FOREIGN MINISTERS STILL IN PEKIN Notified on June 19th to Leave in 24 Hours but Refused

Admiral Kempff Cables the News-Relief Force Halt Way Now Capt. Myers of Georgia in Command of the American Marines at Pekin Legation-Foreign Powers Now Acting With Boxers Against Chinese.

Washington, June 30.—An important dispatch has just been received from Admiral Kempff. He says the foreign ministers at Pekin were notified June 19th that they had twenty-four hours leave, they refused and are still there. The Pekin relief force has got half way.

NEWS FROM KEMPPFF.

The Foo, June 30.—Admiral Kempff writes to United States Consul Fowler as follows:

"Since communication was interrupted on June 10th, I have received only one Pekin dispatch, dated June 12th. No later or direct news has come from United States Minister Conger. Four hundred and thirty foreigners, including fifty-six Americans and marines under Captain Myers, went to Pekin to guard the legations. (Captain Myers is apparently John T. Myers, appointed in 1887 from Georgia as a naval cadet.)

"On June 10th one hundred Americans joined 2,400 others and started to relieve Pekin, with Chinese sanction. June 12th they were lured at Lang Fang. Since then they have not been reported from. They had a week's supplies. I notified to Governor of Chinat Yamen that any news he can obtain or that is obtainable or any effort possible to relieve the legations should be done at any hazard. All our energies here were necessary to relieve Tien Tsin."

"The above has just been received by Japanese warships from Taku.

Taku June 29.—Admiral Kempff is opposed to the policy of attacking the Chinese army until they begin to hurt us. It is admitted that the foreign powers attacking forts of the Chinese as allies with the Boxers. Americans think this could have been avoided. Admiral Kempff has held aloof from hostilities beyond movements necessary to rescue the Americans in danger.

EXECUTING FOREIGNERS.

London, June 30.—A Nanking dispatch says that French priests here have received reports that beginning June 20, public executions of foreigners have been going on in Pekin. The reports add that French priests administered the last rites to those executed.

LIQUOR LICENSES GRANTED TODAY

Twenty-Six Retail Licenses Issued

BOARD TURNED DOWN TWO APPLICANTS

Lively Discussion Over Hood and Rochelle—License Refused Hood but Granted Rochelle, Three Aldermen Voting No.

The Board of Aldermen met in special session today at noon to issue liquor license for the next six months and a lively meeting resulted. Chairman Parish of the Police Committee then recommended that the following licenses be granted:

M. W. Woodard, Cabarrus street.
A. O. Wadford, Hargett street.
J. E. Mamlin & Co., Wilmington street.

R. C. Bateheler, Wilmington street.
C. W. Hoover, Wilmington street.
H. S. Lowery, Wilmington street.
J. D. Carroll, Wilmington street.
I. C. Hill, Wilmington street.
A. L. Bailey & Co., Wilmington street.

L. N. White, Wilmington street.
S. J. McCauley, Wilmington street.
Denton & Dixon, Blount street.
R. E. Parham & Co., Wilmington street.

S. W. Oliver, at Carrollton Hotel.
Simpson & Quarles, Varboro House.
E. V. Denton, Fayetteville street.
Acme Wine Co., Fayetteville street.
L. J. Walker, Martin and Salisbury street.

J. R. Ferrall & Co., Fayetteville street.
N. H. Bledsoe, East Raleigh.

J. W. Smith, Exchange Place.
S. T. Smith, Exchange Place.
H. E. Canby, Exchange Place.
C. X. Debo, Exchange Place.
P. B. Griffin, Exchange Place.

On motion these licenses were then granted.

Chairman Parrish then said the committee recommended that license be refused William Hood & Co., on East Martin street.

After some discussion in which Alderman McDonald favored granting license a vote was taken and the license was refused.

Parrish, for the committee, recommended against granting license to H. B. Farrall to sell in East Raleigh, saying the people in the neighborhood petitioned against it, and the committee also had private reasons.

License was refused. The committee submitted L. S. Rochelle's application to sell on Wilmington street without prejudice.

Mr. Perram moved the license be granted and asked why the committee had not so recommended.

Mr. Parrish stated that "I will when the committee has recommended against Mr. Rochelle's license the board has granted it. Besides Mr. Rochelle applied in his own name and he is not 21. Since Rochelle has applied in his own name."

After some discussion a vote was taken and resulted in the granting of license.

Jones, Wilder and Parish voted against Rochelle's license.

MR. WILLIAM WOOLCOTT RETIRES

Mr. Walter Woolcott Succeeds the Firm of Woolcott & Son.

Today Mr. William Woolcott will retire from the firm of Woolcott and Son the large wholesale and retail dealer in dry goods. The business will be continued by his son, Mr. Walter Woolcott who has been a member of the firm for years, and who has all qualifications necessary to carry on the business with the same success which has followed it for the past quarter of a century.

