RALEIGH, N. C. FRIDAY EVENING, MARCH 17, 1899

ENEMY UNDAUNTED

Filipino's are Now Waiting Entrenched for Our Troops

MANILA, March 17.—General Wheaton is still further pushing eastward. His column is now advancing northeast from Laguna Bay. After the capture of two towns yesterday the enemy have retreated, but undaunted by defeat, to the entrenchments northeast of Pasig, where they are now waiting the further advance of our troops. The Filipino loss cannot be learned, but it is known to be heavy.

THE PRINCESS DEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—The steamer China brings the news of the death of Princess Kaiulani on the morning of the 16th of March.

GEN. OTIS GETS GUNS.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The War Department has ordered sent to General Otis three light batteries of half a dozen Hotchkiss guns at sea as mounted batteries.

General Otis sailed last evening, seven-fifty two hours should accompany the latter. These batteries are needed where it is impossible to move the heavier artillery now in Philippines.

LAWTON SUCCEEDS ANDERSON.

MANILA, March 17.—General Lawton has been assigned to command the First division of the eighth army corps succeeding General Anderson, who is ordered back to the United States, to take command of a military department.

POPE SINKING RAPIDLY

DICKERSON'S CASE, CALLED.

Jury Hurst's Father Was a Depositor in the Wrecked Bank, but the Judge Permitted the Juror to Sit.

Asheville, March 16.—At the opening of the United States court this morning, the case against J. E. Dickerson, a director of the defunct First National Bank, was called. The Dickerson indictment is identical with that against Breeze: "Embezzlement, abstraction and misapplication." A motion was made for a change of venue, but this was refused. The court proceeded to select a jury, which was completed before noon. There is not one Buncombe county man in the twelve. Counsel for the defence asked Juror Hurst if his father was a depositor in the First National Bank. The government objected. The judge asked the juror if his father had a deposit in the bank when it failed. Hurst replied: "Yes, about $300." The judge said the fact was not cause for challenge, as the juror had sworn that he had not formed an opinion.

The court then began hearing the evidence. This case may consume more time than the Breeze case.

Breeze, who was sentenced last night, has been in Marshall Milliken's custody while an attempt was made to make up the prisoner's $30,000 bond. Shortly after 3 o'clock this evening, the bond not being secured, the marshal delivered Breeze into the custody of the jailer of Buncombe county.

Judge Ewart, who is here tonight, says that he was re-appointed immediately upon the adjournment of Congress, but has not received his commission. This expected shortly.

WARD FOR ALDERMAN.

Mr. Editor: Now that the Legislature has adjourned and the interest in State politics has in a measure subsided, the citizens of Raleigh it seems are turning their attention to city politics. From the question of selecting gentlemen from the various wards of the city to be placed upon the Democratic ticket for aldermen is one that should receive our careful consideration. We owe it to our beautiful city to select men who by their capacity, integrity, intelligence and general information are capable of discharging well the trust we repose in them and of giving us for the next two years a broad and progressive administration of the affairs of the city. We owe it to the Democratic party to select men whose personal popularity will build up and extend the influence of the party. The writer desires to call the attention of the Democratic voters of the second division of the first ward to a gentleman who possesses all the qualifications above set forth, one who by his quiet and conservative mannerism has won the esteem of all classes of our citizens. John Ward, Esq., is a man whose nomination would please everyone. A friend to the workingman as well as identified with the business interests of Raleigh, he would give strength to the ticket and make a most valuable member of the board of aldermen. His election would give satisfaction to the mechanics of the city and to this, the writer would give satisfaction. "In Walker vs. Blaise, 68 N. C., at page 490, Pearson, C. J., says: 'Creating an office is an executive act, his is a fundamental principle.' And on page 464, of the same case, it is said: 'It was said in argument that the constitution makes it the duty of the General Assembly to provide for the creation and conduct of a State's prison, article 2, and section 3, and this includes the appointment of directors.' In reference to this, the court says, see page 464: 'Non sequitur.' Providing funds, making regulations, creating the necessary offices for the management of the institution, are acts of legislation, but filling these offices by competent men is a different matter—that is an executive function."

INFORMATION NEEDED.

Many Pertinent Inquiries Sent to the Auditor.

Questions are constantly pouring into the Auditor's office about matters which are really important, but there is no data from which to give the information.

For instance letters are received asking the municipal indebtedness of various towns, but there is no record in the auditor's office of such. Others write asking the tax rate in various towns since they do not want to move to a place or invest their money there unless they know how much taxes they will have to pay. A man is not anxious to put capital in a town where the tax rate is 2 1/2 and he cannot get more than six per cent interest.

