CASE CONTINUED

Dr. Abbott Desired Witnesses-Civil Court

In the Superior court this afternoon the action of Dr. D. H. Abbott against Commissioner E. C. Beddingfield for the latter's position on the North Carolina Corporation Commission was called. Abbott's attorneys wanted witnesses and asked that the case be continued until Monday. The attorneys for the defendant said that since the case would have to go over until next week they preferred a continuance so it was continued and no day for hearing set.

This morning a judgment for $12.85 was given in the suit of J. C. Marcom, administrator of A. S. Pollard, against J. Q. Adams.

An order was made, in the action entitled C. R. Craif et als vs. S. C. Dodd ex etc., and others, that T. B. Moseley, receiver, pay A. C. Henderson's lien on the crop out of the proceeds from the sale of the crop. Another order was made for him to psy attorney's fees. Case of R. M. Quigley vs. Carpenter

Sherwood Upchurch Again a Candidate for Nomi-

The Democratic voters of the second division of the Third ward are called to hold a primary tomorrow (Thursday) night in the Royal Knights hall for the purpose set forth in the notice below:

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to the Democratic voters of the Second division of the Third ward that a primary will be held at the Royal Knights hall on the corner of Blount and Cabarrus streets, to consider and take action upon the communication of the Democratic Exe-cutive Committee of the city of Raleigh in reference to the eligibility and nomi-nation of Mr. J. Sherwood Upchurch for alderman of the city of Raleigh, and to take such action therein as said primary shall deem proper and necessary. W. M. RUSS, Chairman.

The forecast of this action taken by the executive committee last night was correctly given in the imes-Visitor yes-The campaign committee examined witnesses showing that Upchurch was not a resident of the ward and he was given every opportunity to present evidence on his side but declined to do o. Therefore the committee had to act on the evidence presented.

Candidate Upchurch said again today that he was still a candidate and that his name would be presented in the primary Thursday night.
A gentleman said today: "If Upchurch is elected I don't believe he will be seated. It would be a similar wran-gle in the board of aldermen to the affair which the admission or rejection of Roberts, the polygamist, has raised in ongress.

Sherwood Upchurch made the followng statement to the Times-Visitor for publication:

"The Democratic campaign committee has seen fit to do the un-Democratic thing in turning me down as their nomince for alderman, in the second division of the third ward; because, as they allege; I am not a resident of that section of the ward.

"I want to say, I was raised in that ward and that myself and my people have been and are residents, and property owners in that word; that I went into the Democratic primary without a taint against my politics; or an objection to my citizenship, and whipped out the other set by two to one; that nobody disputes the fairness of the primary; that, not until afterwards was anything done to dispute the honesty of the men who voted for me, and these men who had known me all my life.

"The primary was not packed, nor padded-but composed of straight, ag-gressive Democrats; who thought they knew what they were doing.

"But the action of the Democratic Committee is so unprecedented as to call forth the admiration of the officegetters, and other hangers on; and the asking for the verdict of the classes that work for, vote, count the Democratic ticket, and get no recompense in honors or dollars. To my mind the reason for this high-handed action is plain. I could not be used, if elected, to suit the will of those who assume to dictate the consciences of this people; to use and spend their money; to use and abuse their trust; to use and abuse the macintoshes

Water Power of the River to Be Developed

BAL IMOREANS DIRECT

Cotton Mills and Other Enterprises to be Developed and Electrical Enegry Supplied Within a Radius of Fity Miles - Construction at Once

Definite plans have been undertaken for the development of a big water power property in North Carolina under the direction of a Baltimore engineering and contracting concern. J. G. White & Co., who built the now widely-known line transmitting electrical energy from Niagara Falls to Buffalo, have the work in charge. On account of the magnitude of this new development and its location the enterprise is already called "The Niagara of the Cotton Belt." Its situa-tion is at the "narrows" of the Yadkin river, in Stanley county, N. C. The total power available in time of dry season is about 40,000-horse power. By the adop-tion of storage reservoirs, which the high banks of the river favor, this pow-er can be greatly increased, says the Baltimore Sun.