The retirement of Mr. William Woolcott from business will remove from active business one of the most successful merchants of this city who has figured prominently in its affairs for over 25 years.

Mr. Walter Woolcott will start his opening Monday with a big bargain sale.

NEW LIFE.

I saw the little maiden moon—
She was so shy, so shy,
She hid herself behind a cloud
Till all the stars went by;
As pure as sea foam was her robe
And white as ivory,
And lily-buds that blow on earth
Raised timid heads to see.

I saw the moon, the full-grown moon,
Leap from the ocean's hold,
And bare her beauty to the sky,
Fierce, glorious and bold;
And crimson was her flaunting robe
And red as sin, maybe,
And poppy-buds that blow on earth
Raised wicked heads to see.

I saw the moon, the dying moon,
Falter across the sky;
White-faced she fell before the morn
That smiled to see her die.
No wave that kissed her feet of old
But mocked her misery;
Only the serene, blown leaves of earth
Might mourn for such as she.

THE GOOD FELLOW GIRL.

(According to a New York paper, the "good fellow" girl has arrived in America.)—Daily Chronicle.

When returning home bright-eyed,
Did a hare but hurry by,
Timid and affrighted;
When above you rustling trees
Happened with the breeze to flutter,
Faint of heart, with trembling knees,
Pretty little screams you'd utter.

Ah! but what a change we find
Nowadays in maidens' fashion!
Now you move not in our mind
Pity and compassion;
Now at gentleness you scoff,
On our own ground half way meet us,
And at tennis, hockey, golf—
Play with us—and sometimes beat us.

Now your shoes are—number nine,
And their color brown (or yellow),
Now you think it something fine
To be called "good fellow";
And your arms, once delicate,
Now is big and bare and brawny,
And your skin, once fair, of late
Almost verges on the tawny.

But (when all is said and done),
Since you still court approbation,
Take the wiser course, and shun
Each exaggeration;
We of Amazons are shy,
Overexcess causes redium—
Ah! then, Chloe, why not try
To preserve the happy medium?

THE N. & S. COLLISION.

Most Remarkable Railroad Accident of the Age.

(Petersmouth Star.)

The collision, which occurred about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Virginia Beach branch of the Norfolk and Southern Railroad, about three miles from Brambleton, was in some respects the most remarkable railroad accident of the age. That many lives were not lost is regarded as miraculous. Fifteen Sawyer, of the freight engine that was responsible for all of the damage, was the only person who lost his life.

Just who is responsible for having started a freight engine out on a single track road in broad daylight at a time when it was known a passenger train was approaching at a high rate of speed, remains to be determined.

Freight engine No. 4, Engineer Quillen and Fireman Sawyer, left Brambleton station for Kempsville to haul some logs and lumber to Norfolk. The engine was running tender first at the rate of about twenty-five miles an hour, when near Cromwell's curve the whistle of the Virginia Beach express was heard in the distance. Quillen, the engineer, realized that a blunder had been made and reversed his engine at the same time jumping as did the others on the locomotive. Conductor Criston and Hutson and Harris, negro brakemen, with the exception of Sawyer, who was piloted in the wreck. The engine came together with a mighty crash, but the freight engine now reversed, bounded back towards Brambleton with frightful speed. The engine, fortunately was unobstructed and had a clear track all the way to the depot.

Here is where Providence held a guiding hand, for the wild engine ran into a rock standing on the main line, hitting it with terrific force and telescoping the coach. The engine was as complete a wreck as could be. The passenger train waiting the arrival of the Beach train, stood on a siding. Had it been the main line, the main line, the slaughter of passengers would have been awful.

Fireman Sawyer's body was horribly mangled, the legs being cut off. He never regained consciousness, dying about 9 o'clock last night. He was unmarried. Sawyer came originally from Cartersville. The coroner's jury went to the hospital this morning and viewed the remains, after which it adjourned to the high constable's office, where an inquest is being held. Conductor Criston, of the freight, who was arrested, will have a hearing before Justice Hawkes, the accident having occurred in the county. A wrecking crew from the Norfolk and Western Railway, by dint of hard work, cleared the track and trains today are running as usual.

"If it wasn't for one thing," said Uncle Hiram, as the delegates filed out of the convention hall, "I'd think the ticket we nominated here today would get 'lected sure as shootin'. But it ain't got no show, the way things happened."

"But you ta-an' about, Hi?" exclaimed old Josh Weaver. "We've put up the winning ticket today that ever got nominated in this country. It can't get beat. What makes you think it might?"

"Well, I noticed that they wa'n't nothin' out of the ordinary about the gavel the chairman used. It wa'n't made out of thirteen kinds of wood, or from the planks of our first platform, or the top of any great man's desk, or no top."—Chicago Times-Herald.
