FIRST WELFARE WORKERS MEET AT WAYNESVILLE

the creation of an enlightened General Assembly that would require each of the 100 counties of the state to have a county hospital where medical services would be in reach of everyone for as it is hospital service is beyond the reach of all except the charity class and the rich.—Thus leaving the person with a limited income in many instances out of reach of hospital service.

Dr. Sam's talk was followed by an open discussion at which Dr. Able and Dr. McCracken told of the new county hospital in Haywood county just being completed. The Duke Foundation gave $10,000 to the construction of this hospital and is going to give $1 per day for every free bed in the hospital.

Miss Mary Frances Camp, Director of County Organizations of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare was present and gave some interesting facts concerning the economical value of welfare work. She pointed out that the value of the enforcement of the school law was alone worth the cash of the welfare work. In each of the fifty seven counties having organized welfare work the saving of county fund by investigations concerning relief are having the county poor funds administered in a business like manner, have in nearly every instance paid for the work not to consider the untold value of the other duties that the welfare worker performs. Miss Camp stated that it was impossible for the County Commissioners to investigate the needs of relief and follow up the work without the aid of the welfare worker. She gave an illustration of one county in the state that had changed its county home into a county hospital—and by having the county prison camp near, the cook at the hospital, as well as the orderly were both serving time on the gang, while a number of the other prisoners work in the hospital garden. The cash to run this hospital was just half that of the cash of running the old county home. Showing what can be accomplished by better planing and management.

Mr. N. E. Wright, County Superintendent of Schools of Swain County, discussed the impossibility of the County Superintendent of Schools serving also as County Superintendent of Welfare as the law requires in counties not having a welfare worker. Mr. Wright stated that either job was almost more than one person could do, much less trying to do both, and that it would be a great step forward if the state would require every county to put on the welfare worker. By the co-operation of the Parent-Teachers Association and Mr. Wright's untiring efforts, much progress along welfare work has been accomplished in Swain County. The workers of the Western District, realizing this elected Mr. Wright President of the District for 1928.

Other short talks were made by B. W. Byers Secretary of the District; Mrs. Charles E. Quinland, of Waynesville, and Mr. Jones, representative of the Foreman's Club, of Canton, and A. W. Rymer, Superintendent of Welfare, of Buncomb County.

There were about sixty present at this meeting, but not all of the coun-

Much Marble Under ASH Highway, Claim

A highway made of marble is the Appalachian Scenic Highway—not unlike a dance floor, says H. J. Bryson, state geologist.

The best waste material is used for terrazo floors. Cherokee county has more marble than any other county in the State. The deposits enter the State from Fannin county Georgia, and extend along the Notla river to Murphy and along the Valley river to Topton.

There are also deposits of this same type of marble in the neighborhood of Peachtree and Brasstown. The color varies from a blue-gray, more or less mottled, to almost pure white.

lies in the district were represented. It is hoped that as the annual meeting in 1928 the Western District can report every county represented.

A CARD OF THANKS

I take this method of expressing my appreciation for the many favors that have been done for me since my home was destroyed by fire. This world would be a dreary place in which to live if there were no one to help bear our burdens and our sorrows. I shall ever remember those who have been liberal enough to share with me in my loss.