Mr. C. G. Young, of J. G. White &
Co., has returned to Baltimore after examining the property and pronounced the project entirely practicable and the basis of a most important development. Mr. Young said that surveys were now nearly completed that will enable the engin eers to determine final plans for the con struction. Baltimore engineers and mechanics who had a part in the work which brought the electric current from Niagara to Buffalo and furnished the means to turn the wheels in that city of the street cars, factories and other pow er consumers are engaged in this new

The North Carolina Power Company is the name of the corporation that will carry out the plan. Mr. E. B. C. Hambley is president of this company and Dr. Dillon Brown, treasurer. Financial arrangements have already been perfected and there is now no obstacle to the commencement of the work of construction just as soon as the plans of the en-gineers are worked out. The company has a capital stock of $5,000,000, and it s proposed to issue bonds to the amount of $2,500,000. It owns the entire property along the Yadkin river where the power development is to be made, in-cluding 4,000 acres of land on both sides of the river, thus controlling the situa-

The typographical features are regarded as particularly well adapted for econom ical development, as the river at the river at the "narrows" passes through a granite-lipped gorge but seventy-five feet wide at its widest and only thirty feet wide at its narrowest part. In the twelve miles the total fall is 220 feet. The development will probably be made in two

Following this water-power develop-ment is to come the movement to this ection of New England cotton-mill interests. Plans are now being formulated for a large cotton mill to be built on the property. This mill is designed to be an advance upon present plants not only in the South, but in the North as well. Besides modern machinery of approved type, the whole plant will be electrically driven. Some novel features will be in-troduced in this regard to simplify operations. Possession of an abundance of good labor, cheap living and cheap power are also expected to influence other industries besides cotton mills to locate in this section. This development of water power promises to be one of the most interest ng yet made and it is contemplated to transmit the power to points within a radius of fifty miles. It has been determined to install machinery of the most modern style and make the big development the most effective that money and kill can secure. The Yadkin river for a term of years has been particularly reg niralu xzfifff cu -sxzfifff 1/8 1/8 1/8 regular in flow, and as there is no dauger of interruption by freezing in winter, there will be no need of auxiliary steam plants, as in New England. A short extension of the Salisbury and Norwood Branch of the Southern Railway is to be made to reach the property and a new line under construction from

Durham is also to run through it. The scenery, high altitude and climate of this part of the South is especially inviting and after the industrial developnents are under way a hotel and resort will probably be the next move

TROUBLE IN TRANSVAAL.

A Crisis Arises in the English-Duten Relations, CAPE TOWN, April 26 .- There is renowed uneasiness over the situation in Transvaal. General Chief Jouber, an inspection of the frontiers, is select-ing places suitable for entrenchments. A more rigid inspection of the military is also ordered. The Kruger is evidently expecting hostilities from England and the Dutchmen are uneasy over the result of the petition to English Colonial Minister Chamberlain, signed by twenty one thousand English residents of Transvaal, setting forth their grievances. It is relieved that Lord Chamberlain's ac-tion will mark the crisis in English and Dutch relations. The British army here is being steadily augmented.

CLASH CAME

Fasion Usurpers Refuse to admit the Board

All day the public has been in susense regarding the outcome of the two poards of agriculture. The Fusion members were here in full force and this morning they held a short session. Commission John R. was on hand and Secretary Justify Litigation Ramsey was not absent. The session was informal and partook more of the nature of a council of war than anything else. They all denied anything was done at the meeting.

This afternoon at four o'clock in time for both boards to meet. The Fusionists were on the scene early and sat huddled together in the commissioner's room waiting the attack and repulse of the new board. A reporter peeped in on the clan of warriors about 4 o'clock and the silence was broken only by one of the directors whispering to another: "It is four o'clock, don't you reckon we'd bet-ter begin to lock up." The usurpers seemed to anticipate a forcible assault. The Democratic directors accompanied by Attorneys F. M. Simmons, J. H. and E. W. Pou and S. F. Mordecai went to the Agricultural building in a body at 4:15. They were met on the porch by J. C. L. Harris and informed that the old board did not recognize them now, since the Day decision, and refused them admittance,

Mr. J. H. Pou spoke for the new directors and said that they would im-mediately institute action. The new board then went into the railroad com-mission office where they are now in ses-

Insurgents Resist Energetically at Calumpit

JOED ARTILLERY

The American Army is Thoroughly Prepared for Any Move Which Aguinalde's Army May Attempt.

WASHINGTON, April 26 .- The question of the effective results of the fighting at Calumpit depends largely, it is believed, upon Gen. Lawton's force. The latest capiegrams indicate beyond a doubt that it is the plan of the insurgents not to make a stand at Calumpit. The news that yesterday the Filipinos began burning the principal buildings in the town is accepted as a sure sign that the leaders are settled in the policy of continuing their retreat after inflicting as much damage as possible. Fortunately, the Americans are preparing for just such an event. The forced march of Gen. Lawton's division from Novaliches toward Noresgary was deliberately planned for the purpose of cutting off the retreat of the enemy under the attack of Gen. MacArthur's and General linle's commands. It was expected that den. Lawton would reach the expected point last night and after a rest this morning will make a sharp turn to the west, being the joined centre column
