FOREIGN ADMIRALS WANT 80,000 TROOPS

Friction Between Japan and Russia Over the Command Feared

JAPAN WILL SEND 50,000 TROOPS

Advance on Pekin Cannot be Made Without an Immense Army—Chinese Destroying Russian Property. More Outrages Committed.

Paris, July 12.—The foreign office has received a despatch from Taku stating that the admirals have decided that 80,000 troops are necessary for an advance on Pekin. Twenty thousand of that number will be required to garrison Taku and Tien Tsin, and maintain communication. General Voyron has been appointed commander of the French contingent. It is learned that Japan will send to China a field marshal, who outranks the officers of the other powers. This would settle the question of supreme command, unless, as suggested here, Russia should send an officer of similar rank. It is feared that friction will yet result on this point.

JAPAN'S LARGE FORCE.

Yokohama, July 12.—Though no decision is announced, yet it is nearly certain that Japan will send nearly 50,000 troops to China. The press agrees that the despatch of so large a Japanese force is a duty in the interest of humanity but asserts that in a large measure the responsibility for the troubles rests upon Russia and Germany, because of their arbitrary action in China.

METHODIST MISSIONARIES.

New York, July 12.—The Methodist Board of Missions received today a cablegram from Rev. Mr. Brown at Chefoo, stating that George N. Lowry and wife are in Pekin, Edward N. Lowry in Tien Tsin and Cora and wife at Nagasaki.

TIENTSIN SITUATION.

London, July 12.—A despatch to the Times from Shanghai says that news from Tien Tsin say the situation has improved since the arrival of two twelve pounders from the British cruiser Terrible.

There are persistent rumors that Prince Young Lu and Prince Ching are protecting the foreigners in Pekin.

GERMAN DIVISION SENT.

Berlin, July 12.—The Cologne Gazette says that Germany will send to China with a marine brigade, eight infantry battalions of eight hundred each, four batteries artillery and a strong force engineers and pioneers, thus forming a complete army division.

CHINESE GUNS MASKED.

Chee Foo, July 12.—An artillery duel is proceeding at Tien Tsin. The Chinese guns are so masked that the allies find difficulty in locating them.

ONLY THREE DAYS' SUPPLY.

London, July 12.—Prince Tuan, according to a Tien Tsin despatch via Shanghai, is reported crazy. A private letter from Pekin, dated June 24th, says the ministers then had only three days' food supply and were in danger of death at the hands of thirty thousand troops.

LITTLE HOPE.

London, July 12.—It is being talked in the military clubs today that Tien Tsin cannot be held and the allies are preparing to retreat. All the women and children were sent away. Little hope remains that the foreign ministers are alive.

CHINESE OUTRAGES.

Tien Tsin, July 4.—The late chief of police at Port Arthur has arrived and reports that the Chinese sacked and burned Niu Chwang, and further asserts that the Chinese are wrecking the Manchuria Railway and pillaging unprotected outskirt.

RUSSIA PROTECTING HER OWN.

Port Arthur, July 12.—Forty thousand Chinese troops are said to be devastating Manchuria. The Russians are preparing to send an army into the province. Russia is said to have notified the powers to that effect.

DEMOCRATS FISHING

Mr. A. H. Green and Mr. Brown Shepherd the Champions.

Yesterday after the Democratic county candidates spoke at Brassfield, they enjoyed a big fishing frolic at the carp pond of Capt. D. H. Allen. Capt. Allen knows how to entertain royally and he did things up in style yesterday. Mr. A. H. Green, the next chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, caught the most fish, and Mr. Brown Shepherd who went out to organize a white supremacy club, caught the largest, a carp weighing 3 pounds. Mr. Shepherd thought he had a whale, so lustily did the fish pull. The candidates feel greatly pleased at the progress of the campaign.

MR. DURHAM IN CHARGE

Mr. Baxter Durham Begins on Supt of Baptist Store Wednesday.

