Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 2.-Governor Goebel passed a comfortable night and his condition is considered better. His respiration decreased and is more regular, and his pulse is slower. Dr. Welsh said this morning that he wished to hold out no hopes for recovery since he considered it hardly a possibility, but he could say that the man is at least holding his own Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 2,-Goebel will have to undergo an operation, very soon. The removal of congulated blood in

The object of the new order is to prevent any civilian from serving any legal papers upon Governor Taylor. Papers have been prepared today. The Legislature will ask Judge Cantrill of the Fiscal court to issue an injunction, restraining Governor Taylor from interfering with any proceedings of the Legislature. PROTEST TO McKINLEY.

Washington, Feb. 2 .-- A Kentucky delegation consisting of Senator-elect J. C. Blackburn, Representatives Rhea, Allen and Gilbert, and ex-Representative Thompson called on President McKinley this morning to protest against any Federal intervention in that State.

The Kentuckians said that Federal interference would be sure to result in serious trouble, as the first movement of troops would cause an uprising that would not easily be quelled.

Senator Blackburn, when he left the President said that their interview had been entirely satisfactory.

Next Friday evening the International Grand Operatic Company will be here, and the event will be the talk of the city for a long time to come. The program will consist of the second act of Romeo and Juliet (Balcony Scene), the fourth act of Trovatore followed by a complete performance of Cavalleria Such a musical treat as is promised will doubtless draw a large au-

Kentuckians From all Sections City Holds no Deed for Present Market House Site-Papers Destroyed in City Hall Fire-Interest Intense in Tonight's Meeting.

The Board of Aldermen will meet to-The Board of Aldermen will meet to-night for the last session during the fis-cal year 1899-1900, though the meeting that will wind up the business of the year will not be held until the first Fri-day in March. There are a number of matters of vital importance to the citizens of Raleigh that will receive the attention of the Board at its meeting to night, first among which in point discussion at the present time is the proposition to sell the present Market House and City Hall to the Grand Lodge of Masons of North Carolina for the sum of $25,000, and then take the funds derived from the sale and erect an Audi-

During the past few days there has been a great deal of discussion regarding the proposition. There has been a suggestion launched that the property can-not be sold, that its acquirement by the city was accompanied by a stipulation that the land must never be used for other purpose than a city market house, and that if that stipulation was no adhered to the property should revert to the heirs of the former owners.

The deed for the property cannot be found in the records of the city and is supposed to have been destroyed during the fire when the former city hall was burned to the ground in 1868.

One deed for a portion of the property is registered at the office of the Register of Deeds of Wake county and shows that tract of land fronting seventy feet on Fayetteville street and seventy feet on Wilmington street through the block a distance of 210 feet, was transferred to the city for the sum of $2,250. hand was sold to the city by Matthew Shaw, who, with his brother, at one time owned all of the property from the present site of the Chizens' National Bank to the drug store of W. H. King & Co. The seventy feet front on Fayetterille street began at the line, now the North boundary of the Bobbitt-Wynne drug stope, and continued to the morth, the distance at present covering only a usell portion of the south half of the Market building. In the deed it is stated that the land is transferred to the city of Raisigh for the use and benefit of the city forever, and it is this wording of the deed that has caused, or wording of the december of the doubt re-garding the right to sell the property. There is however, one doubt left and that has not yet been removed, though it KENTUCKIANS ARMED. is probable that it may never cause a hitch in any plan that the City Fathers recording books. The City Attorney, Mr. Walter L. Watson, has been busily engaged during the past two days looking into the matfor the Board's meeting tonight, at which time the proposition to sell will be suggested by the report of the Street Committee.

Many of the older citizens favor the sale of the property and the opposition comes almost wholly from younger men. In the Board meeting tonight there are certain to be two opponents to the scheme, while those favoring the plan as it has been stated thus far believe that it grows stronger in advantages as they look deeper into the matter .

The proposition to sell the present market house meets with greater ap-proval than does the suggestion to purchase the city lot for the erection of an auditorium with offices for the city government. It is thought that the city cannol do other than wise by releasing the city lot for another ten years, but there is opposition to the erection of an audite ium in that section, it being thought the wiser policy to build in a more central location, if one can be se-cured. The Macaulay property on the corner of Hargett and Salisbury streets has leen suggested, certain property owned by one of Raleigh's most prominent women near Nash Square, the effect le and Salisbury streets, and sev etal ther sites have been suggested. But this matter will be taken up tonight

The meeting tonight will be called to order at eight o'clock. The business of the meeting will be conducted as usual with pen doors and it is probable that a goodly number of interested parties will be present.

DICHMOND TO WASHINGTON

Railroad Officials and the Public Interested in the Bill.

Information comes from a trustwor thy source that the Seaboard Air Line officials are now deeply interested in the bill pending in the Virginia Legislature to allow the S. A. L. to build the Richmond and Washington Air Line from Richmond to Washington, paralleling the present Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad. The distance one hundred and fifty miles. This is the most important measure to both the S. A. L. and the entire south for such a road would give the S. A. L. an independent outlet from the South into Washington. As it is now the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad is virtually owned by the State of Virginia and is open to all the roads but the Seaboard wants to provide against a contingency which might arise. Suppose the line competing with the S. A. L. should secure this Richmond and Potomac road, then the S. A. L. would be certainly greatly inconvenienced and one road would have the only outlet from the south. There is a strong lobby working against this bill to charter the Richmond and Washington Air Line, but to protect the State of Virginia the S. A. L. guarantees the State of Virginia against loss in the paralelling of

FOR AN ASSOCIATION.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 1, 1900. To the Editors of The Times-Visitor. The fact that there is not in Raleigh today any gymnasium, either public or private, a Young Men's Christian Association, an athletic club or any organiza tion which has for its purpose the development of the younger men of the city, in strictly moral and beneficial man-ner, should not be let to pass without the serious consideration of those of the younger generation who wish to aid their fellow men, and do a great good that will ever show itself as the city's destiny falls to the younger generation.

