PICQUART HINTS de CLAM IS A TRAITOR

Col. Picquart's Evidence is Clear and Strong Explaining All-Dreyfus Denies Roget's Assertions Point Blank

Rennes, August 17.-M. Labori, advocate counsel for Dreyfus, is slightly worse this morning, and his fever continues to increase. Dr. Reclus says that he is weaker than yesterday. Labori

ROGET EXAMINED.

The prosecution in the Dreyfus court martial closed with the cross examination of General Roget this morning Roget refused to explain his course in relation to the Henry forgery, on the ground that by so doing he would be betraying the secrets of the military

Roget grew ver, cestive on the crossexamination, and especially about Ester-

DREYFUS' DENIAL. .

The prisoner rose after Roget's examination and emphatically denied point blank some of the general's evidence, and said that he never traced a map or any plan of concentration or mobilization, nor ever had any knowledge of the details of these movements, nor the plan for the distribution of various units throughout the departments.

BERTULUS FOR DREYFUS, Magistrate Bertulus made a strong case for the defense, and reiterate the conviction that Dreyfus Is an innocent

MME. HENRY'S SENSATION.

Suddenly, while Bertulus was speaking. Mme, Henry, without invitation, rushed to the stand and vehemently denounced Bertulus as the "Judus" and declared that her husband knew that Dreyfus was a traitor. The audience in the room laughed at her.

COL. PICQUART TESTIFIES.

Colonel Picquart then entered into a detailed account of his investigations F-terhazy plot.

Colonel Picquart's evidence was very clear and definite. He took up seriatim all the charges made against him, answering each in turn, whether the charge was involved in the Dreyfus case or

DE CLAM THE TRAITOR.

He analyzed the borderean clearly and forcibly, saying that if Dreyfus got the note about Madagascar, which is one of the items in the borderean, he was smarter than his chief, who had not at that time received it. He said that de Clam had made the Madagascar note. which had not yet reached the chief general staff when the bordereau was dis covered, and this bit of evidence, with the stress which Colonel Picquart lays upen it and the engerness of de Clam for the prosecution of Dreyfus suggest that Colonel Picquart believes that de-Clam was indirectly implicated in treason, but the witness did not put the charge in plain words.

INSURGENTS ATTACK

They Approach Angeles on a Train But Are Repulsed.

Manila, August 17 .- A force of five hundred Filipinos attacked Angelees and attempted to regain the town. They were, however, easily repelled. The Twelfth Infantry pursued the insurgents, capturing three of them. In attacking the town the insurgents approached it on a train drawn by we locomotives.

PHILIPPINE AGRICULTURE.

Secretary Wilson Sees Great Possibilities of Development.

Chicago, Aug. 15 .- Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson, who was in Chicago for a few hours yesterday on his way back to Washington from a Western trip, thinks the hilippine Inlands will supply the United States with just the sort of tropical area needed by this

Already the islands have figured valuably in the world's commerce, having almost a monopoly of the hemp product and being renowned for their peculiar dairy wealth of the islands may be greatly augmented, and thinks the great extent of upland should furnish plenty

The Secretary reports great prosperity everywhere in the West. He is impressed with the agfiricultural possibilities of the West, not the least with those of the regions considered semiarid and which will require irrigation to develop them. One of his pet schemes has been ten culture in the United States. The department has developed the plants at Washington city in great quantities and it proposes to distribute in favorable localities some 14,000,000 shrubs. It is the hope of the Secretary that some soils and climates will be found favorable to the culture.

The Secretary inspected lands in Washing and Oregon that have been overgraz d by cattle and neglected to such a degree that now they are practically a desert. The department has two experimental spots in Washington. one at Yakima, in which various grasses, both foreign and domestic, are being

DOGS RUN WILD

They Infest Swift Creek Town- Dr. Kranz and Dr. Buffaloe Visit

COMMIT DEPREDATIONS

Poultry and Hogs Killed - Attack a Colt Dr. Kranz Rezdily Picked Out Joyner as and a Helfer-Origin of the Gang of Outlaws.

