

THE TIMES-VISITOR

NO. 8,917.

RALEIGH, N. C., FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 7, 1899.

25 CENTS A MONTH.

ANGRY LAWYER SLAPPED A WITNESS

Dave Lane Boxed Varina Chamblee's Jaws in Court.

MAYOR POWELL FINES HIM $10 FOR CONTEMPT

The Mayor Afterwards Puts $25 on the Attorney for Assault—Disgraceful Scene in the Mayor's Court.

A witness, and a woman at that, was rudely slapped in the face, by the enraged attorney for the defense, while she was giving her testimony from the witness box in Mayor A. M. Powell's court this morning.

The affair created a profound sensation. Indeed the spectators were dumb founded with amazement at such unprecedented proceeding and for a moment the Mayor was speechless with astonishment.

The blow came like a thunder clap. "You know what you asked me," was the remark the negro wench Varina Chamblee hurled at the negro attorney Dave P. Lane and the next instant a loud clap was heard as the ponderous right hand of Dave descended upon the left cheek of the witness.

In the excitement of the moment Mayor Powell only punished such gross contempt of court by a fine of ten dollars.

THE HEARING.

David P. Lane appeared for Sally Blackall and Mamie Blackall, two negro women, who were arraigned for being drunk and disorderly and using profane language on the streets. It was a tough crowd all around, both defendants and witnesses. The witnesses in the case were Lydia Chamblee, Ella Cope, Varina Chamblee.

The hearing progressed orderly until Varina Chamblee was placed on the stand and then Attorney Lane for the defendants sought to be particularly severe in his cross-examination.

"What do you do for a living?" demanded Dave Lane from his seat in a chair at the table in front of Mayor Powell's desk. The girl hesitated and the persistent attorney again hurled the question at her "What do you do for a living?"

"You know what you asked me," hurled back the witness.

Dave rose and walked quickly up to the witness box and demanded what she meant. The girl repeated her former statement.

Hardly were the words out of her mouth when Dave slapped her in the face. For a moment all was quiet. Mayor Powell seemed amazed. Chief Miller leaned over and whispered to His Honor. The Mayor rallied and announced that this ended the trial and Dave was not recognized further in the case.

"For contempt of court I fine you ten dollars," said the Mayor.

DAVE APOLOGIZES.

Dave immediately walked up to the desk and plunked down $5 and a colored friend nearby supplied the other five. "I desire to apologize to the court," said Dave, "for I wish I understood that I intended no disrespect. That woman simply because I am a colored man sought to cast disrespect and insinuations on my character. I lost my temper and could not restrain myself from repelling the insult she gave me."

Mayor Powell said that was the end of the case. The Blackall girls were fined $7.25 and the witnesses dismissed. Dave Lane then left the court room and became the center of a crowd of negroes in front of the market.

FINED $25 MORE.

No sooner had the crowd departed than Varina Chamblee swore out a warrant before Mayor Powell against David P. Lane for assault. The warrant was placed in the hands of Officer Cates and he proceeded to the street and extracted Dave Lane from the center of his group of admirers. Dave appeared before Mayor Powell and said that he desired to submit to the charge of assault.

"I will fine you $25 and cost," said Mayor Powell.

"I will appeal," said Dave so he gave $100 bond for his appearance at the July term of the Wake county court.

The affair created a sensation on to street and many severe criticisms of Mayor Powell's leniency are heard.

Mayor Powell stated to the Times-Visitor: "It all happened so quick that I did not have an opportunity to consider it or I should have fined him $25 for contempt and $10 for assault instead of vice versa as I did."

ACCIDENT.

NEW YORK, July 7.—A steamship of the Old Dominion, south of Sandy Hook is sighted off the Highlands this morning in tow of one of the Old Dominion line steamers, which turned her over to a tug and proceeded south. It is supposed that the Old Dominion liner's engine broke down.

OVER $3,000,000.

SEATTLE, July 7.—Advises received here from Dawson City say that the steamer "Robert Kerr" left there June 20th with over three millions in gold dust for St. Michaels.

25 DROWNED AT CALVERT.

CALVERT, TEXAS, July 7.—The complete list of those persons drowned by the flood in this place shows twenty three dead.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Baby Found Sleeping Quietly on Dead Mother's Breast.

BUTLER, PA., July 7.—In an electric storm here Mrs. Jona Toy, wife of a farmer, was killed by lightning, which shattered the tree under which she had taken refuge from the rain. Her baby who was lying near her was not harmed. Two hours later, when her husband approached he found the two apparently nestled comfortably at the foot of the tree. The baby was fast asleep on the dead mother's breast.

OFFERED THE "METEOR."

The Shamrock Will Not Be Ready Before Monday or Tuesday.

LONDON, July 7.—Kaiser Wilhelm has offered Thomas Lipton his yacht "Meteor" to sail on the trial trips in place of the "Britannia." The Britons are pleased, as the "Meteor" is considered the better boat of the two for this purpose.

