FAREWELL SAID

The General Assembly Has Adjourned

SONGS, LAUGHTER AND TEARS

Lieut. Gov. Reynolds Hopes to See All the Senators Back—Speaker Connor Makes an Appreciative Speech.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock, and Rev. Dr. M. M. Marshall, of Raleigh, made the final prayer of the session. A bill passed to appoint A. C. Privett, of Franklin county, a justice of the peace.

The bill to require self-couplers and automatic brakes on railroad cars was tabled. A joint resolution to appoint four commissioners to represent the State on the Paris Exposition was adopted, as was a resolution endorsing the work of the Pickford Sanitarium at Southern Pines, and a bill was passed allowing the sheriff of Allegheny county to collect bank taxes.

The joint resolution to pay all the clerks and employees five dollars for extra work passed final reading. Short speeches of farewell were made by Senators Travis, Justice and Daniels. Senator Fields said that the signs of the times are propitious; he had actually seen the President of the Senate accept silver last night. Senator Glenn laughingly called to mind Mr. Reynolds' expressed wish that he should meet the same men here two years from now, and Mr. Reynolds said yes, that he was sincere in what he said—that he believed the Democrats would be victorious in the next election, and he couldn't imagine any better set of representatives than the body before him.

A joint resolution to provide $100 to defray the funeral expenses of a member of the General Assembly was unanimously passed.

It is announced this morning that Representative L. M. Trotter, of Gates county, who has been sick in the hospital here, cannot possibly recover.

The Senate then relaxed and musical exercises were indulged in. Lieutenant Governor Reynolds played a good chorus leader and was ably assisted by Senators Glenn, Wilson, Whitaker, Cocke, Williams, Smith and by Judge Allen and Mr. Stubbs, who had come over to the House. All the Senators and persons in the lobby gathered around the Speaker's chair and the galleries rapidly filled. Once the chair was interrupted to ratify some bills, but the singing was resumed and continued on over an hour.

HOUSE.

The House met at 9 o'clock, with a fairly good attendance. The hands of the clock were turned back half an hour. A few bills passed, among them the following: To allow Thomas Miller, late sheriff of Ashe, to collect back taxes. To amend the charter of Lillington. To give two more rooms to Corporation Commission. To endorse Pigford Sanitarium for negro consumptives. To appoint four additional commissioners to represent North Carolina at the Paris Exposition next year (at their own expense). To alter time of holding court in the Ninth district. To allow $300 additional for clerk hire. Bill to appropriate $840 for ventilating the halls of the Senate and House was tabled.

McNeill, of Brunswick, attempted to rise to a question of personal privilege, and reply to what he termed an attack on him as "Benedict Arnold" because of his voting against the franchise amendment and election law, but he was ruled out of order.

Patterson, of Robeson, was called to the chair, and Overman, in his happiest style, presented to Speaker Connor, on behalf of the members of the House, a solid silver tea service. "Take it home with you," he said, "as a testimonial to your faithful service. You have won the lasting regard and esteem of all the members of this House. You have added another star to your crown." There was great applause from the floor and galleries. Speaker Connor in accepting the gift said this was the proudest moment of his life. He expressed his pride and pleasure at having won the regard of every member of the House. He said the House had discharged its onerous duties and done its monumental work nobly, zealously and well. He was heartily applauded at the conclusion of his remarks, which were made in a most feeling style.

Bills passed: To amend the charter of the Bank of Milton. To amend the law as to stock law fence in No. 8 township, Craven county.

A resolution was adopted giving the clerks and employees $5 extra for night work. Another resolution thanked the newspaper correspondents for their accurate and impartial reports.

A very handsome bouquet was sent Speaker Connor by the lady teachers at Peace Institute.

Abbott issued a resolution appropriating $100 for the expenses of the funeral of any member of the Legislature who dies from sickness now suffered, and that this amount be payable to Rex Hospital, Raleigh. This was intended to cover the case of Representative Trotter, who is dying at that hospital, of pneumonia.

The Speaker appointed the following twelve commissioners to represent North Carolina at the Paris Exposition: John S. Cunningham, John C. Drewry, Joseph A. Holmes, T. K. Bruner, Charles E. Johnson, J. L. Currie, W. B. Council, Clayton Giles, Julian S. Carr, Nathan O'Berry, J. D. Murphy and James A. Bryck, alternates, H. C. Wall, John Wood, Fred A. Olds, Fred Phillips, W. R. Odell, R. H. Hanna, D. Y. Cooper, Ashley Horne, Charles W. Worth, J. S.

Westbrook, M. C. Toms and Hugh Chaburn.

