Surgical Dressing Rooms Need Volunteer Workers

CHERRYVILLE WOMEN URGED TO TAKE NOTICE AND HELP MORE AT THE RED CROSS BANDAGE ROOM.

OPEN THREE TIMES WEEKLY.

The Red Cross Surgical Dressing Room located at the Cherryville Woman's Club is still open three times a week, Monday and Thursday nights from 7:30 until 10:00 o'clock and Wednesday afternoon from 2:30 until 5 o'clock. At present the Cherryville Red Cross has the gauze to roll 3,200 bandages. Monday night there were only three volunteer workers and two supervisors present. Cherryville cannot make her quota of bandages with such a poor attendance.

This week in the Gastonia Daily Gazette, Zoe Kincaid Brockman expressed her opinion in her column "Unguarded Moments." It shouldn't be a surprise to anyone to learn that the quota for the Red Cross surgical dressing rooms has been doubled, that bandages are badly needed for immediate shipment and that workers have been asked to rush the output. After all, we read every day of the terrific fighting in North Africa and glow warmly over the prospect of an early and complete victory. But we also know, if we think at all, that not the smallest hill is taken without the loss of human life and the mangle of hundreds of soldiers. The casualties that are pouring into the hospitals must be cared for and army hospitals depend upon civilian volunteers to keep the necessary, blood-staining bandages rolling in.

A thing of which all of us would be horribly ashamed is while our boys are at death with the enemy and engaged in one of the most brutal, nerve-racking, heart-breaking struggles in all history, volunteer service at the surgical dressing room is falling off. Fewer and fewer women are doing regular work there, and many who could offer their services to this cause and have pleasant social contacts with their friends at one and the same time, have never darkened the door of the place. And so, those in charge of this work are pleading for volunteers, are begging that every woman who can will give regularly of her time to this vital effort, and that women throughout the city and community will include some time at surgical dressings in their schedule. We aren't asked to shed our blood—we're only asked to send the gauze bandages needed to save the lives of those whose blood is flowing freely over desert and hill and plain. These boys are our own and they follow our flag. What in heaven's name is the matter with us that we're letting them down?

Poppy Day May 29

Poppies in tribute to America's battle dead of two wars will be worn in Cherryville on Saturday, May 29, 1943. President of the Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary announced today. The poppies this year will honor the men who have given their lives in the present conflict, as well as those who fell among the poppies of France and Belgium twenty-two years ago, she said. The money contributed for the flower will be used for the welfare of victims of both wars and their families. The Tryon Unit of the Auxiliary is making extensive preparations for the observance of Poppy Day here, under the leadership of Helen Mauney and Mrs. Sherrill, Unit Poppy Chairman. The little red flowers of remembrance will be available to everyone in the city, offered by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary who will be on the streets throughout the day. The flowers made of crepe paper in replica of the wild Flinders poppy, have been ordered from Oteen where disabled veterans manufactured them under direction of the Finance Department of the Auxiliary. Poppy making has kept the hands of hundreds of these unfortunate men fully employed during the winter and spring, helping them pass the long hospital hours and aiding in their rehabilitation. More American than ever before are expected to wear poppies this year as a personal tribute to those who have been killed, and to aid the disabled, their families and the families of the dead.

The last days for filing teams for Junior baseball in North Carolina found Cherryville number one with the larger cities in this section of the state. Gastonia, Charlotte and Shelby together with Cherryville were definitely in the race. Albemarle and Forest City are yet to report. Similar to the plan employed last year when through the combined efforts of the American Legion Post No. 100 and the Carlton Yarn Mills, by its officials Messrs. Carl A. Rudisill and Sam M. Butler and members of the Carway Club, this community project was handled in a very satisfactory manner. Again committees will be drawn from these organizations to promote play. With thirteen boys from the 1942 team eligible to play, gives Cherryville the prospect of having a winner in this year's race. Jack Kiser will have charge of the team as head coach and will be assisted by Ken Maghew. The Cherryville team will recruit players from Lincoln County, Crowders Mountain and Cherryville townships. Transportation is being provided for the boys from Bessemer City and Lincolnton. American Legion baseball has the endorsement of the Federal Government and National Legion headquarters. 500,000 boys are expected to take part in the program. Any boy becoming 17 years of age after January 1, 1943, or younger is eligible to play. Practice is being held in the afternoons at Bens Field and all the boys wanting to take part are asked out for the team. Schedule of the games to be played and further announcements will be made in next week's issue of the Eagle.
