TREACHERY AVENGED

Americans Punish Filipinos for Tilley's Murder.

MACABEEBS NOW LOYAL.

Insurgents Attack Americans Wounding Two—Robber Bands Driven From Negroes to the Country.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—General Ochs cables that Smith reports from the island of Negros that he punished the insurgents who murdered Captain Tilley and that the eastern coast is now under the American flag and the inhabitants ask our protection against robber bands. The bands were pursued to the mountains by United States and native troops and severely punished.

French took the rest, together with the Twenty Second Infantry, to Canbaba yesterday, the insurgents having appeared in a considerable force in that vicinity.

STREET CHATS

Dr. Hawkins, who recently returned from Florida, says that the oranges were injured by the cold spring and he looks for a fine crop.

A prominent Methodist remarked this morning: "Raleigh is particularly honored at the commencement exercises of the Greensboro Female College this week. Miss Lizzie Wynne, daughter of Mr. J. S. Wynne, has carried off all the honors for which she competed and has led the class of 1899. Raleigh has cause to be proud of her record."

Not only is the above true but it is a fact that during the two years that Miss Wynne has been a student at the Greensboro College she has led the entire school, making the highest average of the 150 students in the entire institution. This is an honor to herself, her parents, her city and her country.

"I had rather live in Raleigh than any place I know," remarked Rev. Geo. Branson. "We have made wonderful progress in the last fifteen years," he continued, "for when the exposition was held here, in 1884, Raleigh did not have a paved street and scarcely a decent sidewalk could be found in the city. For my part I believe that the exposition under the wise and progressive management of William S. Primrose was really the beginning of Raleigh's awakening. Ever since that exposition the city has been taking on new life, and W. S. Primrose was largely instrumental in giving us the first push."

In April, 1898, a party of young gentlemen from Raleigh enjoyed a picnic at Moore's pond in this county. The party embraced Messrs. Joe Ellington, Robert Dickson, Edgar Broughton, Will Mose and Powhatan Matthews. Without rowing on the pond they had the misfortune, they thought, to lose a gun and a rifle, articles which were indispensable for the occasion. The arms fell overboard, they thought, and the pond was dredged and everything possible done to recover the lost articles but in vain. Now, however, a note has been received by one of the party informing him that he can get his rifle if he will come and prove his property. The discoverer says that the rifle was found in the woods standing against a tree.

Prof. Campbell of the Buie's Creek Academy has the honor of being at the head of one of the very best academies in North Carolina. He is now spending several days in the city, since his return from Wake Forest commencement. He remarked today: "We had a most successful session and look forward to a large attendance at the opening early in August. While it may not suit city people so well, my experience is that it is much better for the county schools in this section to open early. It is more convenient for the boys who work on the farms."

E. A. Johnson, the well known colored lawyer of this city, who has just written a history of the negro in the American-Spanish war, says that he has received orders for over 500 volumes. The book embraces about 250 pages. It has been printed by The Capital Printing Company and only remains to be bound now. The binding will soon be completed.

The popular and progressive clothing firm of S. and D. Berwanger have fulfilled the contract awarded them for furnishing the new uniforms for the police force and their have done the work in their usual elegant style. The new uniforms are beautiful. Health Officer Sale will be a veritable Apollo in his suit and when those who failed to get on the force see officers Ike Rogers and others in their new uniforms they will turn green with envy.

FATAL DUCEL.

All Caused by a Man Who Couldn't Take a Joke.

WAR UNAVOIDABLE.

Japan Preparing for a Contest With Russia.

VICTORIA, June 1.—A Pekin correspondent writes that Japan is making war preparations as quietly as she did four years ago and is taking measures toward strengthening her coast defenses, feeling that war with Russia in the near future is unavoidable.

THE STRIKE.

BUFFALO, June 1.—The freight handlers strike, which originated in the Lehigh freight house yesterday and threatened to involve two thousand men by spreading to other freight houses, has been checked by negotiations between the freight handlers union on the one side and the contractors and representatives of the interested railroads on the other. The indications point to a settlement today.

AN AMERICAN PROVES A ROWDY.

JOHANNESBURG, June 1.—Thos. Regan, American, assaulted, a leading financier, Eckstein, at the Standard Bank, by striking him in the face with a whip and his fist. Regan resisted desperately before he was overpowered and again struck Eckstein after he was arrested.

OHIO REPUBLICANS.

The following temporary organization was agreed upon before the delegates convened, for chairman W. S. Kerr; for secretary E. L. Lamson; for sergeant-at-arms Frederick Baker.

