GORTON MINSTRELS.

Will be the Last Minstrel Show for This Season.

Gorton's Minstrel composed entirely of white artists will be the attraction at the Academy of Music, Thursday, March 1st. This organization has been playing to a succession of crowded houses throughout the South and the press has expressed some very high opinions of them. The following is taken from the Charlotte Observer of February 25th:

Not a very large, but a most appreciative and discerning audience heard Gorton's Minstrels at the Opera House last night. This combination of talent easily gave one of the most enjoyable minstrel performances that has appeared here during the present season. No part of the show was excursive or too meagre, and it was all good.

There is scarcely room for novelty in any minstrel performance, and Gorton's Minstrels, of course, started their program with the conventionalities, with their conventional songs and melodies; but they differed in plantation pastimes, musical comedies, novelty and burlesque dancing and the like, and ended with a clever aerobatic exhibition. The orchestra music was distinctly good. In its entirety the company is really one of the best that travels South.

Reserved seats will be on sale tomorrow morning at usual places.

MR. GEO. SYME OFF FOR NEW YORK.

Mr. Geo. P. Syme, of this city, will leave tonight for New York, from whence he will sail next Saturday, via the Atlantic Ocean, for New York. Mr. Syme has accepted an appointment to a responsible position on the New York Central railway force.

Mr. Syme is a young man of talent in his profession. He is a graduate of the A. & M. College. He assisted in surveying the Raleigh and Cape Fear Railroad. Afterwards he worked as a surveyor on a railroad in Ohio and Indiana and returned to Raleigh only a short time ago.

Mr. Syme's former position of the Raleigh office of the Raleigh and Cape Fear Railroad, was a valuable one and he has a large number of friends in Raleigh who are deeply interested in the progress of a worthy city, and this is said to be the most remarkable, cheerful and intensely business-like acquaintance of modern times. Tonight at the Academy.

"A GOOD SCHOOL."

Another young man has just completed his professional course in the Commercial University and has accepted a position. This school is worthy the patronage of the people. Not a single graduate is out of work. Two have been placed within the last month.

Competent men and women will always be in demand. Some others are graduated that the secret of this school.
