BRILLIANT DASH FOR POSITION

Boers and British Strive for the Same Place

NEW ZEALANDERS WON THE RACE

Boers Retired Towards Colesburg— Volunteers Leaving London are Given an Enthusiastic Farewell.

London, Jan. 13.—A strong force of British troops advanced this morning under the cover of a brisk artillery fire and encamped at Slinger's Point on the Boers' "east flank." The Boer patrol retired, but subsequently a body of Boers attempted to seize the position, which commands communication between the British encampment and Colesburg. The British New Zealanders made a brilliant dash, outran the Boers, seized the position and fired volleys into the enemy, who then retired in the direction of Colesburg.

$500,000,000 WANTED.

London, Jan. 13.—The Sun reports a further war credit of twenty million pounds will be asked from parliament as soon as it assembles on January 30th.

London, Jan. 13.—The first five hundred volunteers started for South Africa this morning. Despite the early hour they were jammed by people enthusiastically giving them a farewell. The people broke through the lines, the police being too few to keep order along three miles line.

London, Jan. 13.—A lady's maid despatch says that it is certain that the Boers who are now holding Mount Hlangwani, are now quite isolated, as their bridge over Tugela river must have been carried away.

Victoria, Jan. 13.—The Canadian Government has accepted British Columbia's offer of a company of mounted scouts for service in South Africa.

THRIPLE WAR

Russia Foresees Conflict Between France, Germany and England

St. Petersburg, Jan. 13.—Diplomats here assert that the differences between France, Germany and England are far more acute than are apparent on the surface, and that the danger of a great war between the powers grows daily. In order not to be caught napping, the czar of Russia has quietly mobilized an army of a quarter of a million, which has already been sent from Tiflis to Baku, on the western coast of the Caspian Sea. Ultimate destination is undoubtedly of Afghanistan.

NAME OF STEAMER STILL UNKNOWN

Every one Perished on the Vessel Wrecked in St. Mary's Bay

St. Johns, Jan. 13.—The name of the steamship wrecked in St. Mary's Bay is still unknown. It is known that every person on board perished. Many bodies were washed ashore, but no estimate will yet be made as to the total number who perished. It is not yet known for certain that she carried passengers, but the evidence that she did is due to the finding of a trunk containing women's apparel.

REBELS ROUTED

Manila, Jan. 13.—A battalion of Cuban troops routed the Sultan rebels in the Caba mountains. Considerable ammunition and a smooth bore cannon was captured. Four Americans were wounded.

ADMISSION TO EXECUTION

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 13.—The criminal to be executed at Juarez in a few days will be shot inside the walls of the prison. An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged all desiring to witness the execution. The money will go to the condemned man's widow.

DON'T MISS IT.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you," is an old and true saying, and if you want to realize a proof of it just pay a visit to the Academy of Music on Wednesday, January 17th, and see "Side Tracked." You may not find all the world there, but you will find as many as can be accommodated, and you will certainly find all laughing with you, for "Side Tracked" is one of the greatest mirth-provoking comedy productions now before the public. The play abounds with the latest catchy music, bright sparkling and ludicrous situations, all of which create fun from start to finish. Don't miss it. Manager Rivers states he can safely recommend this company, having made a distinct hit last season and highly endorsed by the local press.

BANKER STILLMAN'S GENEROSITY.

From the New York World.

Financiers who have suffered through his immense power may not like James Stillman, but the clerks in his bank, the National City, have a profound regard for him.

Soon after Mr. Stillman became president of the bank he established a provident fund. This fund is destined to support the clerks in old age. Each one who when he becomes incapacitated for work will be retired and the salaries paid him will be sufficient to live comfortably and yet save sufficient to give them a competence in old age. As banks are compelled to prohibit their employees from engaging in outside enterprises Mr. Stillman believes that the institutions should provide for them in old age.

ORPHANAGE WILL BE BUILT AT ONCE

Plans Accepted and Contract to be let in Two Weeks.

The committee in charge of the matter of erecting the first of the cottages of the Cottage System, which is to be the nucleus of the Methodist Orphanage in this city, have accepted the plan of Messrs. Pearson & Ashe, architects, and within a week the working plans will have been completed and ready for the contractors.