EASTPORT, I. I., June 1.—About fifty persons are ill here from eating ice cream which was impure. All will live but some of them are seriously ill. The ice cream was served at a church festival. The local physicians worked all night.

HONOR MARCHAND

French Ladies Hobsonize His Black Troops.

HIS RECEPTION IN PARIS

Fifty Thousand People Greet Him and Cheer Wildly—Luncheon Given in His Honor by Minister of Marine.

PARIS, June 1.—Marchand arrived this morning. He was vociferously cheered, as he alighted from a special train, by a crowd of fifty thousand. None of the ministers were at the station to receive him. He was guarded by police at his carriage to prevent his being overwhelmed by the rushes of his admirers, who covered his carriage with flowers and shouted "Vive Marchand," "Vive Marchand," as the hero of Fashoda was driven to the department of the Ministry of Marine. He repeatedly bowed his acknowledgments to the multitude, who cheered lustily as he appeared on the balcony at the Ministry of Marine.

Minister of Marine Lockroy will give a luncheon in his honor. Cries of "Vive Marchand" and "Vive France" were mingled with shouts for Marchand.

The Parisians are fervently giving honors to Marchand as the representative, in their eyes of the army as an officer to the Dreyfus climax.

Marchand's Senegalese troops had to be forcibly removed from the train at Toulon as they were determined to come immediately to Paris. The women of Toulon are idolizing them, embracing them in the streets, surfacing the drinks and tobacco.

It is likely that these black soldiers will come to Paris later.

AMERICA WINS

England Stands Alone in One Vote at The Hague.

THE HAGUE, June 1.—The American mediation scheme was unanimously adopted yesterday.

The first commission by a vote of 18 to 3, adopted the resolution prohibiting the use of dynamite in the future in Italy and Austria. Great Britain was in the minority. Also the use of explosives from balloons and explosive bullets is prohibited in the resolution.

An agreement is found impossible on all the important proposals. The conviction is growing that the work of the first committee is doomed to failure.

IT IS THE BEST.

"I was highly gratified at the result of my special sale of ensels and screens last Monday which was advertised extensively in the Times-Visitor. We sold the entire big stock of ensels and screens we placed on sale. The Times-Visitor is certainly the best advertising medium to reach the people," said Mr. Campbell of the firm of Thomas and Campbell. He also stated that he would have another special sale in a few days.

MORE TROOPS.

This is the first time in the history of the State of a sentence of death for two murders by one person passed by a Pennsylvania court.

SALE OF FOWLE PROPERTY.

The time of the sale of these unsold lots will be announced in the Times-Visitor at an early day. The day in selling the remainder of the property was owing to the proper diagrams not being ready.

ST. MARY'S

COMMENCEMENT

Salutatory Delivered by Miss Minna C. Bynum.

MISS CHRISTIANA BUSBEE VALEDICTORIAN

The Graduating Class—Diplomas and Distinctions Presented by Bishop Joseph Blount Ches-hire.

The closing exercises at St. Mary's school were largely attended this morning.

The program consisted first a piano duet (Romance-arantella) by Miss Mary C. Thompson and Eliza H. Simmons.

The salutatory was read by Miss Minna Curtis Bynum. It was a beautiful poem which should be treasured by every member of the class.

Master James Thomas rendered air-Palomo, Moffatt on the violin.

Miss Nina Watson Green read an essay "The attraction of the unknown."

Air de Ballet, charminade, by Miss Eliza H. Simmons.

Essay—The Reading Pad by Miss Lucy Birdie Clifton.

Barcarolle, Goddard, by Miss Eliza H. Doane.

Evening out Thine Eyes, Ries, recited by Miss Louise Pittinger.

Essay—The Art of Lying by Miss Kate Bronson Connor.

Sonata, Schubert, violin, by Miss Helen Sneddes.

Essay—Ghosts and valedictory by Miss Christiana Busbee.

Miss Busbee valedictory was as follows:

"For more than fifty years Commencement Day at St. Mary's has witnessed many partings. For more than fifty years girls have left their Alma Mater; for more than fifty years it has been some one's part to say the last "good-bye," yet the duty seems none the less hard on each successive year, and the sorrow of parting from the school of our affections is new to us—the class of '99. We feel that no others could have valued more highly their school-life, and we know that none ever felt more deeply than we the beauty and the sadness of a loving farewell.

"To our Bishop we must say our first good-bye. We appreciate deeply your interest, and the loving care you have shown for St. Mary's, especially during our sad time of trouble. From you, not really parting, for the greater number of us will continue to be under your spiritual guidance and supervision. We will still hear your earnest words of guidance and truth.