Swift Creek township is now infested with wild dogs. They rove in bands throughout that section and considerable depradation to property has been com-

Rev. T. H. Bain, who has the Mace onia church, says that recently while he was at Mr. Cary Goodwins, the latter told him how the section was in flicted by these dogs. They can be heard almost every night running through the woods and fields. Recently about dusk Mr. Goodwin saw a pack of these wild dogs pursuing his colf through the meadow. He got his gun and fired on the pack, killing two, and Another gentleman in that section saw pack after a young heifer of his, and neceeded in killing two of them. Many have lost poultry and hogs from these wild dogs. The presence of these wild dogs is as ounted for by the fact that many colored people moved from that section a few years since and left their curs be-These dogs were driven from house to house until they have taken up in the woods. Their ancestors were every species of canine, ranging from pointer, bull dog and the wall-eyed ound to the bench-legged fice, but these dogs are reverting to the original wild species from which they are descended Mr. Goodwin not long since found nine puppies in an old hollow log in the woods like opossums. He caught the nine and carried them to his house, They were perfectly wild,

THE DANVILLE SENSATION. City Officials Denounce Report of Ex

port Boudar. Danville, Va., Aug. 15.-The City Council had a noisy meeting this afternoon. Most of the time was taken up expert accountant, whose report to the council reflecting upon the official integrity of sundry officers was made last Wednesday. Mayor Wooding submitted lengthy communication to the council, defending his office against the aspersions in the expert's report. He contends that the expert was ignorant of the law governing a mayor's office, hat his statements are misleading and untrue and concludes as follows: "I have thus gone over with some detail the criticism and suggestions of Mr. Boudar's report in order that you may understand that they were made by him without suf ficient investigation into the facts or which he relies, and the ignorance of the laws which control the Mayor in the discharge of his duties.

"I feel that the report does me, a Mayor, great injustice, while I am confident that the duties of my office have been discharged fully and faithfully un der the law and ordances of the city I shrink from no investigation by com petent and impartial men, and I sub mit that justice to me and yourselve requires that ou give o this statemen the same publiciy given o the Boudar

Green Williams, chief of police, sub mitted a similar paper, showing that the expert had treated him unfairly, and instead of being in arrears many dollars, as the expert reports, he really owes the city only 90 cents.

William Ayres, city collector, also submitted a strong paper, in which he maintains that every dollar of the city's unds which have ever passed through his hands has been paid into the treas ury. He denounces the expert's reporand demands full investigation.

The discussion in the council lengthy and at times warm. Some of the speeches were bitter. The entire community is wrought up over this affair, and opinion is divided. Much bad blood is being shown and the whole business may become a more or less excit-

THE MAJOR RETURNS.

Major Jack Sellers arrived in the city esterday drunk. He came up from Raligh, and it is said that the police of that city insisted on his leaving the town. The major was so full when he alighted from the train that he, in his hustle around through the crowd to greet his friends, came near running against a party of young ladies who were saying good-bye to a friend who was leaving the city. If Durham county has to be afflicted with the gay and gallant major and pay for his support he should be sent to the county home for treatment.

In view of the vast importance of the questions involved, the possibilities are that it will be some days yet before Judge McCarthy will announce his decision in the Salvation Army cases. Owing to the fact that be is at present engaged in disposing of criminal cases, Judge McCarthy bas not yet had opportunity of examining the scores of decisions and authorities submitted by counsel at the hearing on Mon-There was quite a gathering in court the decision would be handed down. yesterday of those who expected that the decision would be handed down. Mr. Graham was not in attendance, but there were a number of Salvationists and their sympathizers. Among these were the three lassies who are most directly interested-Lieutenants Ida Krewbeck, Adelaide Robins and Ada Sallis-

who were committed to prison in default . bail, and whose cases were the subject of the argument before the court on Monday. When told that it was bardly likely a decision would be rendered yesterday they seemed somewhat disappointed. Asked how the viewed the outcome, they inclined to the belief that the matter would be decided in their favor. All three of the girls involuntarily shuddered at the very thought of a return to the prison cell. They asserted with great earnestness that no one could realize much less appreciate, the agony and distress, both physically and mentally,

they had undergone during their two weeks' incarceration. Holding up a badly swollen hand, Lieutenant Robins said: "This is the result of my encounter with the ante at the prison. My entire body is in the same condition." She went on to say that she had been almost constantly under the care of a physician since regaining her liberty. While not in such n bad state physically as their companion, the other two girls said their experience he een practically the same. In taking | cir departure the girls said the uncertainty of the matter was very trying, and while they were not fearful of the result, still they would be glad if the entire thing was at an end.