At 11:10 actual time and 11:45 by the much-harassed clock, the pendulum of the latter was stopped.

Reading Clerk Wilson, in behalf of the House employees, presented a cane to Representative Boushall. His speech was a neat one, and Boushall speech of acceptance was in happy style.

At 1:45 the Senate and a great number of ladies came over in a body, headed by Lieutenant-Governor Reynolds, and filled all the seats. The Speaker, in a speech which brimmed over with wit, welcomed them and extended the freedom of the House. Speeches were made by Senator Glenn and others.

At 2 o'clock the Speaker made the farewell address, referring to the great things expected of this Legislature and what had been accomplished.

THE FLOOD.

The Mississippi River Will Beat This Season's Record.

By Telegraph to The Times-Visitor. Cairo, March 8.—The indications are for greater floods on the Mississippi than at any time this season. The Weather Bureau reports sufficient water in sight to give the stage of the present rise here forty-four or forty-five feet. The Ohio is out of its banks at Cincinnati. The Paducah and Strully are rising as also is the Wabash and Cumberland. The Tennessee River here will be stationary until the big rise at Cincinnati reaches here.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 8.—The Ohio has about reached its maximum—nearly a foot less than was expected. The rise is now 57.2 and it will scarcely go higher.

WRECKED OFF HATERAS.

By Telegraph to The Times-Visitor. Norfolk, Va., March 8.—The vessel ashore off Hatteras is the schooner Alfred Brabrock, bound from Boothbay harbor, Maine, for Charleston. The captain and crew of eight were saved by Breaches buoy.

NO QUORUM

Important Business of R. & G. and R. & A. Railroads Deferred

The stockholders of the Raleigh and Gaston and Raleigh and Augusta Railroads met here today, but a quorum not being present, they adjourned to meet here again April 6th. At both meetings Hon. Joseph R. Batchelor presided and John M. Sherwood acted as secretary. The committee on proxies at both meetings announced that there was no quorum, hence they adjourned. These meetings were called to accept the new charter, granted by the Legislature, which provided for consolidating in the various roads in the Seaboard Air Line system. Mr. J. Skelton Williams, the new president, Mr. Hoffman and others were expected and their failure to come prevented the meeting from being held.

An injunction has been issued against the Richmond, Petersburg and Carolina Railroad to prevent it from selling certain securities and it is supposed that this matter may have prevented Messrs. Hoffman and Williams from attending.

BIG RAILROAD DEAL.

B. and O. and Seaboard Reported to be Working Together.

It is reported in Washington in railway and banking circles that a new and powerful company is soon to be formed, in which the Williams syndicate of Richmond, Va., will form a leading part. This syndicate, which recently acquired the franchises of the Georgia and Alabama, Seaboard Air Line and Florida Central and Peninsular Railway Companies, respectively, is said to be looking around for new worlds to conquer. Rumors are strife that steps will soon be taken by the syndicate for the construction of a line paralleling the Baltimore and Potomac from Quantico to Washington, with the view of making connections with the B. and O. at a point near the Three Sisters, where, report says, the Potomac is to be crossed by a bridge.

It is believed that the enterprise referred to is the same which, report says, has been under consideration for some time to establish a connecting link between the Seaboard Air Line and the Baltimore and Ohio Roads, by which a through route will be established from the North to the South. It is rumored that the Baltimore and Ohio as well as the Seaboard Air Line is much interested in the enterprise, and that that road is as anxious to get a Southern outlet as is the Seaboard, for a Northern route. Both lines are very friendly, and it is believed each has been looking to the other to help solve the problem of a through trunk line between New York and Florida.—Richmond Times, 7th.

FAIR AND WARMER.

The forecast of the Weather Bureau says: For Raleigh, fair and warmer to-night and Thursday.

The area of high barometer has moved to the southeast portion of the United States. The cold wave has moderated somewhat, though the temperature was below freezing at all points north of Jacksonville. Generally fair weather prevails throughout the country; except that small amounts of snow occurred in the East Lake region and on the north Atlantic coast.

A storm has formed in the extreme northwest, and the arrangement of pressure now favors continued fair weather. The temperature is rising west of the Mississippi river with southerly winds and generally clear weather.

"RIVER OF DEATH TO-NIGHT."

Dr. Tracy and the Cineograph Were Highly Interesting.

Dr. Tracy, the famous Kentucky temperance lecturer, entertained and instructed a large audience in Metropolitan Hall last evening. Dr. Tracy is full of humor and has the happy faculty of presenting things in a bright and original manner, which, at the same time, carries conviction to his hearers. The pictures given from the cineograph are the finest pictures of the kind ever seen in Raleigh, and they add greatly to the effect of Dr. Tracy's eloquence. Under the skillful handling of Miss Tracy, Dr. Tracy's daughter, these animated pictures are shown in the clearest and most vivid manner.

