PRESIDENT MEETS WITH OFFICIALS AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—President met with high military and State department advisers today in conference possibly preliminary to his forthcoming new war talks with Prime Minister Churchill.

Gathering at the White House for one conference were Secretary of State Hull, Undersecretary Welles, Chairman Norman Davis of the Red Cross, Dr. Isaiah Bowman of Johns Hopkins University and Dr. Leo Pavolsky special assistant secretary of State in charge of post-war planning.

This was followed later by a meeting of the President with Admiral William D. Leahy, his personal chief of staff, Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of naval operations, General George T. Marshall, army chief of staff, and General Henry H. Arnold, commander of the army air forces.

POST WAR PLANNING

Mr. Roosevelt told his press-radio conference that the talks with the State department group concerned postwar planning, and described the meeting as one in a continuing series. He did not elaborate, and concerning Mr. Churchill's visit to the American continent gave no information beyond that disclosed in Quebec.

The President said he expected to meet with the Prime Minister, but could not say when or where—or anything else.

Asked about the reports that control of Germany has been taken over from Hitler by a military triumvirate, Mr. Roosevelt said he knew nothing except what he had read in the papers. Nor has the State Department received any information, he added.

Since the recent rapid movement of events in Europe, there has been speculation that a new Churchill-Roosevelt meeting will deal not only with military strategy but also with territorial, political and relief problems arising out of the war.

There was nothing however to indicate that the two leaders would attempt to formulate a joint policy on the handling of these problems, if they discuss them.

RUSSIAN ANGLE

Since cooperation with Soviet Russia is considered essential in the United Nations planning, little more than an Anglo-American exchange of views seemed possible until the Roosevelt-Churchill conferences.

The President said he did not believe there would be any Russian participation in the forthcoming meeting, although he reiterated that he and the Prime Minister would be glad to have such participation.

Pending such an opportunity to consult with Premier Stalin, nothing has appeared so far to indicate the official American attitude toward such Soviet moves as, for instance, the formation at Moscow of a Free Germany committee.

From the available information on today's meeting at the White House, it appeared probable that Secretary Hull and his associates reported to the President on their research into the international problems and their tentative plans to meet them. It is known that the State department is preparing alternative plans to meet various possible situations as they arise.

That possible boundary and other territorial solutions are under consideration here was indicated by the presence of Dr. Bowman at today's meeting. He was chief American territorial expert at the Paris peace conference in 1919 and is now a member of one of the State department's consultative committees.

Surgical Dressing Week Declared

During the month of June there were 40 volunteer workers in the Surgical Dressing Room. They worked a total of 154 hours and made 4,050 sponges. During the month of July there were 43 workers. They worked a total of 211 1/2 hours and made 4,975 sponges. 1,000 is the greatest number of sponges that has been made at the dressing room in a single night. Cherryville has made just one-third of her quota of surgical dressings for June and July. Belmont has made 60,000 sponges since the first of the year. Hamlet has made as many as 5,040 sponges in one day, practically a thousand more than Cherryville made for the whole month of June.

The local Red Cross is declaring next week Surgical Dressing Week. The dressing room will be open under the direction of supervisors the following days: Monday afternoon 2:30-5:00, Monday night 7:30-10:00, Wednesday afternoon 2:30-5:00, Wednesday night 7:30-10:00, Thursday afternoon 2:30-5:00, Thursday night 7:30-10:00, Friday afternoon 2:30-5:30, Friday night 7:30-10:00.

The dressing room will be closed on Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday night because of the regular meeting of the Lions Club.

Women of Cherryville, do not make under 10,000 sponges next week. Try to make even a greater number. Make Surgical Dressing Week something for Cherryville to be exceedingly proud.

The following little poem expresses how each woman should feel in her heart about folding bandages.

At the Red Cross
Fingers folding bandages
Far from scenes of war;
Fingers nimbly folding
O'er and o'er and o'er.

There is no monotony
Though the task be plain
The fingers never tire,
They turn and fold again.

Mother, wife, and sweetheart
Fold and fold away;
In every fold a tiny prayer
That he'll be safe each day.

—Violet Ruckmal.

RALEIGH, Aug. 11.—Reports from cities and communities in 88 North Carolina counties today showed that a surprise blackout lasting 35 minutes last night proved most successful.

Charlotte was the one exception. Civilian defense officials there said a mixup in signals between city and county officials resulted in an ineffective blackout—the least successful to date.

All counties except 12 in the eastern part of the state participated in the air raid drill, the first warning for which was sounded at 10:06 p. m.
