NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved: That after January 1 I'll computer every evil habit, And if one shows its ugly head, Directly through the heart I'll stab it.

Resolved: That lying is a view-All mortalists alike decry it, Henceforth I will not tell a lie Unless I can make something by it.

Resolved: That gossipping's a crime To be condemned with censure icy. Hereafter 1 will tell no tales. Unless they're singularly spicy,

Resolved: Taat robbery is sin And so I will not role my neighbor In any way that might involve A term in prison at hard labor,

Resolved: That I will go to church, (Unless some other occupation Secure more attractive at the time.) And so enfrance my reputation.

Resolved: In short, that I will be A mortal man, as some men view it, And when the path of virtue lures, That I will zealously pursue it! Summerville (Mass.) Journal.)

It is said that the telephone service in Raleigh will, during this year, be kept up to a high standard, and for this the public gives extra thanks with interest.

The city fathers will again tonight discass water rents and city ownership. The meeting, therefore, will be of vital interand the citzens of Raleigh, and the action of each member of the Bourd of Alderman will be carefully watched.

Merchants doing business in Rabigh say there was never before such large sales hamediately artor Christmus, and that this is taken as an indication that the large sales in the fall were not altogether on account of Christmas, but evidence of a decided increase in the aver age business here.

The State Bar Association, as stated in The Lines-Visitor yesterday, will hold its annual meeting for 1900 in Asheville on June 27th. Members of the Raleigh Bar will ask the State Association to meet in Raleigh in 1901. It is to be hoped that Raieigh will be given an opportunity to do herself proud. No town in the State has such an able loggregation of legal lights, or is more popular with the members of the profession generally in North Carolina.

It is encouraging to the Raleigh Electrie Company as well as to the public generally to know that the bill for Decomber lights, though not for half the amount possible, is many times as great as for the month previous, when the city as for the month previous, when the city was in after darkness so many nights.