FLOATING ISLAND

Island of Nearly Two Acres Plays Havoc

HAVANA, March 17.—A floating island, one or two acres in extent and four or five feet thick has come down the Illinois river. It crashed against a cabin boat, smashed its keel and landed it ashore. It next struck the pier and wagon bridge shaking the structure violently, throwing the horses on the bridge, and then stranded the pier. The city authorities now contemplate dynamiting the island.

DAY TALKS.

Capt. Day in an interview with the correspondent of The Charlotte Observer gives the grounds for his suit, which grounds were first publish in the Times-Visitor. Capt. Day says: It will hardly be questioned since the decision of the Supreme court, that the power to appoint to office is an executive power.

"In Walker vs. Blaise, 68 N. C., at page 490, Pearson, C. J., says: 'Creating an office is an executive act, his is a fundamental principle.' And on page 464, of the same case, it is said: 'It was said in argument that the constitution makes it the duty of the General Assembly to provide for the creation and conduct of a State's prison, article 2, and section 3, and this includes the appointment of directors.' ## WASHINGTON LETTER

Will Vice-President Hobart be Renominated?

HIGGINSON'S LETTER

Senators and Representatives Will be the Guests of the Panama Canal Company.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
Washington, March 17.—Consternation was caused among some of the War Department officials by some of the testimony given before the Military Court of Inquiry, in Chicago, this week. There had evidently been a weak spot somewhere in the Alger coaching department, and it may result in another court-martial for Eagan, the verdict of which Mr. McKinley will not dare to set aside or mitigate, and serious trouble for other officers who have been connected with the agent at Chicago, testified that he bought a lot of second class canned beef because he didn't know any better, also that he bought all the canned beef he bought by sample and trusted entirely to the honesty of the packers to furnish it up to sample, and that canned roast beef was first purchased by direct order of Gen. Aagau. But the most damaging portion of his testimony was that Eagan in a number of instances ignored him entirely and bought by sample, without competition, large quantities of canned roast beef. The justification of Gen. Miles is forcing itself to the front notwithstanding extraordinary efforts to keep it back.

The "big game" in the canal legislation of Congress is becoming visible to the naked eye. The work done by the Panama Canal Company's lobbyists in killing legislation for the construction of the Nicaragua Canal and getting a commission to examine and report upon both the Nicaragua and Panama routes, is now being supplemented by other shrewd work towards roping this country in as a partner in the Panama Canal. As another move in that direction about sixty Senators and Representatives have accepted invitations for a month's junket upon an elegant steamship, as guests of the Panama Canal Company, the junket to include a visit to Cuban ports of interest. The Panama Canal has already been the cause of a great scandal in France, brought about by the use of spending money to influence legislation. The absolute control exercised over the machinery of the republican party by Boss Hanna is shown by the talk in Washington about Mr. Hobart and the Republican National ticket, next year. Mr. Hobart is not only willing but anxious to have the old ticket put up again but there are some objections, because of the unbroken rule of changing the tail of the ticket. Hanna will settle the matter before Mr. Hobart leaves his Thomasville house, where he is a guest with Mr. and Mrs. McKinley, and the strangest thing about it is the ready acquiescence of prominent Republicans in his right to do so. One of the most matter speaking about it in the most matter of fact tone said: "If Hanna decides that Hobart shall not be nominated again, you may look for an announcement from Hobart before delegates to the National Convention are elected to the effect that his private business demands his attention; no announcement will be needed if the decision is for the old ticket."

When Admiral Higginson wrote a letter declining the promotion given to him because the nominations of his brother officers for similar promotions had not been acted upon by the Senate, while his had been confirmed, the contrary expressed its admiration for the extraordinary display of magnanimity; when Sampson made an attempt to square himself by following with a letter to the Secretary of the Navy, suggesting that his name be left out of the promotions given to Congress, the country gave him the hal' hal' of derision. The public is often humbugged, but in these two cases it correctly sized up the genuine and the imitation without a moment's hesitation or a single pointer, other than the letters of the two men and what anybody knew of their records. Sampson cannot live long enough to live down the bad opinion the people have had of him ever since it became known that he deliberately attempted to appropriate to himself honors which he knew belonged to Schley, and in order to do so did not hesitate to attempt to blacken the record of Schley. Fair play is something that many do not get, but he who does not believe in it and practice it is unworthy to be called an American.

"THE HIGHWAYMAN."

