MAYOR ELECTED BY A SOW.

Where in this country was the mayor

Clected by a sow?

This used to be the case in the borough of Leicester an ancient borough by prescription. The candidates for the office of mayor Leicester having assembled. bled were required to sit in a semi-circle, each with his hat full of beans in his lap, and he was elected mayor from whose hat the sow ate first. Leicester was frequently visited by several of the Kings of England and other illustrions personages, chief among whom may be mentioned Cardinal Wolsey, who died within its walls, and was buried in its church. A somewhat simiburied in its church. A somewhat similar election custom prevailed at Grimsby, a calf being substituted for a sow. The burgesses of Grimsby having chosen three of their number as eligible for the position of mayor, the three were blindfolded, bunches of hay fied at their backs and then conducted to the company ways a calf anytical their mon pound, where a calf awaited their coming. He whose bunch of hay was first eaten by the calf was pronounced most worthy of the mayoralty, and ind in office accordingly.-London

WILL NOT MARRY DIVORCEES

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 9.-A man and a woman applied to a Methodist minister here last evening to be mar-ried. He looked at the license, discovered that the woman was a divorcee and refused to act. Then they went to a Baptist minister and were refused again. It was then ascertained that the Methodist, Baptist, Congregational, Presbyterian, Church of Christ and Trinity Lutheran clergymen of the city had held a private meeting a few days ago, at which they decided that only in cases in which the applicant is the unoffending party and has been granted divorce for Scriptural reasons will they perform the marriage ceremony. Congregational and Presbyterian ministers said that in the most treme cases they would officiate for other causes, but only after a rigid and thorough investigation, and that they would flatly refuse to marry strangers

CYRENE SPEAKS.

An Immense Crowd at Pullen Park Last Night.
The Cyrene Vaudeville Company appeared again last night and the crowd was even larger than on the previous night. There was certainly nothing the least vulgar or indecent in the per formance, and it was beartily enchored. However, the feature of the evening was a speech from Mr. Cyrene. In the course of his remarks he said that the company had presented their show at various places in this and other States, often for the benefit of Red Cross societies character. cieties, churches, Daughters of the Confederacy and hospital associations, and Releigh was the first place that the show had ever been denounced. He said that he and his wife had been greatly pained by the severe denunclation they received here. He stated that they had never lost an opportunity to aid charitable and religious work, the essence of his Christianity was to try to make people better and happier and in closing added: "If there is a single person here to-night who feels that his or her worals have been in the least degree tainted or lowered by attending to-night, then I beseech and beg of you never to come again." He was cheered to the echo by the eight or en hundred present.

DISPENSARY IN TROUBLE.

Greensboro, July 12.-From A. W. McAllister, the chairman of the dispensary board, to Wash Donnell, the ne-gro porter who sweeps the dispensary floor, every one connected with the dis pensary has been arrested for selling whiskey to a minor.

It all happened because J. H. Stack. a 19-year-old boy, got so blind, raking drunk on the Fourth of July that he was locked up in jail, and next morning said remorsefully that this miserdispensary liquor was solely responsible. J. F. Stack, his father. thereupon began looking for witnesses to his son's purchase of the whiskey, and today swore out the warrant for selling whiskey to a minor.

J. F. Stack says that his son is a dipsomaniae; that none of the former ber-keepers in town would sell him dring, and that his demoralization on the Fourth was due altogether to the evil allurements and easy acquiescence of the dispensary.

But the dispensary people tell another tale. They say that they did not sell the whiskey to young Stack, or at least that his name does not appear on the list of those who signed for the purchase of whiskey. "Of course we sell whiskey to stacks of Stacks," said Manager Bouldin to me, "but not to this Stack. His father, J. F. Stack, came in here to buy whiskey, but his drunken condition was such that I would not let him have liquor. came very ugly, and is probably having something to do with the prosecution.

Simple and Beautiful Ceremony Unites Miss Busbee to Mr. Thompson.

Promptly at half-past ten this morning the ceremony which united Miss Anna T. Busbee to Mr. Robert L. Thompson was solemnized in Christ Church by Rev. Dr. M. M. Marshall, The church was crowded by the friends and admirers of the bride and groom.

The beautiful ceremony of the Episcopal Church was performed in a simple and most impressive manner. Mr. Richard Busbee and Mr. Alf Thomp-son, Jr., brothers of the bride and groom, respectively, acted as ushers.

The bride and groom entered from the right aisle, while the two bride's maids, Miss Eliza Busbee, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Thompson, sister of the groom, entered by the opposite aisle

The bride was given away at the altar by her father, Mr. F. H. Busbee. The bride's maids were attired in white percale and carried clusters of carnations. The bride wore a neat traveling suit of brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were escorted by many of their friends to the station, where they took the train for New York, from whence they will sail for Bremen.

Mrs. Thompson will be greatly missed among her many friends in this city. Her friends showed a devotion which is rare, and may well be termed the highest tribute which character and worth can exact.
