A HOME PLAY.

The most truthful and picturesque of the American home plays, "Shore Acres," continues to grow in popularity from year to year, and the profits gained through this work have brought the author, James A. Herne, independence. This work has often been compared to the poems of James White and Kilby, for, like them, it expresses by indirection just like those, its deepest feelings.

POLICE AND STRIKERS HAVE A CLASH.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 10.—There was a clash today between the police and Cramp Ship Yards strikers. Five of the leaders have been arrested.

LET'S CELEBRATE IT

Make Presentation of Rancey Library An Event

IN HONOR OF GENEROUS DONOR

Mr. Rancey is One of the Most Useful Class of Philanthrosts—Handsome $25,000 Building Soon to be Presented to City of Raleigh—How Citizens Can Help.

In a few months the handsome and costly Oliver Rancey Library building will be completed. It will be a fitting ornament to one of the most important locations in one of the most important thoroughfares of our beautiful city, in that it will form one of the most attractive structures architecturally, and its interior provides one of the best arranged and most elegant libraries to the city, an honor to the good man who provides it and a fitting monument to the lovely and sainted woman whose name it bears, and whom so many of our people know in life to adore and love.

It is both fit and proper that the occasion of this presentation should be made a formal event of importance in which the city of Raleigh and our people could properly manifest their high appreciation of so rare and valuable and acceptable a gift, and in a sense impress in the generous donor the deep gratitude which we all feel and the lasting obligation which he places upon us.

The R. B. Ranceys of this world are all too rare to permit an opportunity like this to close our appreciation of such citizens to pass unnoted by.

We had something of the same nature in the Raleigh Christian Advocate of this week, from which the following extracts are taken. The suggestion of Brother Eyer about the contribution of volumes as a means whereby others can assist in bringing the library of books up to a large sphere of usefulness, is a good one.

The purpose for which the building is intended should commend it to every citizen as of incalculable value, for it will remain a perpetual monument to the public-spirited man who makes the gift, and a blessing to the rising generation who may desire to improve their minds.

There are, comparatively, few real philanthropists, men who, for the sake of doing good of a permanent character, spend their money that others whom they never know, may be benefited by the act. We can class Mr. Rancey as one of the three men of Raleigh who have indelibly impressed their memory upon the hearts of a grateful people. We allude to the late Standish Pollen and A. E. Page, whose generous donations—one to the city, the other to the Methodist Orphanage will forever remain as monuments of their love to their fellow-citizens.

In token of our gratefulness to Mr. Rancey, we think a public recognition of his gift to the city should, at the proper time be made, to show that we are not insensible to the large liberality of those who, without recompense, expend their means for the general welfare. We would suggest to those who appreciate good literature, and desire to have the library filled with good books, to donate one or more books, so that at the opening of the library, the shelves may be well filled.

COMING.

Opening on Monday next at the Academy of Music the "Merry-Makers" will begin a week's engagement in the Aker, some of our finest comedies, "Zetan," "The Sultan's Daughter," Anna Viola Ritter, the star of this attraction, will make her first appearance in this city, having been a feature with some of the leading attractions for the past twelve years.

Mrs. Nora Fowler, wife of Rodney Fowler, of this city, who died last night, was buried at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The funeral occurred at the late residence of the deceased and was attended by a number of friends of the family.

The services were conducted by Rev. E. C. Glenn, pastor of Central M. E. Church.

STOLE TWO SETS OF HARNESS

Money Perry Captures $46 Worth of Horse Equipment and Sells it for One Dollar.

Money Perry is in trouble again, and if the charges against him are proved at the trial this evening, when Mayor Powell will hear them, Money is likely to get a term in the State's prison this time, instead of the county workhouse as has been the custom with him.

Money, the police authorities say, is one of those characters who appears to find it impracticable or undesirable to keep out of trouble and prison. One of his recent exploits figured in a spoiled beef case and the police and Mayor are often required to look after the negro.

Early this morning Money went to the rear of Ralston Crawford's place of business on Fayetteville street, within city yards of the police station, and carried off a set of new harness belonging to Mr. Ed Crawford.

The property was not soon after and a search instituted, with the result that before noon the harness was both discovered, at Dixon and Dixon's bar, on Blount street, near the rear of Martin's—the three in a dilapidated state of disrepair.

Money had carried his illegitimate goods to this place and "sold" them for the small sum of one dollar and a bottle of whiskey, it is said. At any rate, he had the liquor and the greater portion of it when the officers found him was concealed "under his shirt."

Another set of harness, belonging to W. K. Sewell, who works at Crawford's hardware shop, was also missed the day before. This harness cost $36, but was not new. The police were looking for it when the loss of the second harness was reported to them. Both were stolen from the same premises. This was found in the possession of John Dixon, who had got it from Money Perry for an insignificant sum of money. The harness was also recovered.

It is said that the negro was paid less than $2 for both sets of harness, valued at $34 when new, and easily worth $25 to $30 now.

Money was so drunk at 1 o'clock that he could not be given a hearing, and he is now in the station house where the police will keep him until he gets sober enough for a preliminary trial, the result of which, this evening or tomorrow morning, will be his confinement in default of bond to stand trial in the Superior Court.

THE COWLES SUIT.

Against Raleigh Electric Railway Post-poned 14th February Term of Inferior Court.

The action brought some time ago by Col. "Andy" Cowles, now "Carter" Cowles and who thinks he would have been appointed a "brigadier" had not his leg been broken when it was against the Raleigh Electric Company, will not be tried at the present term of Inferior Court as anticipated.

The news from Statesville is to the effect that it will be tried at the February term of the Superior Court there, the home of the plaintiff, Messrs. R. O. Burton and R. T. Gray, of this city, representing the defendant company and have prepared the answer to the complaint of the plaintiff which he claims, among other claims for damages, that for the breaking of his leg he would, or probably would, otherwise be a p. slave of his own state as to which he has been appointed a brigadier general by President McKinley some time after the accident, etc.

