VIRGINIA'S EXAMPLE.

North Carolina lags behind nearly ev ery State in the Union in the estab ent of a reformatory for unfor tunate and offending youth. The need is certainly as great in this State as elsewhere, but year after year the matter is forced to give place to some ques tion of infinitely less importance. Our sister State of Virginia has just built a reformatory for negro youths.

"This new colored reformatory, which is located in Hanover county, and which will be opened in a few days, will be one of the most important movements for the improvement of the colored youthful criminals ever started in the South," says a dispatch from Richmond. "Governor Tyler and the penitentiary officials are taking a deep interest in this new institution. They believe with proper management this reformatory will do more toward the elevation and practical improvement of the young begroes now in the jails and n the State prisoners than anything yet attempted. The undertaking will be watched with interest by the people, not only in this, but those in other Southern States. If it shall prove a success, it is believed Mr. Huntington, through whose liberality this institution has been started. will give further and muchin more sub-

Huntington long for the day when North Carolina mie measures calculated to turn the unfortunate youths within her bor ders into useful citizens instead of en couraging and assisting them to become more accomplished criminals and hance a greater menace to soccty.

ALIVE TO THE QUESTION

Remarkable Experience of a Hobo a Cow Catcher. Chengo Inter-Ocea

"It was way back in the seventies, said an old engineer. "I was pulling the limited east from Council Bluffs to Chicago over the Rock Island. The night was bitterly cold. We had gone about twenty miles out and had stopabout twenty nales out and and stop-ped at a night office for orders, and had started up again, when the fireman reached over and said: There is a ho-bo on the pilot; saw him get on at the 'Sure?' I said. 'Go out on the running board and see if he's there yet.' The fireman did as he was ordered to do and returned with the information that the hobo was still there.
"Well,' said I, 'it's a bitter cold night, and if he can stand it out there I am willing he should ride with me. And on we went to Chicago, with No. 211' barking like sixty at the low joints a head and forgetful of our thead-end passenger on the pilot.

By and by, by the faint glummering of the headlight, I thought I saw ahead what seemed to be a bunch of cattle on the track. As we approached it the bunch seemed to grow larger. It was now too late to do anything, so just pulled her wide open and old No. 211 hit that bouch of kattle 'ko-bif.' To paraphrase the language of Tennyson, who glides into raptures of admiration over the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava, there was just simply cattle to the right of us, cattle to the left of us and cattle to the rear of us, but not any more in front of us. After it was over our thoughts reverted to the hobo on the pilot. 'Go out and see if he is still there.' I said."

"Well," said an old brakeman, under whose feet the frosts of many winters had crackled as he wended his way in the dark over many a long train of box cars and who had been listening to the story. "Well," said he, "was he killed?

"No," replied the engineer. "There he sat, as large as any hobo could sit, on the pilot with an oyster can milking one of those durned cows."

Mr. Oroker's interview knocked the wind out of Judge Van Wyck's presidentian boom, but the boss kindly sent word that the judge would be "taken care of." Will he also "ture care of" Bryan, if his suddenly conceived friendship should also burst the Bryan boom?"-Minne

MERCIER'S LAST RESORT.

General Mercierr seems to be so ratidly anti-Dreyfusard as to stop at nothing, however mean or degrading, to se-cure the conviction of his vict m. On the stand be was more of an accusermohe of presecuting counsel and judges combined—than of a witness who con-ceived that his whole duty lay in testing the truth and leaving to others, pre-sumably disinterested, the task of interpreting it for or against the prisoner, as they thought fir. It may be that the court has unde up it mind to convict Dreyfus, and that Mer cier knows what he is talking about when he says that in ten days or a fortnight the prisoner of Devil's Island shall have once more been condemned If this is so the trial at Rennes is simply an infamy.-Philadelphia Times.

"He is Wise Who Talks But Little."

This is only a half truth. If wise men had held their tongues, we should know nothing about the circulation of the blood.
