After taking Calamba General Law ton ordered Capt. August 31st several of the office holders at the penitentiary will retire, among them Warden Thomas B. Russell, brother of the Governor, Chief Clerk Wimbish and Overseer Mott. The latter was in charge of the shirt factory while it was in operation, but has since been kept on duty as overseer. Mr. Wimhish has had a soft snap for several months-pay and no work at all. He could hold his place until his term expired, under the terms of the Supreme Court decision in the Day case,

Mr. Russell and Mr. Wimbish have both made many friends here who trust they may remain in Raleigh.

The editor of this paper feels under obligations for the many courtesies and kindnesses of Mr. Russell. He has been exceedingly clever and has never falled to put himself to trouble to give any information desired about the prison when it was in his power to secure it. MORMON MISSIONARY.

He is Investigating the Recent Georgia

Atlanta Aug. S .- Ben E. Rich, pres ident of the Southern States Mission of the Mormon church, with headquarters in Chattanooga, called on Governor Candler in regard to the recent mobbing of Mormon elders in Jasper county.

While the Governor has not been ask ed to investigate the mobbing of the elders in Jasper county, President Rich is hims if engaged in getting up all the information and evidence possible, the visit to the executive office being incidental to his work. While talking the matter over with the Governor, President Rich stated that there was much feeling against the members and teachers of the Mormon church because the people did not understand the mission of the elders and did not conceive of the great work that lay before them.

Rich said "The people of the South should not mob our elders on account of conditions of affairs which once existed in their church any more than they would like to be illtreated by the people of the North on account of the conditions which once existed in the South. The South had its trouble with the government; they met the government upon the battlefield and their cause was lost; then the days of reconstruction took place. We met our government in the courts of our land, our cause was also lost, and now let the days of reconstruction take Face with us; let our cause be handled by statesmen, instead of being settled by mob

He was asked by a Journal reporter if he intended to withdraw the elders from the State on account of the recent persecutions and replied:

"The Bible teaches that all who live godly in Christ Jesus must expect to meet with persecutions, and I can see no reason why the elders of our faith should cease from missionary work on account of the recent outrages."

President Rich said his interview with the Governor was very satisfactory indeed; that he found him to be a man who was not in sympathy with lawlessness and desired all the people of his State to enjoy the rights and liberties guaranteed unto them by the law. His recent proclamation plainly shows that he is not in sympathy with mob vio-

ANOTHER CALL

ROOT TO MAKE CALL

President Mckinly Convinced that the War Must be Closed Before the Presidential Campaign.

Washington, Aug. 7 -Secretary Root intends to close the campaign in the Philippines before the Presidential campaign opens. The President is tired out with the burden and wants to shift it. When Secretary Alger was in the department the President was consulted by Secretary Alger with everything, and his advice was sought in matters the most trivial. He has now a secretary self-reliant as any man who has held that position in many years. The President's friends say that he intends to leave the management of the Philippine campaign entirely to his secretary. He has made his expectations wants the war closed before the opening of the next raining season, and does the amount of rainfall last week was not care particularly how it is done as long as that result is accomplished. The means rest largely with Mr. Root.

Mr. McKinley seemed to think it would be bad polities to call for more troops and when finally he was forced to make the call he made it for ten regiments only. Now it is almost vertain that there will be another call before the December session of Congress, The President has shifted the responsibility. however, and the call will be Root's. not the President's. By degrees the President has learned that all politics are good politics which accomplish results, and so if it takes a hundred thousand men to put down the Filipinos before the next spring he will call out that number, the full quota allowed by the net of Congress in providing the provisional army.

Mr. Root has no idea of evading the responsibility that has been placed on him. He has entered upon his task in the most matter-of-fact way and seems careless of any criticism. He is going to fight the war in the Philippines as a business proposition, and what is more, he will not permit his policy to be torn to pieces in the cabinet room. He has already made it distinctly understood that he has no desire to interfere with the finances of the country, and in turn will expect to run his own department. Every member of the administration breathes freezer since Mr. Root to k charge. They all seem to feel that there is a master at the helm. He may disapoint them, but he has started well, chiefly by attending to his own business and letting other people's alone, a virtue not possessed by every member of the president cabinet.

The captain who desires to be released from custody on a frivolous charge is doubtless the same one who led his men into the Morehead camp with the probable expectation that they would be provided

In portions of Guilford Concord, Iredell, Rutherford, McDow ell and Mecklenburg counties, where not sufficient, crops suffered from the exceeding hot, dry weather of the past few days and need more rain; crops generally in the western section will by short. JUDGE MCRAE He is Highly Recommended for Univer sity Law School. To the Editor: Prominent among those mentioned to fill the vacancy now existing in the University Law School I see the name of Hon. James C. Mac-Rae of this city. It seems to me that no better man could be selected out of the lawyers of the State to fill this most responsible position. His attainments in the law, his long and varied experience as a practitioner and his eminent services upon the Superior and Suorome Court benches, are too well known to the people of the State to be extensively referred to here. But something more than a profound lawyer is needed to fill the important position in connection with which Judge MacRae is mentioned. Besides a profound knowledge of the law, a strict honesty; scholarly tastes; a kindly, genial gan, one who will take a personal interest in each student who comes under his directionthese are the essentials which must meet in the professor of law at the University. Judge MacRae combines all these qualities in the high-toned, Christian gentleman that he is. One has but to know him to love him, and the executive committee can render no greater service to the young men of the State than by selecting Judge MacRae to guide them, not only in legal lore, but to the making of North Carolina citizens that will be a credit to their State