Sir Thomas Lipton said at Southampton today that the "Shamrock" would not be ready before next Monday or Tuesday and he stated further that she would not be started until she is entirely ready.

EVIDENCE READY.

Insurance Commissioner Young today prepared the evidence in the Wilson incendiary fire case. There have been about eight incendiary fires at Wilson in the past four or five months. The insurance commissioner is making an investigation, as he is required to do under the new law. As a result of the investigation by Commissioner James R. Young, J. R. Brooks and W. D. Cooper, a firm of furniture dealers of Wilson, were placed under arrest Wednesday. The evidence seems strong against them that they set fire to their store to get the insurance. They had $2,500 insurance and their stock was valued at $1,200 to $1,500.

REPORT WITHOUT FOUNDATION

No Truth in Reported Consolidation of Penn. and New York Central.

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—A present official in close touch with President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania Railroad today denied the published statement that the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central has entered into a compact whereby the two systems will become practically one. This official said that the story was too absurd to need contradiction. There had never been a thought of consolidating the systems. The relations of the two companies are pleasant, but, as the Pennsylvania is competing with the New York Central for western traffic, their interests are not compatible, and consequently consolidation or amalgamation is out of the question. He added that President Cassatt simply made a personal call on President Calloway of the New York Central, the day of the directors meeting, but was not present at the meeting.

WOMAN.

When a girl gets married the women inquire "how her mother took it," as though it was a funeral.

A wedding isn't perfectly satisfactory to the women unless it costs so much they can abuse somebody afterwards for spending so much.

A woman has few friends who do not wonder, when her engagement is announced, if she used hypnotism.

The world is getting easier for the women. They can buy everything cooked, everything ready-made, and men are becoming more subdued every day.

An Acheson woman is so fond of writing notes that she sends one upstairs to her husband to tell him that breakfast is ready.

An Acheson woman gave a party recently at which there was to be no gossip or "criticism" of any one else. The guests left at nine o'clock in order to talk about the hostess at the next corner.

Another old girl in town has joined the Pitt-Pat society. This society's members are women whose hearts are not strangely at the approach of a man.—Acheson Globe.

OCOASIONAL SHOWERS.

The forecast of the weather bureau for Raleigh and vicinity says: Occasional showers tonight and Saturday. Unsettled weather continues throughout almost the entire country. Light rains occurred again at many widely scattered points; a heavy downpour of 2.36 inches occurred at Kansas City. Along the Atlantic coast showers fell from Florida to Maine. There is one pronounced depression north of the Lake region, while the barometer is high in the northwest and on the south Atlantic. No very high temperatures are reported anywhere.

AN INTERESTING EVENT.

A dispatch from Greensboro, N. C., says: "It is announced that Senior Lieutenant Archie Seales, United States Navy, will marry Miss Harriet Graham, of Brooklyn, at Bay Ridge on July 11. Lieutenant Seales is from Greensboro and is a nephew of A. M. Seales, who was Governor of North Carolina from 1880 to 1884 and brigadier-general in the Confederate service. Miss Graham is the daughter of Major-General William Graham, United States Army, who was brigadier-general on the Union side, and it is remembered by General Graham and Lieutenant Seales' people that the brigades of these two generals were closely engaged during almost the entire fight at Gettysburg. Lieutenant Seales has been recently appointed professor of mathematics at Annapolis."

Coroner—"Were there any marks about the deceased by which you would be able to identify him?" Witness—"Yes, sir. He stuttered."—Chicago Tribune.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

Important Recommendations of Fire Committee.

CHAIRMAN CORRELL'S REPORT

Rescue House to be Extended—City to Pay Each Company $100 per Annum—Other Improvements.

Tonight the Board of Aldermen will hold their regular monthly session. One of the most important matters which will engage their attention will be the recommendations of the Fire Committee. Chairman Correll is now chairman of this committee and he has an extremely important report for tonight. The recommendations made by this committee will without doubt be adopted.

Through Chairman Correll the committee will make the following recommendations:

1. That the Rescue house, situated between Fayetteville and Salisbury streets, just south of the jail, be remodeled and almost rebuilt because the committee desired that the building be extended back to Salisbury street and comfortable sleeping apartments arranged on stairs. These will be occupied by the drivers. The building will be two stories.

2. That the city appropriate to each of the five companies $100 per annum.

3. That three additional fire alarm boxes be put in, their location not yet decided.

4. That the Capital and Rescue hose wagons be painted and put in first class condition.

Chairman Correll says that the fire department of this city will be run on $5,500. This year, which is about half what it costs to run the fire department in other cities the same size as Raleigh in the South. Chairman Correll says that he finds all the fire companies houses, except the Rescue house, in first class condition.