The Biblical Recorder of yesterday says: "We know that we could not make an announcement more pleasing to our readers than this, that Mr. Baxter Durham, of Raleigh, has been put in charge of the Baptist Book Store at Raleigh. He is the younger son of the late Dr. Columbus Durham, and his bearing impressively reminds one of his father. Young Brother Durham was elected to this responsible position on his merits. As a salesman he has succeeded in making a first-rate reputation for himself, and we have every reason to believe that in the business of the store as well as in our general denominational affairs he will develop rapidly. Mr. J. H. Weather's retires from the management of the store on account of his health. His work in so short a time has been so highly successful as to make the committee very reluctant to accept his resignation. The trade of the store is rapidly improving; and now that the entire stock has been rearranged and the fixtures and finish of the house completely renovated, there is no reason why it should not swell to gratifying profits. Brother Durham will take charge very soon." Mr. Durham expects to enter upon his new duties next Wednesday.

ELDER GOLD TO PREACH.

Elder P. D. Gold, of Wilson, N. C., will preach at the Primitive Baptist church, on Newbern avenue, next Sunday afternoon at 8:15 o'clock, and it is hoped that he will have many hearers. He is well known throughout the country, and is very able.

EPICURE ANSWERED

One of the Replies to an Add in the Times-Visitor.

BOARD WANTED.—Gentleman desires board in boarding house or private family, knowing the difference between good and evil cooking, and puts such knowledge into practical operation. Address, EPICURE, Times-Visitor.

The above advertisement appeared in this paper on June 29.—Here is one of the replies that Epicure received: EPICURE, Raleigh, N. C.

Sir:—I have just read your advertisement in the evening paper and answer at once. I am the keeper of an aristocratic boarding house (I mean the intellectually aristocratic and do not accommodate any of the "common herd.") Your advertisement comes in opportune time, for I was just on the eve of advertising for a chef, and now I think I see where we can be mutually beneficial. You come and act as chef for my house, and I will give you board. In this way board will cost you nothing, and I will have the benefit of your valuable services at reasonable cost to my house.

Call or address, HOUSEKEEPER.

[The address of "Housekeeper" is withheld from the public, because if the address were given the answer would be overrun by others who would vainly aspire to the snap which "Epicure" has struck.—Ed.]

AUDITORIUM PROSPECTS

Artichets Now Working for the Committee

PLANS ON TRADE BUILDING AND ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Directors Waiting for These Plans—Meeting of Stockholders Will be Called Later—Directors are Not Idle.

"What about the Auditorium?" is a question which The Times-Visitor reporter is frequently asked on the streets.

This is a matter which the business men and progressive citizens of Raleigh feel keenly.

At least half a dozen of the subscribers to the capital stock have been heard to remark that they were ready to pay their subscriptions as soon as the site was selected. They hold that it is useless to pay in the money and let it stay idle until the site is chosen. On the other hand one of the directors holds the opinion that they cannot make a good trade until the money is collected to trade on. These two views, however, may be easily harmonized as there is a prospect for early agreement on the site. The six options which were secured and published in The Times-Visitor are generally considered too high but a trade may be made before long.

Three leading architects are now, at the suggestion of the board of directors, very kindly preparing some plans and specifications which may throw considerable light on the situation.

Messrs. Barrett and Thompson, Mr. W. P. Rose and Mr. Charles Pearson are preparing plans for converting the Academy of Music and the Trade Building, formerly known as the Prairie Building into auditoriums, together with rough estimates of the cost for this transformation.

Mr. Charles M. Busbee, chairman, says that as soon as there plans are received he will call a meeting of the directors. Even if neither of the above buildings are selected the plans will be valuable as a basis for future estimates.

The Academy of Music, if other things prove suitable, seems to be favorably regarded by many.

The next meeting of the directors will be awaited with deep interest.

A VETERAN CARRIER

Mr. Godwin, Over 15 Years a Paper Deliverer. Leaves Raleigh.

The Times-Visitor yesterday lost the veteran newspaper carrier of Raleigh when Mr. Frank Godwin went to Richmond, Va., to live. Mr. Godwin has been carrying papers in Raleigh for more than fifteen years; he has been delivering papers to subscribers here and he was thoroughly familiar with the evolution of the press in this city. He was a faithful, conscientious carrier, and a complaint of not getting a paper never came from Frank's route. He was always careful and took a keen interest in his work. Frank always had the welfare of the paper he worked for at heart, and the Times-Visitor regrets that Frank is no longer numbered among its carriers. His place is a hard one to fill. If Frank keeps his fondness for this work, then the Richmond News, a bright afternoon paper which is forging to the front in the Virginia capital, would do well to secure Frank's services as soon as he becomes familiar with that city.