To-night the celebrated lecture, "The Mississippi of Intemperance, or the River of Death," regarded as one of the very best, if not the most powerful of Dr. Tracy's productions, will be given, and the capacity of the hall ought to be taxed to accommodate the crowd which should turn out to hear it.

HIS GAME.

"Corkins likes to make great game of his dogs and his guns and his other hunting paraphernalia, doesn't he?" "Yes, and it's very foolish of him to do so, too. Why, he never killed anything in his life that I know of."

"Oh, then, you didn't hear about that guide he laid low last fall?"—Chicago News.

During the rehearsals of "Brantingham Hall" at the St. James theater some few years ago, Mr. Gilbert's proverbial patience was somewhat tried by a certain lady's apparent inability to speak one particular line as it had been written. Upon making a hurried entrance the actress had to exclaim to those on the stage: "Stay! Let me speak." But she persisted time after time in "go in one better" and saying: "Stay, stay! Let me speak." Having been pulled up over and over again and not improving, Mr. Gilbert at last succeeded in curing the lady of needless repetition by one day remarking: "No, Miss, you are wrong again. It isn't 'stay, stay!' It's 'stay!'—one stay, not a pair of stays!"

Col. John S. Cunningham is a visitor in the city.

JONES AND POWELL

The Mayor at Last Heard the Case

FINED MR. JONES $5.

Mr. Jones Made a Statement Followed by Mr. Powell and Mr. Armistead Jones.

Representative Gaston Powell and Mr. Robert H. Jones were finally arraigned before Mayor Powell to-day on the charge of assault. Mr. Jones submitted and no witnesses for the State were examined.

Mr. Jones was sworn and said that he had started to the Capitol with several gentlemen. They met Mr. Holland and Mr. Powell there and a conversation followed in which the matter of members of the county board of education was discussed, in the course of which Mr. Powell said he would not vote for Mr. Jones because he was a Baptist. Mr. Jones said that made no difference; that he was a good Democrat. The witness said they both got mad then and he said something to Mr. Powell about his not voting for him on the Agricultural Board, but he added: "I think I said it made no difference; they were to vote for me in the Legislature and I was surprised to see the papers state it was because Mr. Powell voted against me, for he voted for me in the Legislature."

He added that so far as the fight went that he was guilty and passed the first blow.

Mr. Powell arose and said: "You are mistaken when you said that I was opposed to Mr. Jones because he was a Baptist. In fact I was for Mr. Jones and had him put on, but afterwards some trouble arose. I favored Mr. Moye, as his name was on a list furnished me."

Mr. Armistead Jones, who appeared for Mr. Robert Jones, then said that he felt that he should make a statement. He said he was sick last week, but was summoned up town Wednesday on business. He went in a carriage and returning stopped at the Capitol. While seated on a sofa in the House Mr. Boushall and Mr. Powell spoke to him about the school board for the county, and said they were to be elected by the Legislature, not by the county commissioners, and asked Mr. Jones to suggest some names. Mr. Jones suggested Rev. J. L. Foster, Mr. Charles Busbee joined them and Mr. Jones came and they both suggested Tom Johns, and urged him to accept.

Senator Whitaker and Capt. Allen came in and said a Methodist should be added, and Mr. Rufus Jones was suggested. Saturday, gentlemen whom Mr. Jones mentioned, came to him and said there was a fight in St. Mary's over a school house and they did not think the township should have a representative on the school board. Mr. Jones agreed to give them a list of suitable men to select from only on the contingency that the Legislature should decide not to put on any one from St. Mary's, for he thought Mr. Johns had been agreed on.

Mr. Wayland Dowd and others came Monday and asked him to go with them to the Capitol to have Mr. Johns kept on the board. Mr. Jones said it was a factional fight and he could not take part in it. He also related a conversation he had with Mr. Johns about the matter, also with Representative Holland. Mr. Holland said he had intended to introduce a resolution on the subject, but it had been left to Speaker Connor.

Mr. Jones added: "I understand some objection to Mr. Jones as a member of the Board of Agriculture because he is not a farmer. There are other gentlemen on the Board no better farmers than Mr. Jones. Some say that I had Mr. Jones put on the Board. I was sick at home and never spoke to a member of the Legislature about it. If I had known he wanted it and had been able to leave home I should have aided him. He was selected by the legislators from this district. Mr. Boushall since told me that Mr. Carey Hunter and others were fighting Mr. Jones. Mr. Daniels told me that Mr. Jones ought not to accept because he was not a farmer. I told him to speak to Mr. Jones about it."

