DEATH OF MRS. FRYE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The wife of Senator Frye, of Maine, died suddenly this morning in this city. Mrs. Frye had been sick for a few days, but no serious apprehension was felt. She passed away very quietly about 9:15 o'clock in her apartments at the Hamilton, the Senator being in an adjoining room at the time, and supposing Mrs. Frye was asleep. The illness was heart trouble. Senator Frye will start with the remains for his home, Lewiston, Maine, this afternoon. Mrs. Frye was 57 years of age.

She was taken ill Tuesday after dinner with acute indigestion, but apparently was recovering.

IN THE SENATE.
There was a small attendance of Senators present when the session opened this morning, especially on the Republican side. Many have already gone home for the Christmas holidays. Then, on motion of Mr. Hear, the Senate immediately adjourned as a mark of respect to Mrs. Frye, but to meet again until January 3rd.

IN THE HOUSE.
The prayer of the chaplain of the House was laden with tidings of sorrow this morning. He referred to the death of Representative Wise, of Virginia, Mrs. Frye, wife of Senator Frye, and of an accident to Major Morrissey, doorkeeper of the House, who broke his leg last night. As no quorum was present, the House took up important matters by unanimous consent.

Mr. Jones, of Virginia, announced to the House the death of his colleague, Richard A. Wise, and presented resolutions of respect, and authorized the appointment of a Congressional committee to attend his funeral. The resolutions were agreed to, the committee appointed and, as a further mark of respect, the House adjourned to January 2nd.

JESSIE MORRISON STILL IN JAIL.
By Telegraph to The Times.

She weighed 115 when placed in jail.

GUIGNET'S ARREST

Created More Excitement in Paris Than Any Event Since Henry's Suicide.

NATIONALISTS FURIOUS

Will Interpellate the Government. Stormy Session of the Deputies Expected Tonight.

By Telegraph to The Times.
PARIS, Dec. 21.—The arrest of Major Guignet for alleged breaches of discipline in connection with Dreyfus has caused more excitement in Paris than anything since the suicide of Col. Henry. Nationalists and partisans of the army are furious over the affair, which they regard as another gratuitous insult offered by the Republican government to the champions of French honor. General Cudrè, the Minister of War, who caused Guignet's arrest, only recently disciplined a number of officers for insulting the Hebrew official Captain Coblentz.

The lobbies of the Chamber of Deputies are this morning seething with crowds eager for developments. The Nationalists are preparing an exorbitant interpellation on the arrest to be made at this afternoon's session of the Chamber.

Capt. Guignet was arrested last night, and lodged in the military prison of Montvalerien, charged with having disclosed to an anti-Dreyfus deputy a confidential document of which he obtained possession while in the Secret Intelligence Bureau. He is also charged with writing to M. Waldeck-Rousseau, accusing M. Delcasse, Foreign Minister, of falsehood. Captain Guignet caused a sensation at the Rennes trial by his accusations against foreign military attaches at Paris, particularly the German, Austrian and Italian. When Major Schneider, Austrian attaché, disclaimed the authorship of the letter tending to prove Dreyfus' guilt, Guignet accused him of lying. In October, 1898, it was reported that Guignet and Schneider fought a duel in Switzerland. Some weeks later, Schneider died.

Mrs. Thompson's condition is critical, but she persistently refuses to say how she came by the wounds. The police think they were inflicted by a jealous woman.

STORM IN BRITAIN

White Liner "Cufic" Abandoned. Red Star "Westernland" Lost Propeller.

SCOTLAND CUT OFF

Gale Sweeps Whole of the British Isles. Many Casualties Reported Today.

By Telegraph to The Times.
LONDON, Dec. 21.—Lloyds dispatch from Portland Lillo, on the South Devon coast, says steamer is sending up rockets for assistance in West Bay. She has four masts and two black funnels, with white bands. Three tugs have gone to her assistance.

She was thought to be the "Westernland" of the Red Star line, but later it was ascertained that she was the British steamer "Somerhill," which had the "Westernland" in tow. The latter had lost her propeller. The tugs which went to the "Somerhill's" assistance were unable to reach her. A later dispatch from Portland reports the "Westernland" at the port and she will reach Southampton tonight.

