Franklin for embezzlement, Henry Broome for larceny, Sam Russell for larceny were committed to jail by Mayor Russ for their appearance at this term of court.

HOPE NOT ABANDONED

Reported that Officers of Second Regiment Still Working for Reformation.

"We have it on the very best authority that Col. Burgwyn, Lieutenant Colonel Cowley and one or two prominent Republicans, will go to Washington Wednesday to persuade the Secretary of War to retain the Second Regiment in service."

The above is an announcement made in the Fayetteville Observer of yesterday afternoon. The Fayetteville company is in the Second Regiment and the town is represented among the regimental officers, and this gives the statement of the Observer that it has it on the "very best authority" additional weight.

However, the report cannot be verified here and so far as Lieut. Cowley is concerned the Observer's informant is mistaken. The popular Lieutenant Colonel was seen in the Yarbrough lobby this morning and he made the plain statement:

"No, I am not going to Washington." Lieutenant Cowley said further that as is not trying to have the men retained in the service.

Lieutenant Cowley will doubtless be given a place in the First Regiment when the Second is mustered out of service.

THE RALEIGH CANNON.

Time for a Step to be Taken as Has Been Done in Baltimore.

The fact that the cannon from the cruiser Raleigh has not yet reached this city should not cause any surprise, but there is a step, which, it is said, should be taken as was done by the committee on the part of the city of Baltimore which was also promised a present from the battle of Manila Bay.

In the case of Baltimore a committee was appointed to take the matter in hand and this was suggested as advisable in the case of the city of Raleigh at the time that action was taken by the Baltimore citizens. This committee wrote at once to the commander of the Baltimore acknowledging the receipt of the news through the press and asking for further details, stating that a suitable amount would be prepared for the present and that the people of the city were appreciative of the thoughtfulness of the commander and his officers. Further steps were taken in Baltimore to give the captain a sword or some other suitable present and now they have the facts before them and know what the plans of the future in this connection should be.

It has been suggested as a wise plan to have this matter taken in hand at once and that a letter be sent to the captain of the Raleigh expressing the proper appreciation of the graceful act on his part.

BRIEF FREEDOM

Charles Jones Returns to the State Pen.

ELEVEN NEW PRISONERS

Charlie Escaped in August and the Deputy Didn't Know He Was an Ex-Convict Until He Arrived at the Prison.

REFORMATION FAILED ..6..66..6..6
"Why, I know that fellow—that's Charlie Jones," said Warden Tom Russell, when Deputy Sheriff Williams, of Cumberland county arrived at the State prison late yesterday afternoon with a squad of five convicts, who were sentenced at the term of the criminal court which has just closed in Fayetteville. As Warden Russell made the above remark he pointed to a young negro in the group. Deputy Williams was then surprised to learn that one of the five convicts he had brought was not unfamiliar with cells in the State prison. Warden Russell then proceeded to welcome the returned prodigal.

Charlie Jones escaped from the State prison August 5th last. He was sent out in a squad of trustees to work in the garden. He ploughed patiently until he came to the end of the row then he left his mule standing in the furrow, and never came back. Nothing was heard from him until last evening when he returned to again don convict's garb. Charlie was sent to the State prison before for eighteen months for larceny and had served one year when he escaped. This time he comes back for larceny, but was only sentenced for ten months.

The following were the prisoners received last evening from Fayetteville: Gabe Elliott, 12 months; Jno. Harris, 10 months; Wm. McLeod, 12 months; Chas. Jones, 10 months; Emma McKay, 6 months. All were convicted of larceny.

Pasquotank county contributed six convicts to the prison this morning. They were all short term men, the longest term being only two years.

A squad of convicts will be sent to the rice farm near Wilmington tomorrow. The rice crop is in beautiful condition and the management is delighted with the outlook. This is the first time rice has been raised on any of the State farms and hence special pride is felt in this crop.

RALEIGH MAN IN TROUBLE.

Reported Here That Buck Huggins is in Trouble.

Buck Huggins, of Raleigh, is a member of Company K, First Regiment, at Jacksonville. Before he enlisted he was in the employment of a brewery company here. Now the report has reached Raleigh that he is under arrest at Jacksonville and will be court-martialed for defrauding the commissary department of various articles. It is hoped for the sake of Raleigh that he will be found innocent of this serious charge. Some very ugly reports are afloat here in regard to the way the commissary department has been imposed upon.

A MAGNIFICENT PUBLICATION UPON THE SOUTH.

The wonderful progress which the South has been making in all lines of industrial, commercial and intellectual development has been most fittingly set forth in a magnificent volume, which, after months of careful preparation, has just been issued by the Southern Railway.