It is the belief of many that Sunday afternoon talks, if they are delivered by men in whom the young men of the city have confidence and men who will make the talks interesting, would call out a goodly number of listeners, and this fea-ture, thoughit should be made a leading one, need not consume all the attention of the managers of the club or associa tion. Good athletics ando ther whole-some exercise do much to improve the morals of a community and it is to be hoped that some one will take the matter in charge and see what can be done toward a revival of that character of life in the Capital City. STENOGRAPHER. THE VOICE OF THE SOUTH.

In the past two weeks Southerners young, but not so young that they had not been able to impress their respective communities and upon the whole South and representative of the progressive ele ment which loses no opportunity to advance the material interests of that section, have spoken with no uncertain sound to Northern audiences of the aims of the progressive South and its interest in measures now before the country for the development of American trade and industry. United States Sen-ator John L. McLaurin of South Carolina addressed the American-Asiatic Asociation in New York, and ex-Governor William A. MacCorkle, of West Vir ginia, spoke before the Newark (N. J.) Board of Trade. The Manufacturers' of Trade. The Manufacturers' has published their speeches, that of the former in this week's issue and that of the latter in last week's Is sue, in the relief that hey will be bf benefit as demonstrating to the whole South the opportunities which lie before it in the success of such measures as those providing for the construction of Nicaraguan canal, the enlargement of the navy and the upbuilding of the merchant marine, nd for the maintain-ance of our position in regard to China victory of Manila bay, and at the same time will open the eyes of many persons in other parts of the country to the importance of the South as a factor in the development of the United States. Both of the speakers exhibited a broad-minded, national spirit which must have come as a surprise to persons who have forgotten, if they ever recog-nized, the historic attitude of Southern public men. Both showed their appre-ciation of the benefits to come to the South through the expansion of com-merce, and Mr. MacCorkle went a step tarther and traced the immediate connec tion between the prosperity of the South as a manufacturer and that of the rest of the country, and made the timely suggestion that the rest of the country should therefore second vigorously the efforts of the South to prepare itself to handle the commerce that must flow through its ports in the future. The two

General Kitchener's Secret Force to Effect Relief

FIRE ON THE VELDT FOR TWO MILES WITH FIGHTING

The London War Office Attempts to Hold its Secret but Leak Comes from High Official Sources-

Unusual Activity in British Lines. Modder River, Feb. 1.-There has been great fire burning along the veldt since yesterday afternon. The extent of the fire is two miles in length and extends along the plain between Jacobsdal kopjes and the dam. Some British officers bemovement of some forces who have been summoned to the eastward. The fire burned all night and it is believed that under cover of smoke some recent reinforcements that have arrived at Magerfontein, marched in the direction of Barkly to the west and to the Komdodsberg districts. The British long range artillery on the left front threw shells in the direction of the Boer position. The Boers shelled the British from the west for half an hour. The forenoon probably covered the movement referred to. Their shells hit nobody. The Boer losses, if any, are unknown. The British troops here are eager for an aggressive move-ment to begin.

DELAYED REPORTS FOR LAST YEAR

Rex Hospital Makes Report Nearly a Year Late

GAVE STATISTICS TO PRINTER YESTERDAY

Effort to be Made to Get Reports Made at Once After Close of Fiscal Year

> Negligence in the-Past Censured.

A member of the Board of Aldermen speaking this morning of the reports of the various departments of the city gov-ernment, said that it is a matter deserving the attention of the Board of Alder-and one that is due the people of this city that the reports for a fiscal year be completed as soon as possible after the close of the year, and that they be given to the printer for immediate publication.

This remark was called forth by the amouncement from the city printers, The Advocate Company, that the report for the year ending February 28th, 1898, almost one year ago, are not yet from the press, and that they have been held awaiting the report from Rex Hospital. This was handed in yesterday. It lacks only a few days of being eleven months since the close of the fiscal year for which that report is given and the printers claim that their delay in furnishing printed copies of the report of the city government is due to the fact that negli-gence, or something closely akin to it, on the part of some of the departments, held them back. The printers notified the city authorities yesterday, it is stated, that at last the Rex Hospitai's report had been turned over to them.

The report of the Health Department was necessarily held up awaiting reports from others, who make the exhibits to the report, and it has been only a few weeks since copies of that report were received from the printer. The entire reernment of Atlanta, it is said, were com-pleted and had been mailed to the various cities with which they exering re-ports, before a single sub-report of the city government of Raleiga had come from the press. A member of the board of aldermen, who approved the above re-marks of his fellow member, savs that an effort will be made at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen next month to have the various departments complete their reports at once and turn them over to the city purchasing agent who contracts for the publication of the report. This will admit of an early letting of the contract and the requiring of a guarantee from the printers to complete the work within a specified length of time after they are turned over to them.

It is one of those matters, says the Alderman, that every man seems to wish to shift from his shoulders. There is responsibility connected with the compilation of the reports, and it is something in connection with which there is little opportunity to get any public credit. This should not be the case, on theother hand the members who make reports and the gentlemen outside of the Board of Alder-Little Ruth, the 6-year-old daughter men who make reports for outside institutions, should see to it that the work reasonable time. The fact that some of the reports have been held, he states, has caused extra cost to the city or may cause it, and this he urges as another reason why every effort should be exerted to complete the year's work by the

What will be done by the Board of Aldermen regarding this matter is not known, but it is not improbable that some local legislation will be enacted by them compelling members to comply with the customs of the best and most progressive cities in making the reports.