Raleigh, without doubt, has the best volunteer fire department in the State. The citizens are justly proud of the department. Its continued excellence is due in no small measure to Chief Mahler, assistant Woodlett and the members of the companies.

INCONCEIVABLE ACROMONY.

We do not undertake to analyze the false and villainous concert of detraction aimed at Secretary Alger and maintained for more than a year past with sleepless industry. Enough for us to know that it has been inspired by an inconceivable acromony and kept alive through agencies of ignorance and prejudice and credulity that are as much out of place in this civilized era as the boomerang and the catapult would be in modern warfare. We hope, for the sake of the common race and country that those who have engaged in this astounding infamy will live to be ashamed of it.—Washington Post.

Grand is stretched in the hammock, With his legs hanging over in space; Grandpa is peacefully sleeping. With a newspaper spread on his face; Grandpa is making serenely. There is peace, I suppose, in his breast His hands are contentedly folded, And a wisp has just lit on his vest, The insect approaches his collar, It dillies a while here and there; Now it finds its way under the paper, And grandpa is up in the air. His legs are entwined with the branches, The buttons are torn from his vest, You can tell by his words and his actions That grandpa's no longer at rest. —Chicago Times-Herald.

ATTEMPTED TO ASSASSINATE EX-KING

Narrow Escape of Milan—Hot Pursuit—The Assailant a Discharged Fireman.

VIENNA, July 7.—A despatch from Belgrade says that in the attempted assassination of ex-King Milan yesterday the ex-King's cloak and another grazed his epaulette while Adjutant Labic, who was struck by the fourth bullet was seriously wounded.

Milan jumped into his carriage, drew his sabre, and pursued the would-be assassin through Kalamogden park. The man being hard pressed by the King, jumped into the river to save himself. Gendarmes put out in a boat and arrested him. The prisoner was formerly a member of the fire brigade, but was recently dismissed.

HIS FUNNY SAYINGS.

One of Cleveland's sudden rich citizens credited with a number of Malapropisms that would have filled Brinsley Sheridan's dear old lady with profound envy.

Some time ago a friend called his attention to a certain popular young doctor who sports a handsome beard.

"I wonder why Dr. Dash wears all those whiskers?" remarked the friend.

"I suppose he wears them," said the sudden-rich man in a profoundly sagacious tone, "to give himself a more manly look!"

Our hero saw Julia Harlowe as Rosalind and came away from the opera-house quite delighted.

On the street car a friend asked him how he liked the performance.

"It was splendid," he answered. Then he wisely added: "What a pity it is that that man didn't write some more plays!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

CRIMINAL COURT OFFICE.

Capt. Erwin Gives Way to Former Clerk Williamson.

It's Clerk Williamson again and ex-Clerk Erwin.

In obedience to a decision of the Superior Court, Capt. John R. Erwin, who was appointed clerk of the Criminal Court by Judge Dossey Battle, to succeed Mr. M. B. Williamson, clerk under Judge Sutton, yesterday turned over the office to his predecessor, Mr. Williamson, and then later took charge at once. The public is too familiar with the facts in the contest to need them to be re-stated. The court ruled that the change of courts did not change the clerks, and that the latter would not be legislated out of office until his term should have expired. Mr. Williamson's appointment holds good until 1901. Capt. Erwin served as clerk during one session of court.—Charlotte Observer.

WORKING HER WAY THROUGH COLLEGE.

A glimpse at a students' bulletin board with the eager group of girls scanning its advertisements affords much insight into the supply and demand that make it possible for the young woman to win in purse but fertile in invention to scant her dress in spite of adverse circumstances. The girl who has been instructed by her mother in the old-fashioned art of sewing mends clothes for her next-door neighbor and darning stockings at a "cent a hole." Another girl, who has the knack and who played milliner at home because she had to, finds her work at a premium, and perhaps even eric xziflffg xziflffg xziflffg even advertises an "opening" of really charming spring or winter hats. Another clever needle-woman, whose skill in always in demand, makes shirt waists in true tailor style and with the proceeds supplies her own wardrobe for an entire year. Sometimes a girl is clever at "making over," and can turn her hand to little jobs for which a dressmaker would charge more than their worth. One girl of my acquaintance made herself a reputation as a "packer," and when vacation came around found it a paying business. Another was famous for her "shampooes." There is newspaper correspondence, if one is literary, and there is always tutoring for those who have distinguished themselves in their classes. The athletic young woman can make a goodly sum by teaching her timid sisters to swim, skate or ride the wheel. A good dancing teacher can almost always form classes, and the girl who can play the banjo or guitar is likely to find pupils.—Harper's Bazar.

"Ma," remarked the small boy, "isn't it funny that everybody calls little brother a bouncing baby?"

"Why do you think it funny, William?" returned his mother.

"Because when I dropped him off the porch this morning he didn't bounce a bit. He just holered."—Tit-Bits.