"We alone of all St. Mary's graduates have only a reverent pause where a beloved name once was. We are bereft of that gracious presence which for two and twenty years guided and strengthened the great work which his father had begun.

"We see him as he moved,
How modest, kindly, all-accomplished,
Wise,
With what sublime repression of himself."

"But, although his visible presence has been taken from us for a little while, the influence of him who lived and worked among us, who had no single thought of self in the accomplishment of his work, who gave his time and love and strength to the glory of God and the service of his fellow-creatures, this influence will never cease to bless and beautify St. Mary's and will be the noblest heritage of all her girls.

"To our teachers it is hard to say good-bye. It bristles us sorrow to think that the daily intercourse must cease, and the ties must be broken that have bound us together. You will go your way with your widening influence and increasing knowledge; we will go ours, with the loving memory of your kind sympathy and ready helpfulness towards us, and with your earnest words in our minds and hearts.

"My class-mates, I bid you good-bye in the truest sense of the word. Good-bye with you. Though we may be far away from each other in times to come, the sympathy and companionship that exist among us will only grow with the years, and we will always think of our school-life as a period of varied joys, much experience, and many ennobling influences. May we always look back on our Alma Mater with the love we bear her today, and in the battle of life may we all abide by our motto, "Vive Victor!"

The year has brought us many things; but its best and noblest legacy has been the influence of a life given to the service of others.

"To the friends of St. Mary's, to the people of Raleigh, in the name of my class, I say farewell. We extend to you our gratitude for your sympathy and interest in our work, and we hope that the interest will grow as the years go by. The friendship between you and the girls of the class make us feel sure that our parting will not be a long one. The sorrow of our separation on Commencement Day is lightened by the prospect of meeting in the future; and so it is not with entire sadness that I say to our Bishop and ministers, to my teachers and class-mates, to the people of Raleigh, farewell.

The remaining exercises were: The Old Oak, Campbell, soprano; Misses Bynum and DelRoset, Mazzo-soprano, Miss Pittinger.

MARRIED AT FAYETTEVILLE

Miss King and Mr. Young United in Hay Street Church.

Mr. and Mrs. John Benton Young arrived in the city this afternoon from Fayetteville. They will reside at the groom's residence on West Morgan street.

The ceremony which united in the holy bonds of matrimony Miss Mattie King, of Fayetteville, and Mr. John Benton Young, was performed in the Hay Street Methodist Episcopal church, South, of Fayetteville this morning at half after eleven o'clock. Rev. W. L. Cunningham officiating. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and was thronged by the friends and admirers of the bride in this her home.

Patterson, sister of the bride was maid of honor and Mr. Henry J. Young, of Raleigh, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The ushers were Mr. R. B. King, Mr. J. H. Ledbetter, Dr. J. M. Fleming and Rev. B. H. Black.

After the conclusion of the ceremony the bride and groom left for their future home in Raleigh.

The bride, although living in Fayetteville, is no stranger in Raleigh and counts her friends here by the hundreds. She is a sister of Mr. David M. King, of this city.

Mr. Benton Young, as he is called by his friends, is one of Raleigh's young men, of whom the city may well be proud. He began his business career with the renowned firm of W. H. and R. S. Tucker and is now one of the right hand men of Messrs. Dobbin and Ferrall, successors to the Tucker firm. In religious, as well as commercial circles, he has ever been prominent.

To Mr. and Mrs. Young The Times-Visitor joins their numerous friends in wishing them all the happiness which they so richly merit.

WORK BEGUN.

The tax listers for Raleigh township opened their office in the court house today and began work. The listers for the county are Mr. C. R. Lee and Mr. Chas. D. Arthur, while at the same place and same time Mr. James Jordan lists the city taxes. This is an excellent arrangement. By listing city taxes at the same place the county taxes are listed will save the trouble of listing both at the court house and the city hall and it will also insure both the county and city in getting the same listment.

BACK FROM THE SWAMPS.

Mr. Joseph Blake Returns From a Surveying Trip to Dare County.

Mr. Joseph Blake, our county surveyor, returned from the swamps of Dare county this morning, where he has been for the past two months surveying some boundaries between two large land companies, which were in dispute. He was employed by the Federal court here to do the work as the matter is in litigation in that court. Mr. Blake says the jungles of Cuba or Manila are small potatoes compared with the jungles through which he has been during the past two months. Snakes and lizards are extremely friendly in that region and he says it was nothing to wake up in the morning and find them snoring his blanket. He had several narrow escapes from sinking out of sight in the swamps, but fortunately friendly hands grasped him before he disappeared from view. Notwithstanding the rough time, Mr. Blake came back improved in health, which he attributes to the "jumpier" water.