The plans as accepted call for a two-story building, with eight rooms, two of these dormitories fitted for accommodation of fifteen children each, and the others class rooms, day rooms, storage rooms, teachers' rooms and bath rooms.

All modern improvements are to be placed in the building, which is to be erected at a cost of about $10,000, and is to be completed about the middle of the summer. The building will not be furnished until just prior to the opening of the orphanage in the early fall, when Rev. John W. Jenkins, of the Methodist church at Smithfield, will assume charge of the orphanage.

The contract for the erection of the first of the cottages will be let on Thursday, the 26th of this month, at which time the bids will be opened. The plans of Messrs. Pearson & Ashe are the same that were submitted by them at the recent competition, when the plans of other firms were thrown out on account of their failure in making the building of cost within the figures authorized by the Building Committee in charge for the Methodists.

BACHELOR POISONING CASE

Agnes Utley Now on Trial for Attempted Poisoning.

In the Superior court today the case of Agnes Utley, charged with attempt to poison R. C. Bachelor with intent to kill, has occupied the entire day.

The only new witness of importance not introduced at the preliminary trial, was Pat W. A. Wilcox, whose testimony regarding the composition of needles, did not aid the prosecution, but whose cross-examination provided amusement for the court room.

The afternoon session was also devoted to hearing testimony.

Mr. J. C. L. Harris and Solicitor Don argued the case before the jury for the State and Mr. Moses Bledsoe for the defendant.

At 4:30 the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

SNOW LUMBER CO.

Located at High Point with a Capital of $100,000.

High Point will have a $100,000 lumber company. Articles of agreement were today filed with the Secretary of State by E. A. Bennett, E. A. Snow and J. E. Kirkman, of High Point, and R. P. Dalton, of Greensboro, for the incorporation of the "Snow Lumber Company" with principal place of business at High Point and capital stock of $100,000 for the purpose of dealing in lumber.

SPICEY SOCIAL SCRAP

Mrs. Butler Claims Precedence Over Mrs. Vance in Official Society.

News from Washington tells of an interesting little social scrap that is now being discussed in the North Carolina Society, and in which the greatest interest has been taken for a number of reasons, by no means least of which is the fact that one party to the dispute has never before made any pretensions at leading the social bandwagon.

The trouble that has caused such gossip among the members of the North Carolina Society and which has aroused the Tarheel Colony in the National Capital arose from the making of the plans for the Robert E. Lee hall, given Friday night in Washington, and for which spacers from the various Southern States were taken from the highest quarters, ever with regard to the social standing already taken by the chosen representatives.

Mrs. Vance, widow of the late Senator Zebulon Baird Vance, has been at the head of the Lee banquet affair so far as the State of North Carolina is concerned, and she proceeded to extend certain invitations to others to join her and make the North Carolina end of the function equal, if not surpass, that of any other of the Southern States represented. But she did not invite Mrs. Senator Butler, and in fact Mrs. Senator Butler did not wish to be invited by Mrs. Vance, intimating that she, being the wife of the retiring Senator from this State, has precedence over all others, and that the duties which have been assumed by Mrs. Vance were not hers by right of precedence.

Mrs. Senator Butler has the distinction of being Vice-President of the North Carolina Society, and with the title she feels should go the privilege of performing the chief duties of an invitation committee. Mrs. Vance having been selected as the chief representative of the State in the matter of Lee Hall, evidently thought otherwise, and here the matter stands.

The women of the North Carolina Society are in a jumble. It is a hen affair and the men from the State are taking absolutely no part in the discussion. Senator Butler does not connect publicly himself with the matter which so intensely interests Mrs. Butler, though he did, as did all other Southerners, lend his assistance to make the affair a success.

Parties interested say that Mr. William T. Bowen is a young man of high moral character and is prepared to give any bond that the court may deem necessary.

SECOND ADVANCE

Product of Hosiery Mills 10 Per Cent Higher

MEETING IN ALANTA

Mr. S. A. Ashe, Jr., Attended—North Carolina Mills All Heple.