Messrs. Robert Wicker and Edgar Wicker have moved to Richmond and opened a job printing office.

RAIN AND COOLER.

For Raleigh and vicinity: Showers and cooler tonight and Friday.

A moderate high area has appeared over Wisconsin with cooler weather in that vicinity, but very high temperatures continue in the Rocky Mountain region. Miles City reported 98 degrees Wednesday, and the barometer is very low there this morning.

THE LATE JOHN L. PENNINGTON

Raleigh Printer Who Became Governor of Dakota

BEGAN HERE AS DEVIL ON N. C. STAR

He Died Last Sunday in Oxford, Alabama

Squire W. M. Brown of Raleigh Worked with Pennington During His Apprenticeship.

Nashville, Tenn., July 9.—A special to The Banner, from Anniston, Ala., says Hon. John L. Pennington, ex-governor of Dakota, editor of the Alabama Home, this city, and for many years a prominent Republican, died today in Oxford. He was 75 years old.

The subject of the above brief telegram was a native of Wake county, and a printer and editor by profession. He served a regular apprenticeship with the late Rev. Thomas J. Lemay, editor and publisher of the North Carolina Star, an influential Whig paper, some fifty years ago. The old Star office stood nearly opposite the Presbyterian church, on the rear of Dr. Crawford's building, and was torn down only a few years ago. The only living printer who worked in the same office with Governor Pennington during his apprenticeship, is the venerable William M. Brown, the founder of the Times-Visitor.

About the year 1850 Governor Pennington, then a young journeyman printer, left North Carolina and went to East Tennessee. There he followed his trade for a few years and then entered the lecture field in which he soon earned a wide reputation.

Returning to North Carolina in 1858, he established at Newbern the Daily Progress, a morning paper, which was a financial success from the very beginning. It soon became the leading paper in Eastern North Carolina, and gave its editor a wide reputation as a successful newspaper manager.

When the Federal troops landed on the shores of this State in 1862 the Progress was brought to Raleigh, and continued as a daily. Mr. Pennington associated with him Col. W. R. Richardson, of this city. Under their joint management the Daily Progress was published until the close of the war. In 1866 the Progress was sold to Messrs. Orr and Guthrie, and Mr. Pennington moved to Alabama, where he became a leader of the Republican party of that State. He was a candidate before the legislature of Alabama for United States Senator, and was defeated only by a single vote.

Soon after his defeat for Senator President Grant appointed Mr. Pennington Governor of the territory of Dakota, which position he held for several years. He remained in Dakota until the territory was divided and admitted as States in the Union. A few years ago he returned to Alabama, where he resided up to the time of his death.

John L. Pennington was in many respects a remarkable man. Born of humble parents in Wake county, he by hard study and undaunted energy became a great editor, and an influential politician. He was an accomplished speaker, but was better on the lecture rostrum than on the political stand. He was a man of accomplished manners and of personal attractiveness, always making friends wherever he went. He was of commanding personal appearance, being over six feet tall, well proportioned and of strikingly handsome personal appearance. He has left behind him many warm personal friends—we hope and believe few enemies.

FUNERAL OF MR. ASE.

Service at Christ Church this Afternoon.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Thomas Martin Ashe, were held this afternoon at Christ church at 5:30 o'clock. Rev. M. M. Marshall, the pastor officiating.

The interment was in Oakwood cemetery immediately after the church service.

The following young men, all of whom were school mates or intimate friends of the deceased in late, served as pallbearers: C. V. MacRae, John Howard, V. H. Boydan, Charles Pearson, Brown Shepherd, F. C. Lamb, Joel Whitaker, W. W. Vass, John West, W. A. Graham, Jr.

Seldom has a death called more universal sorrow from the community. The church was filled with friends who went to pay this last tribute to the memory of this noble young man. The floral tributes were beautiful.

"Is your father going to be back soon?" asked the stranger.

"I dunno," answered the small boy in leather clothes, who stood at the door of a Crimson Gulch dwelling. "Pap has a party good hoss, but so has some of the folks on the vigilance committee. I reckon I'd figger on pap's gettin' home in about 20 minutes or never."—Washington Star.

"Poor woman! She works hard all day, and then she's up nearly all night with the babies."

"What's the matter with her husband? Why doesn't he help her?"

"Oh he puts in all his time agitating for an eight-hour day for the workingman."—Standard and Times.
