

PUT UP THE SWORD.

I have sung of the soldier's glory
As I never shall sing again;
I have gazed on the shambles gory,
I have smiled of the slaughter-pen.

There is blood in the ink well dotted,
There are stains on the laurel leaf,
And the pages of Fame are blotted
With the tears of a needless grief.

The bird is slaughtered for fashion,
And the beast is killed for sport;
And never the word compassion Is whispered at Moloch's court.

For the parent soul in the water Is slain, and her child must die,
That some sister or wife or daughter
Her beauty may beautify.

And the merciful thought was smothered
For such is the way of man;
As we murder the needless mother
For the "modern-astrakhan."

For the season of rest comes never
For the race's sport of air;
Will His patience endure forever,
Who watch a sparrow's fall?

When the coils of hell are sweeping,
The sea and the battle plain,
Do you think that our God is sleeping,
And never to wake again?

When lightning and ravenous fever
Are slaying the wasted frame,
Shall we worship the red devils,
The devil that men call Fate?

We may suffer the cancer disease
The order of death in the God asks us, over and over:
"Where is thy brother, Cain?"

DISCOVERED BY A WOMAN.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Because fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she confined incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night; and for two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." "I write