Mr. S. A. Ashe, Jr., of the Raleigh Hosiery mill, attended a meeting of the Southern Hosiery Association in Atlanta Thursday evening. Mr. Ashe is an officer of this association at this meeting the price of hosiery manufactured in the Southern States was advanced 10 per cent. Representatives from 22 mills were present. The reason for the advance is the general increase in the prices of material and labor within the past few months. Notwithstanding the fact that the price of hosiery has been advanced 20 per cent in the last sixty days the manufacturers claim that they are still behind the advance of 33 1/3 per cent in yarn made some months ago. They state that it was absolutely necessary to increase the prices in order to make anything. The aggregate amount of production of the mills represented at the meeting is 12,000 dozen hose per day. The capital invested in these mills is something over $2,000,000.

Mr. D. G. Sutherland, of the Pelham, S. C. mills, was elected to succeed President Ballard.

Besides making an advance in prices, the meeting also adopted a uniformity of terms for selling their goods. Beginning with February 1 prices will be net on all goods sold on thirty days' time less 2 per cent for cash in ten days.

A resolution urging the United States not to ratify the pending reciprocity treaty between the United States and Germany was unanimously adopted by the meeting.

Those present at the meeting, according to the Atlanta Journal, were:

J. J. Littlejohn, of Jonesboro, N. C.; Dr. Morrow, of the Nashville Hosiery mills; P. Kohn, of the Standard Machine company, Philadelphia; N. O. Banks, Greenville Hosiery mills; P. H. Southcott, of the Marietta Knitting mills; G. G. Sutherland, of Pelham mills; Pelham, S. C.; Charles C. Crawley, of the Harrison-Crawley company, Barnwell, S. C.; E. C. Wilcox, of the Trion Hosiery mills, Durham, N. C.; E. R. Neimiger, of the Hart Manufacturing company, East Rock, Ga.; V. Ballard, of the Pelham Hosiery mills, Durham, N. C.; A. Andrews, Jr., of the Richmond Hosiery mills; S. H. Wiley, of the Salisbury Hosiery mills, Salisbury, N. C.; J. F. Taylor, of the Orion Knitting mills, Kingston, N. C.; H. Dutton, of the Standard Manufacturing company, Athens, Ga.; J. J. Nash, Marietta Knitting company, Marietta, Ga.; S. A. Ashe, Raleigh Hosiery mills, Raleigh, N. C.; P. J. Duffin, Gate City Hosiery Knitting mills, Atlanta; Sam Sibley, Union Point Knitting mills, Union Point, Ga.; and T. Snyder Smith, of Atlanta.

COURT POSTPONED

Small Pox Prevented Term in Surry County.

Governor Russell had ordered a special term of court in Surry county at Mt. Airy to begin next Monday. Judge Shaw to preside, but the Governor today received a communication from Judge Shaw and others asking for a postponement on account of small pox there. Gov. Russell accordingly granted a postponement.

FIDELIA CLUB OF MOBILE

Messrs. Pearson & Ashe have revised word from the Fidelity Club of Mobile, Ala., stating that their plans for the new club building, which were recently accepted from the number who competed in the open competition, have arrived and that the club will at once proceed to let the contract. This new club house is to cost about $30,000 and Mr. Ashe stated today will have the most elegant club rooms and one of the most elegant ball rooms in the South. The ball room floor will be of one-quarter inch flooring laid edge-wise. The winning of this competition is a feather in the cap of these enterprising architects, whose designs, as those of all others, were submitted without the names of the architects to influence decision on the part of any member of the Fidelity Club.

The forecasts of the Weather Bureau for Raleigh and vicinity says: Fair to night; fair, warmer Sunday.

The small amounts of precipitation reported from Atlantic stations this morning occurred yesterday. In general, the weather is fair in the central valley.

SEABOARD EXTENSION

Vice Pres. St John Speaks About the Work

PETERSBURG CONSOLIDATION

Work on Ridgeway Short Cut—Completion of the Trestles Alone Remains to be Done in South Carolina.