This book, the title of which, "The Empire of the South," conveys an idea of its character, is beyond question one of the most comprehensive and at the same time artistic publications ever issued from the press. It contains nearly two hundred octavo pages, over four hundred exquisitely printed illustrations, and makes a presentation of Southern interests in all lines of human activity, which for thoroughness of treatment has never been approached.

The opening chapter of the book under the caption of "The South, Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," discusses in a broad and forcible manner the present and future of the Southern States, treating at considerable length the various interests, such as agriculture, cotton, tobacco, iron, coal, resorts, climate, etc. Following this are chapters devoted to each of the States south of the Ohio and Potomac, and each of the Mississippi rivers.

These give a brief, interesting sketch of the early history of each State, and then touch upon all its important activities, showing the progress being made not only by the State itself, but by the leading cities.

The author of the work, Mr. Frank Presbrey, is a close student of Southern progress, and in the collection and preparation of the immense amount of important information given in the book, has had the co-operation of the officials of the Southern Railway. The distribution of this magnificent volume will do an incalculable amount of practical good in calling the attention of the world to the South, and the Southern Railway has demonstrated its faith in the future of that section by the expenditure of the many thousands of dollars which this great work must have cost. Those who are fortunate enough to receive a copy of this edition of luxe, which is sent with the compliments of the company, will prize it as a most valuable addition to their library.

Mrs. Meredith announced as her subject, "The Home of the Good." She spoke with great earnestness and power, and several manifested interest by rising for prayer. The prospects are fine for a glorious meeting.

Services were held for special Bible study this morning beginning at 9:30. The public are earnestly invited to attend these meetings. Services in the morning begin at 9:30, and in the evening at 7:30. Come out and lend your prayers and influence to the work of the Lord.

MECKLENBURG CASE.

Justice Purches Hearing Argument in The Important Matter.

This afternoon at three o'clock Justice Purches of the Supreme Court began hearing argument on the request of Chairman Holton to compel the election board of Mecklenburg county to appoint as registrars the men who were recommended by the Populist and Republican chairmen. This is an important case. The present election law requires that the chairman of the board of county commissioners, the Clerk of the Court and the Register of Deeds, who constitute the board of elections in each county, shall appoint as registrars and poll-holders the men recommended by the chairman of the various political parties. The board in Mecklenburg, it is said, refused to comply with the law. Messrs. J. W. Cobb, Z. T. Smith, P. D. Walker and F. M. Shannanhouse of Mecklenburg, are here attending the hearing.

"1492."

The Play Which Will be in Raleigh Friday Night.

We are to see that clever soprano, "Stuart, the male Patti," and a host of favorites in the new "1492," an Academy of Music next Friday night, September 30th, 1898. The company's second season in Boston and the Boston Globe of September 13th says: "It is always pleasant to see old friends again, no matter how changed they may be, and so the new old '1492' as given at the Grand Opera House last evening, Stuart as 'The Daisy Queen,' will undoubtedly be greeted by many of the admirers of the old piece during the coming week. There is much to praise and little to criticize in this new version of '1492' and although the piece as it now is given bears but little resemblance to the one played long ago by the cadets, it is in general a pleasing performance."

A number of the characters and scenes have been entirely changed, and while the piece still has a connected story a large portion of the book has been cut to give room for specialties. In many cases this is a great improvement. A notably good feature was the singing, which without exception was of a high standard.

In this production, who is billed as "the male Patti," is featured as Isabella, and he made a complete success of the part. He has an excellent high soprano voice and as a female impersonator is very clever. He was applauded after every scene, and in the second act was presented with a large horseshoe of flowers. Next to the star came Neil McNeil, as Ferdinand, and afterwards the tramp. He was the particularly bright fun maker whenever he was on the stage. Mr. Terry, who impersonates the royal treasurer, made one of the hits of the show by his dancing.

In the second act dancing was executed by Johnny Dougherty, while Miss Madge Davenport sang a coon song quite cleverly. In this same act the Trocadero quartet, Messrs. Prieau, Lomier, Bimes and Sampler sang a number of ballads and coon songs very sweetly. Stuart gave the act which made him famous on the vaudeville stage, and the scene terminated with a patriotic finale, which was quite novel and pretty. The last act was almost all new and served to gather the strands of the play together and make a happy ending. Of the minor parts the work of Miss Thomson, as Bridget de Murphy, deserves especial praise, and Miss Kent sang sweetly, as the lovelorn Joanna. In the chorus were a number of pretty girls in tasty costumes, and the scenery was all new and beautiful.

Prices: Gallery, 50c.; general admission, 75c.; reserved seats $1.00 and $1.50.

Miss Dixie Stein has returned to the city after visiting several of the leading dress-making establishments in New York city, and has secured a large line of the latest patterns and fashion books for her customers here.