A terrific gale is raging on the English coast. Several small ships are reported wrecked.

The White Star liner "Cufic" has been abandoned off Skerries. Her anchors were dropped in 17 fathoms of water, and the crew landed by tugs at Holyhead. The "Cufic" parted in the heavy seas. It is supposed the "Somerhill" lost the "Westernland" in the same manner.

Casualties are reported from many points on the south and west coasts.

"CUFIC" RIDING WELL.

HOLYHEAD, ISLAND OF ANGLESEY, Dec. 21.—The storm on the west coast is abating. The White Star liner "Cufic" anchored off the Skerries, is riding admirably, and is not likely to be seriously damaged.

The Westernland has 37 cabin and 300 steerage passengers bound from Antwerp for New York, and their safety is now assured.

MIAMI, FLA., Dec. 21.—A large English tank steamer went ashore six miles south of here yesterday. She is laden with coke. The wreckers are running so high that the wreckers cannot reach her. The probabilities are that she will be a total loss. There is no news of the whereabouts of the crew, though they are not believed to be lost.

DETAILS OF NASSACRES

Turks Destroying Other Christian Villages.

By Telegraph to The Times.
VIENNA, Dec. 21.—Further advice from Salonica say Haiduk Islam's band plundering and devastating the villages of Frisland and Novibazar, in the vicinity of his recent massacres. A constant stream of refugees, carrying their possessions and driving their flocks, is moving toward the Serbian and Montenegrin frontiers.

At Revites the Montenegrins sided with the Christians and repulsed the Turks, mauling and wounding them as they had the Christians. Haiduk Islam was formerly an Albanian magnate with great possessions. He lost all his lands and the Armanian money lenders and thereupon vowed vengeance on the Christians. He collected a horde of fanatics, malcontents and unpaid officials, and started out to exterminate the "Christian vermin." The Moslems regard him as a "Defender of the Faith."

Haiduk has been active since 1898, but the authorities when they have not encouraged him, have pretended ignorance of his designs.

MR. GEO. SYME BACK

Returns from Nicaragua Where He Has Been Surveying for the Canal.

COUNTRY NOW EXPECTANT

Foreigners Already Flocking to Nicaragua Awaiting Developments.

Mr. George Syme has returned from Nicaragua, where he has for the past ten months been working in the corps which connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Mr. Syme says the survey is complete and he has returned for good or until the construction of this great canal is begun. There was one other North Carolinian, Mr. C. L. Mann, among the surveyors. Mr. Mann and Mr. Syme are both graduates of the A. and M. College.

Mr. Syme says that the path of the proposed canal is now marked off with stakes and may be followed clear across the country. The Nicaraguans are anxiously awaiting the decision of the American Congress on the canal bill for almost the life and death of the country is involved. The moment that the building of this canal becomes a certainty there will be a horde of investors and speculators on the scene. Indeed fakirs and gamblers are already moving towards Nicaragua in the hope of a rich harvest when work is begun. The entire country is on the tip-toe of expectancy.

Mr. Syme has no exalted opinion of the native Nicaraguans or of their government. Like all inhabitants of tropical climes the people are indolent and careless in business and most depraved according to our moral code. Although they nearly all profess allegiance to the church, still their lives are not seemingly influenced for better or for ill by their religious beliefs. Scarcely one adult out of ten measures up to the standard of decency prevalent among even some of the high families. The country seldom enjoys a stable form of government and any ambitious man can easily stir a revolt. Only last February the government succeeded in crushing a revolt, led by a man who desired to seize the presidency, and now the country is ready for another outbreak, which will probably come in February. The leader of the last revolt was not caught by the victorious government troops, but escaped to Columbia. A revolution soon developed in Columbia and this ex-Nicaraguan rebel general became the commander of the government forces against the Columbian rebels. The fact that this rebel was on the side of the Columbian government, raised Nicaragua to give all possible encouragement and aid to the Columbian rebels. If the rebellion is put down then the Columbian government will do all in its power to overthrow the present administration in Nicaragua.