The Broadway Theatre Opera Company, headed by Camille D'Arville will present the immensely successful comic opera, "The Highwayman" at the Academy next Tuesday night. The authors of this new opera are Remond De Koven and Harry B. Smith, whose fame as writers of popular musical diversions has long been established especially in their other great success "Robin Hood." The organization presenting the new opera here is the permanent stock company of the Broadway Theatre, New York, the play house in which most all of the foreign and American comic opera productions have first been presented to the public. The company is spoken of as one of the most capable and brilliant that has been assembled for years, including in addition to Miss D'Arville the names of some of the brightest lights in the lyric world. At the Broadway Theatre, in New York, on December 12, the opera was given its three hundredth presentation, handsome souvenirs, of solid silver being distributed to the audience in commemoration of the event. Reserve seats will be on sale Saturday at King's.

Following the engagement of Leat Godfrey at the Academy of Music will be the much heralded appearance of the celebrated Irish comedians Murray and Mack, America's representative stage- Irishmen in their latest edition and funny play of "Finigan's Ball." Considerable interest is manifested in the clean, wholesome amusement, for Murray and Mack have clearly shown in their previous visits that they are not only very much alive, but always thoroughly up-to-date with their songs, sayings, parodies and always surrounded by a company of very high average. Their piece is conceded by all, to be by all odds the best vehicle they have ever had for the display of their versatility and not a hodge-podge of nonsense, simply cooked up for an evening's entertainment; the comedy being not only consistent, but carries an even thread of complications, which admits the introduction of specialties without destroying the continuity of the farce. Manager Joe W. Spears has given the "Ball" a beautiful scenic investiture, while the costuming is considered lavish in the extreme, and the company is one of the best procurable, including Misses Fannie and Mae Trumbull, Kattie Beck, Mona Oarrington, Kattie Hawthorne, Mary and Alice Smith, Gracie Wolfe, Kitty Cummings, Maud Leekley, Effie Fay, Constance Windom. Reserve seats on sale.

REV. LEAVITT ACCEPTS

The Pastor of the West Raleigh Church Will be a Live Factor Here.

Last Sunday the West Raleigh Baptist church extended a call to Rev. T. H. Leavitt, of Fayetteville to the pastorate of that church. Mr. Leavitt has now accepted the call and he is expected in Raleigh probably this week or early next week.

A mission was established about six years since in West Raleigh by the First Baptist church. The location on Hillsboro road was donated by the late W. G. Upchurch and Capt. B. P. Williamson. A building was erected soon afterwards. The mission grew until a church was finally organized and its membership has steadily increased.

Rev. A. L. Betts, the Baptist city missionary has acted as pastor, until now the church is able to maintain a pastor of its own and Mr. Betts will be able to devote his time to the Pilot church and the Carlehigh and other missions.

Rev. Mr. Leavitt, the new pastor of this church, will become an important factor in the religious life of this city. He is said to be a fluent speaker and a fearless but Godly man. His life has been a remarkable one. He was converted by the Salvation Army and, it is said, was connected with them for a while. He also travelled with Mr. Fife, the evangelist and eventually came to Wilmington. Later he went to Fayetteville where he is at present.

Mr. Leavitt is one who does not believe that a minister's work is confined entirely to his ministerial duties. Last summer and fall he took an active part in the political campaign and made quite a reputation by stumpng Sampson and other counties for white supremacy. He was also in touch with the red shirts and, it is said, acted as chaplain of the organization in Robeson and Cumberland counties and wore the uniform. He is a zealous and fearless advocate of any cause he deems just and right.

GIVES INSTRUCTIONS

Supt' Mebane Sends Out An Important Circular Letter

Superintendent Mebane sent out the following circular letter today.

To the County Supervisors:

The manuscripts of the public school law and notes thereon were placed in the hands of the public printer on March 16th, but owing to law suits injunctions, &c., have no assurance as to a definite time having the school law published thence this letter.

The supervisor will hold his office and discharge his official duties until the end of the school year or until his successor, the county superintendent of schools, is elected and qualified.

The county superintendent of schools will be elected by the county board of directors on the second Monday in July.

The county supervisor cannot do any visiting of schools since the 7th of March because there has not existed a county board of education since that date under whose supervision this work must have been done in order to be in accordance with law.

The new county Board of Directors will allow the county supervisor pay for services actually rendered in public school work since the 7th of March. Such as examination of teachers, signing vouchers, &c., such compensation as was allowed by law by the county boards of education.

It would be well for the County Supervisor to meet with the county Boards of Education and county Boards of Directors on the second Monday in April and assist in every way possible to make clear and plain matters of record as to the public schools and give all the information possible so that the school interests and work will not be injured by change of officers.

The township committees will sign orders of teachers' salaries to finish up contracts made with teachers of the schools now in operation. These orders are to be rendered by the county supervisor as heretofore.

This, I think is sufficient information until your successors are elected and qualified.

Yours truly,
C. H. MEBANE,
Superintendent of Public Instruction.