Mr. Armistead Jones said in closing that he was sure Mr. Jones had no ill feeling toward Mr. Powell.

Mayor Powell then said that Mr. Robert Jones was the aggressor and attacked Mr. Powell in his place of duty, so he fined Mr. Jones $5 and cost.

1900 NOT A LEAP YEAR.

The Julian calendar fixes the length of the solar year as 365 1/4 days. In point of fact, it is eleven minutes and a few seconds less than the old time. This annual error, trifling in the individual case, but serious as it accumulated, finally occasioned confusion of the calendar about the beginning of the sixteenth century. Various attempts were made to rectify it, and when the error amounted to about ten days Gregory XIII. in 1582, published a bull, dated March 1, of that year, annulling ten days and ordering that October 5th should be called October 15th. In order also that this error might not recur, it was further provided that three of the leap years which occur in a period of 400 years should be regarded not as leap years. The three which were selected to be considered common years were those which close the centuries and are not divisible by 400. Thus, while the years 1600 was a leap year, 1700 and 1800 were ordinary years. The year 1900 will be a leap year, while the year 2000 will be a leap year. This method of adjusting the days to the year has been given the name of the Georgian calendar, or new style.

Rupture in Diplomatic Relations Between Italy and China

By Cable to The Times-Visitor. Pekin, March 8.—The Italian Minister here regards as an insult the manner in which Tsung-Li-yann has treated Italy, which demand for a coaling station at San Bay. A rupture of diplomatic relations between Italy and China is probable. It is believed that Russia has reiterated her protest against the British railroad loan in order to make the contract a ground of complaint against the Chinese, thus securing compensation either territorial or otherwise.

By Cable to The Times-Visitor. Vancouver, March 8.—Mail news from China state that two hundred persons fell through ice at the meeting of three rivers near the western gate of Tien-Esing, and 106 drowned.

A young policeman had to take a prison before the magistrate, and after the trial convey him to the court prison. He had never been in the building before, and stood in the corridor with one hand not knowing which way to turn. At last the old offender had pity on him and said: "Come along; I'll show you."—Chicago News.

She was an aristocratic but vivacious lady, and she had called on a friend, Mrs. Grindstone. "He's a little fellow, Mrs. Grindstone," said she, referring to Willie Grindstone. "Only five years old, you say?" "Give me a kiss, won't you, Willie?" he did not evince any signs of eagerness to comply with the request, but he said: "That's a good boy," said the lady, "but what are you holding in your hands so tightly?" "It is a quarter of a million," said the truthful Willie. "She said she 'spected you'd want to see me, and I told her I wouldn't do less."

The pair on the stage were sitting one another on a sofa making love. He was to take a long time, but all theater were watching with one eye to see what would come next. Suddenly a voice from the audience broke in a broad country dialect: "Whiles a long time thinking 'bout it!"

Did he threaten to commit suicide when she said it could never be? Well, hardly. He got up, brushed the dust from the knees of his trousers with a silk handkerchief, and said: "I'll take a Made a rich man of you," she chimed in. "How?" "I shall never marry," he replied.

"Yes, he made his first lucky strike in eggs. He bought 10,000 dozen at low figure, put them in cold storage, and sold them at a profit of more than 200 per cent. That was the corner-stone of his enormous fortune."

"And the hens laid it. How strange!"—Chicago Record.

THE CHAMPION DRUMMER.

Will be Here With Godfrey's Grenadier Guards Band—March 17th. In the English Cavalry Regiments the "drum horse" occupies much the same position as does the "mascot" of an American regiment. This is the animal who carries the tympani or cavalry drums. He is usually of a peculiar or distinctive color, piebald, jet black, dun or roan and generally lives to be a good old age. One of the best known drum horses in the army was "Tommy" of the First Life Guards who was presented to the Regiment by R. H. H. the Duke of Connaught, son of the Queen, at the time an officer of the Grenadier Guards. A painting was made of "Tommy" by a noted military artist and presented to the Queen. It hangs in Windsor Castle, and there is a replica in the Marlborough House. The original of the picture on "Tommy" is F. E. Bolton, who is now in this country with Lieut. Godfrey and the English Guards band, and is the tympani player in this famous band. Bolton is the champion drumming drummer of Great Britain. When on parade he and "Tommy" were escorted by a corporal and two mounted men who were a guard for the drums which are of good value and were presented by George III. Reserve seat sale will commence Saturday, March 11th. Reserve seats in the gallery will commence Monday, March 13th, at the box office of the Academy of Music.