A WATER HAUL

Thieves Broke into Hood's Bar and Took 3 Bottles of Water

This morning between two and five o'clock thieves broke into the bar of W. H. Hood, Jr., 225 East Martin street, by breaking the glass in the front window a side street. They used the bed pin of a two-horse wagon to break the window bars.

After breaking the window they must have become frightened and ran. However they thought that they would capture something, so they seized what they thought were three bottles of fine whiskey in the display window, but their charge may be imagined when they discovered later that the bottles contained only water. Mr. Hood had filled the three bottles with colored water to keep in his display window and that was all the thieves got for their work.

AN EXCELLENT SHOWING

Financial Statement of the Result of the Recent State Fair

BASEBALL LEAGUE

Ed Ashenback of the Virginia League Expected to Visit Here Shortly.

Secretary Jos. E. Pogue and Treasurer C. B. Denson are winding up the work of the State Fair of 1900, and the showing is most excellent. The treasurer has paid all the premiums and the interest on the bonds of 1897 and 1898, the outstanding bonds amounting to $26,000. Besides $1,100 has been spent in improvements on the grounds. The Fair now has a good working surplus and is in the best shape in its history for the Fair or exposition of 1901.

418 AT SHAW UNIVERSITY

No Xmas Holidays. More Illiterate Negroes Now Than in '66.

"Shaw University will give no holiday except Christmas day," said President C. E. Meserve. This is so expensive for the students to go home. This university now has 418 regular students besides those in the night school.

President Meserve remarked yesterday that the fine attendance might have been in a measure stimulated by the constitutional amendment. This awakening is certainly needed for there are more colored people who cannot read and write than at the close of the war. In 1865 there were 4,000,000 negroes and, none of them could read and write, now there are nearly 10,000,000 negroes and 55 per cent are illiterate which makes over 5,500,000 negroes who cannot read in 1900 against 4,000,000 in 1865.

TERRY MCGOVERN.

"The Bowers After Dark" appeared at the Academy of Music last evening to an audience of men only. The solitary attraction was that Terry McGovern, the champion light weight, would give an exhibition, but the trouble was that the crowd had to endure a most execrable performance before they were permitted to witness Terry's prowess, and even then the character of his demonstration was disappointing. McGovern is undoubtedly one of the most interesting of famous prizefighters and holds the world light weight championship, and the comparison as for an admission fee to the Academy last night was to be able to say "I have seen Terry McGovern."

A NOTED PHYSICIAN.

District Attorney Bernard received a letter from Greenville announcing the death of Dr. Charles J. O'Hagan. Dr. O'Hagan was the Nestor and the acknowledged medical profession of North Carolina. BASEBALL LEAGUE

Ed Ashenback of the Virginia League Expected to Visit Here Shortly.

NEXT MEETING JAN. 16

Danville May Join the League and If So Only Three North Carolina Teams Will Be Admitted

Another meeting of the Virginia baseball magnates will be held in Norfolk January 16th, to complete the formation of the Virginia-North Carolina Baseball League.

Eddie Moore, Ashenback, of Cincinnati, one of the Virginia League magnates who will operate the Newport News-Hampton franchise in the Virginia-North Carolina League this season, is now at work on the formation of the League. About the first week in January he will make a tour of inspection of a number of North Carolina teams, with a view of picking three, possibly four, to be granted franchises. There is the bare possibility that Danville will be taken in, thus granting North Carolina only three teams.

Ashenback is enthusiastic over the league prospect. He told the Richmond News that there is a great interest in Norfolk, Portsmouth, and Newport News-Hampton, and that North Carolina people are actually excited over their chances for professional ball.

The next meeting of the Virginia League will be held in Norfolk January 16th, at which time Ashenback will report on the North Carolina situation, and a president-secretary-treasurer will be elected. This officer will have complete charge of the league's business affairs, and will not be connected with any club. At this meeting will convene the franchise owners to be post a forfeit of $500, as a guarantee to finish the season, which will open April 15th and close September 14th.

Turner, Messrs. W. J. Andrews, Joseph Daniels, A. J. Field, George Allen and Capt. J. J. Bernard, with John Wilbur Jenkins as secretary.

Two committees were appointed yesterday as follows: Railroad and Bates