INCREASED CAPITAL STOCK

Paragon Pharmacy of Asheville Now Has a Capital of $50,000

The charter of the Paragon Pharmacy Company was yesterday, through application to the Secretary of State, amended so as to increase the capital stock from $15,000 to $50,000, and the division of shares to be made at the rate of $50 per share. The principal place of business of the company is Asheville, N. C., and Mr. Roy C. Stewart is president.

MORMON TEMPLE IN LOUISVILLE.

Mormonism has found the fertile soil of old Kentucky a fine place for its growth, and in the near future Louisville will become the centre of operations in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana for the church founded by Joseph Smith. A large sum of money has been raised for the purpose of building a temple. It is to be used not only as a temple, but also as a place of worship for the adherents of the creed in this city, but also as the central point from which missionaries will be sent into other parts of the three States mentioned. It is proposed to build the temple in the central portion of Louisville, so as to be convenient to all. Elder Scott has been conducting a mission in the southern part of the city for the past three or four years, and members of his church have held meetings at their own homes until now the membership is quite large, and consists of some of the best-known residents of the southern part of the city. The doctrine, as taught by those professing the faith in this city, is that preached by Joseph Smith, who founded the church in 1830 at Palmyra, Louisville Courier-Journal.

RECITAL.

On Thursday evening, the 11th instant, a recital will be given at the First Baptist church. No admission will be charged, but a silver offering taken. The proceeds to be devoted to the Ladies Improvement Society. A musical treat is promised to those who attend.

Tomorrow, Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, the... Pink Lester is in the station house on an old charge of disorderly conduct, and unless he pays his fine will be sent to the county workhouse. A charge of larceny of chickens from Mr. Moses Wood was also preferred against Pink, but the prosecutor withdrew the charge, and without his evidence the defendant could not be convicted.

Secretary Brown, of the Agricultural Department, is still in the west, conducting the special commission of apples and other products at the North Carolina fair exhibition at the State Exposition. However, he may return home tomorrow.

New carpets were yesterday put down in the Auditor's office. The Commissioner of Labor is to be similarly treated by the State, and the Commissioner of Labor is presiding in his newly created office. The State Librarian is a new carpet and some items to improve and beautify the appearance of things. Librarian Sherwell does not look for a new floor covering this winter, however, he says.

In a pleasure to learn that the city will take active steps to prevent walks in front of property where the owners, after full notice, have refused or failed to do so. The cost will be charged up against the property and collected as the city tax area. The best method of doing this will be used.

Mrs. R. T. Arthur, who has been visiting her son, Mr. C. D. Arthur, returned to her home at Mecklenburg City today. Sheriff N. M. Jones of Warren county, left this morning.

Mr. R. H. Lewis left this morning for Goldsboro, where by special request he will deliver an address to the Women's Club of that place this afternoon on the subject of Suffrageism.

Mr. G. Rossiquel returned to the city this morning. Judge W. S. Orr, Robinson came in this morning. Roy, Mr. Hines, of Philadelphia, who has been visiting Mr. W. H. Worth, returned home this morning.

Mr. T. B. Mealy left this morning on a short business trip. Prof. Holmes returned to the city this morning.

Eighty matrons of the Academy Saturday at 2:24 of "Shore Acres." Admission to laster show 50c, gallery 25c. Doors will open at 2 o'clock. A new sidewalk is to be laid in front of Duhan's by the city, granite paving in it and the contractor has already been given the order. The cost will be charged up against the property on the tax collector's bill, as the owners, have persistently refused or failed to put down a suitable pavement after being repeatedly notified by the city authorities.

The Corporation Commission is now engaged in a consultation as to the terms of this agreement, but nothing of importance was available for members who called. Tomorrow is the last day of the present term of Wake Civil Court.

D. J. Thomas, of Statesville, is now with the Lewis Hardware Company of this city, and will be glad to see his friends.

Annual Chrysanthemum show next Monday. Baptist Tabernacle has "withdrawn fellowship" from Dr. Bailew, although his case is appealed to the Supreme Court and he was not present at the church meeting, having asked that action be deferred until the Supreme Court had passed on his case. In other words, he has been "turned out of the church."

The old stories on upper Fayetteville street now being removed to make room for the new Vass Building, are among the very oldest on that street. LOCAL BRIEF. News reached friends here today of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Phifer Gibson, of Concord, widow of the late Dr. Edw. R. Gibson, aged 87 years. She was a most excellent woman. Mr. N. A. Page, of Guilford, also died yesterday.

Case of S. A. L. Against Corporation Commission Set for that Date in This City.

The important case of the Seaboard Air Line's appeal from the decision of the Corporation Commission, will be heard in this city on Dec. 11th by Judge A. M. Lee.

This is the result of an order drawn today by order of the Superior Court, a jury trial having been waived and it being agreed by counsel that the judge should hear and pass upon all issues of fact as well as law.

The case is entitled Raleigh and Gaston Railway vs. Corporation Commission. According to the ruling of the Commission all the roads constituting the Seaboard Air Line "system" are parties to the suit. The Commission having decided that they constitute one road or company of a system and that freight rates shall be governed thereby.

The railroad people attach much importance to the ultimate result of the hearing, as it affects seriously the freight rates charged by the several roads of the S. A. L. at present.

The following other cases were disposed of: John B. Kenney vs. J. B. Habbitt, Judgment dismissing appeal. S. M. D. Pate, treasurer State of North Carolina vs. The Cooperative Bank of North Carolina, Judgment non suit. E. E. Swears vs. Raleigh Water Company, Order allowing amendment to complaint.
