The Popular Odd Fellow tells the following good story on a New Hampshire brother:

A prominent Odd Fellow of New Hampshire some years ago made an engagement to deliver an anniversary address in one of the northern towns of the State, but when the time came he was unable to reach the place, as heavy rains had destroyed a section of the railroad. Accordingly he wired "Cannot come, weather on the line!" The reply came "Never mind, Ray, throw a slip and come along."

MANILA, Feb. 11. The American forces have been victorious in the battle of Caloocan, and the Philippine rebels have been driven out of the town. The American forces, consisting of the 1st and 2nd Brigades of the Philippine Scouts, and a detachment of the United States Marines, fought a hard battle with the rebels, who were supported by a large number of Filipino irregulars. The Americans were aided by a detachment of the United States Navy, which shelled the town from the sea. The rebels were killed in great numbers, and the town was captured without further resistance.

CHURCH OF GOOD SHEPHERD.

WALTER L. WOMBLE.

GIVE US LIGHT.

This thing of the city being in total darkness night after night, is getting to be rather disgusting. WHY IS IT WE HAVE NO LIGHT. Who is to blame? No one but our official (?) Board of Aldermen, or our so-called city authorities. Taxes are paid for lights, and we demand either lights or a deduction from taxes. Light is what we want, and we will have them or know the reason why. The present management of the city is not only a disgrace to the capital of the State, but a reflection on those that have it in charge. We pay taxes for lights; we want them and we are going to have them. An explanation is desired.

Very truly,
WALTER L. WOMBLE.

(We must state in justice to the aldermen that deductions have been made when no lights burned. Nearly $200 was deducted last month. Work is nearly completed at the Raleigh Electric Company's power house now and we are promised the longed-for efficient service soon. The public have suffered a great deal but the aldermen, under the contract, could only deduct. They have done all they could on this score. It seems to us.—Editor.)