President John Stetson Williams and Vice President and General Manager St. John of the Seaboard Air Line system are in Baltimore on business connected with their railroad. Commenting on the work that is being done to connect the various lines that will be included in the greater Seaboard system Mr. St. John said today a portion of the Baltimore News:

"Construction of the extensions is progressing as favorably as could be expected considering the difficulty we are experiencing in obtaining material. Grading has been finished and we are laying track at the rate of about 4 1/2 miles a day. The 50 miles between Cheraw and Columbia, S. C., which connect the Seaboard Air Line and the Florida Central and Peninsular have been completed, as has also the extension between Ridgeway, N. C., and Petersburg, Va. Work on the extension north of Petersburg is being pushed with all possible haste.

"I have no doubt that track-laying on the system extension will be completed by February 1, but I am uncertain about the bridges. There are five of these structures, some of which are far advanced, but we are having considerable difficulty in obtaining material in their construction as promptly as we would like. These bridges will span the James river at Richmond, the Appomattox at Petersburg, the Meherrin south of that city, the Coanoke at Columbia and the Watauga near Camden.

"The completion of these bridges means the completion of the Seaboard Air Line, the Georgia and Alabama, the Florida Central and Peninsular, the South Carolina, the Richmond, Petersburg and Carolina and the other properties that will form the greater Seaboard system. I hope we will be in shape to begin the operation of through trains between New York and Florida by February 1, but if there is a delay it will be due to the failure to complete the bridges in time. The roadbed of the new system will be second to none in the United States. The distance between New York and Florida by way of the Seaboard system will be considerably shorter than by way of any competing line.

"The system has been financed by Southern institutions and capitalists and will be managed by gentlemen whose interests are mainly in that section. Many obstacles have been placed in our way by interested parties, but we have successfully overcome them all, thanks to the friendly interests shown in our plans by the people of Baltimore and farther South. The people of the South fully realize what the new system means for that section, and that is why they have supported our cause. The greater Seaboard system will do all in its power to attract outside capital to the South, and will be ever watchful of the interests of that section."

VICTORY FOR THE SEABOARD.

Dispatches were received by Messrs. Middendorf, Oliver & Co., and others in Baltimore from Richmond today saying that both houses of the Virginia Legislature had passed the bill authorizing the Richmond, Petersburg and Carolina Railroad Company to consolidate with other companies. The bill now goes to the governor, and if he approves it no additional legislation will be needed in that State to carry out the consolidation of the various roads in Virginia that will be included in the Seaboard Air Line railway company. This is considered a great victory for the interests behind the proposed consolidation, as the measure was vigorously opposed by Mr. Thomas E. Ryan and his friends.

GREATER SEABOARD SYSTEM.

According to reports from the South, work upon the various extensions that are being built to connect the Seaboard Air Line, Georgia and Alabama and Florida Central and Peninsular, which will form the greater Seaboard system, is progressing rapidly. The trestle over the Meherrin river in South Carolina has been completed and a construction train passed over it on yesterday night. Track laying has been pushed night and day until Columbia is reached. There connection will be made with the South Bound railroad which was acquired by the Williams-Middendorf syndicate when it secured the Florida Central and Peninsular. A large force is also working upon the extension between Petersburg and Richmond, the line between Ridgeway, N. C., and Petersburg already having been completed and accepted. The delay heretofore has been the inability of the company to secure calls and other material as promptly as it is expected, but this obstacle has been overcome to an extent and the promoters expect to have the new line open within a few weeks.

HANGING AT REIDSVILLE

Stratton's efforts will be made, it is learned, to induce Governor Russell to commute the sentence of a man to be hanged at Reidsville January 29th. C. O. McMichael, Esq., attorney for the condemned man, is now presenting petition and evidence to present to the Governor in the case.

Webster's Weekly, speaking of the case, says:

"If Millard Bonsum, who is under sentence of death for rape, is executed the 29th instant, it will be the first legal hanging that has taken place in Rockingham county in eighteen years. Two men and a woman, all colored, were hanged for murder January 12th, 1882. The hanging took place near the post house and was witnessed by a large crowd. Sam Seales, an old negro, was convicted of arson several years ago and sentenced to pay the death penalty, but was respited by Governor Seales and died in jail before the sentence of the court could be executed. It is only two weeks from tomorrow till the day set for Bonsum's execution will arrive."
