

DIED ALONE IN HIS CABIN.

Helena, Mont., March 5.—The body of E. H. Eads, a brother of the famous engineer, James Buchanan Eads, who designed and constructed the bridge across the Mississippi at St. Louis, and constructed the Eads jetties at the mouth of the Mississippi, was found dead last evening in his cabin, up Mike Mining Gulch, eight miles from Elliston. Eads was 70 years old and evidently had died from exposure or some natural cause. He lived alone in the mountains, a short distance from the summit of the main ridge, where he had prospected for gold for a number of years. He had a few friends and was regarded as a hermit by those who knew him.

BRITISH GUARDS BAND.

The Finest Military Band in Europe on a Brief Concert Tour.—Will Be in Raleigh March 17th.

Lieut. Dan Godfrey's British Guards Band, which open their American tour in Washington this week, having arrived by the Lucania, is composed of men who have served in the Guards regiments. Their ranks include many who have won distinction in active service. Among them is the trombone soloist Brady, who served in the Life Guards and was with Lord Roberts in the famous march through the Khyber Pass. He received a medal for conspicuous bravery on that occasion, and in the charge upon Cabul was rewarded with another medal. He also served in Egypt and received a good conduct medal. After his return to England he was awarded the Royal Humane Society's medal for saving two people from drowning. After all these he was given the long service medal. Bolton, Life Guardsman for fifteen years, wears a medal for service in Egypt. He is the tympani-player, and is the original in the picture of "Tommy," the drum horse of the First Life Guards, which was presented to the Regiment by the Duke of Connaught. Nearly all of Godfrey's men wear medals received either for bravery in the field and good conduct, or long service.

The reserve seat sale will commence Saturday, March 11th at King's. Reserve seats in the gallery will be on sale Monday, March 15th at the box office at the Academy of Music.

With these the selection this week will be even better than that of last. It was a great offering before—IT IS THE GREATEST OFFERING NOW. It's the existing circumstances that forces these suits on the market at a price you couldn't buy the mere material, much less the suits made up, ready to put on and wear. They are a line of suits marked $6, $7, $7.50, $8, $8.50, $9, up to $10. YOUR CHOICE NOW FOR $5. Some of the sample suits are displayed in our big corner window. What is left now and all the "light weights" from last season and the few "odds and ends" from fall you can have 15 per cent. less than marked price. This gives you choice of hundreds of pairs of pants for less than production price, and just at a time when a pair or two of extra pants come in handy. Better fitting trousers than ours were never made by the best of tailors at double our price. Room making costs us considerable.
