JULIAN PRICE'S WIFE IS DEAD

Death Comes Suddenly at Her Home In Greensboro—Funeral Plans Incomplete.

GREENSBORO, Oct. 26—Mrs. Ethel Clay Price, 69, wife of Julian Price, president of Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company, died suddenly after a heart attack at 4:30 p. m. today at her home, 301 Fisher Park drive, here.

Native of New York City, she was the daughter of the late Harriett Field and Henry Deboisfueillet Clay, of Jamestown, Va. She was educated at Notre Dame academy of Baltimore, Md., and graduated from Watts Hospital School of Nursing, Durham, N. C., on August 21, 1897.

She was a charter member of the District Nurses and Relief society and served as leader of the Red Cross canteen during World War I, for two years, after which she did volunteer nursing during the influenza epidemic for two years.

A charter member of the Greensboro Garden club, a member of the Colonial Dames of America and of St. Benedict's Catholic church.

Surviving besides her husband are a daughter, Mrs. Joseph McKinley Bryan, and a son, Ralph Clay Price, both of Greensboro, and six grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Thursday. Other arrangements will be announced later.

Issues Warning To Motorists As To "A" Applications

Next Saturday, October 30, will be the last day upon which ration officials will accept applications for the new "A" gasoline rations, H. S. Mackie, Gaston county ration chairman announced in a statement today.

Numerous applications already have been received but hundreds of motorists have not yet gotten in their "A" applications, Chairman Mackie said.

He warned that those who fail to get their applications in next week—preferably as early as possible in the week but in all events by next Saturday—will have to wait 60 days or until the first of next year, to apply, unless they can show they were providentially hindered, by illness or some other circumstance beyond their control, from getting their application in on time.

For those who bring their applications in person to their local ration offices the final deadline will be the close of office hours at the offices of their local board next Saturday. Those who mail their applications in must mail them so that they will be postmarked not later than midnight next Saturday.

Cradle of Religious Liberty Will Honor Virginia Patriot

Rising Sun Tavern at Fredericksburg and General Weedon, its Colonial host. The 150th anniversary of his death will be commemorated on Armistice Day, November 11th.

Virginians will commemorate, on Armistice Day, November 11, the 150th anniversary of the death of General George Weedon, soldier, patriot, postmaster and famous innkeeper of Colonial times.

His Rising Sun Tavern at Fredericksburg was built by George Washington's brother Charles about 1760. It is maintained as an historic shrine by the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities.

In the taproom of the Tavern on January 13, 1777, Thomas Jefferson, and four other prominent Virginians met by order of the Assembly and framed the first draft of the bill that was later passed as the Statute of Virginia for Religious Liberty. This statute was later the basis of the first article of the Bill of Rights of the United States Constitution.

Long before the Revolution broke, the tavern had established itself as a "hotbed of insurrection," with Mine Host George Weedon, who was also postmaster, fanning the flames. Gathered about him were such patriots as Patrick Henry, George Washington, Peyton Randolph, John Paul Jones, young James Monroe and others.

When the war came, Innkeeper Weedon became a lieutenant colonel in the Third Virginia Regiment, later winning promotion to colonel and then brigadier general, and for a time acting as adjutant to Gen. Washington. He commanded brilliantly at Brandywine and Germantown. "Wherever he fought, his great figure and stentorian voice were prominent in the conflict," one historian wrote of him. He also played a prominent part in the siege of Yorktown.

After the war, Gen. Weedon became first president of the Virginia Society of the Cincinnati, founded in his tavern. A few years ago a tablet commemorating this event was unveiled at the tavern, with Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the U. S. Army, a guest of honor.

One of the tavern's memorable events was the Peace Ball held there in 1781 to celebrate Yorktown's fall. Gen. Washington, with his mother, Mary, leaning on his arm, attended, as did Lafayette, Rochambeau and "Mad" Anthony Wayne.

Flowers were in charge of Mrs. Hugh Sneed with the granddaughters serving as flower girls, assisted by friends of the family. Burial was made in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Uren was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Philip Kiser and was born in Gaston county. She had spent most of her life in Lincoln county.

Surviving are the following children: Calvin H. Uren, and Mrs. Houston Quinn of Cherryville; Tom Uren, Mrs. Tom Green and Mrs. Lizzie Mayo of Long Shoals; Mrs. Lee Ross, Lincoln; Mrs. J. H. Queen of Danville, Va., together with the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Ella Reid, Huntersville; Mrs. Hattie Schwartz, Bessemer City; D. A. Kiser, High Shoals; E. D. Kiser, and J. P. Kiser, Long Shoals, together with a host of other relatives and friends.

WACS Recruit Tuesday Afternoons

CPL. GRETCHEN DYKSTRA

Cpl. Gretchen Dykstra and Pvt. Ruth McClary of the WACS will be in Cherryville every Tuesday afternoon at the Draft Board office to interview girls interested in joining the North Carolina Company of WACS to be recruited between now and December 7th.

Girls who enter now will enter the Woman's army as a North Carolina contingent and will wear the North Carolina insignia on their uniforms. Governor McAllister has urged that each city in the state have a representative in the contingent, or as many representatives as possible.

"There are 155 types of jobs which must be filled now," the WACS recruiters said. "Women are urgently needed to replace the 70,000 casualties already suffered in this war. Every time one woman joins the WACS, one man is released for combat duty. Hundreds of women are needed so that more and more men may get in the fight."

The North Carolina company of WACS will be sworn in at Charlotte at a special ceremony and will go together to either Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., or Ft. Ord, Calif., for basic training. After four weeks they will be classified and sent to special training centers where they will learn to do the type of job best suited to them.

Eligible women from 20-50 years of age, high school and no dependents or children under 14 years of age.

Cherryville High Lost To Belmont

Cherryville High School "Iron Men" lost a hard fought football game 19-14 to the Belmont Abbey Ramblers last Friday afternoon at the local Athletic Field. The game was interesting throughout and the Cherryville boys threatened to come from behind at the last of the game to win when the game ended.

The Ramblers team was formed with three college freshmen together with the Belmont Abbey High School team. They presented a confusing T formation. The visitors gained ground chiefly on passes, scored three touchdowns before our boys were able to score.

However, after half time, the "Ironmen" got busy to score two touchdowns and make both extra points. "Deed" McGinnis made the longest run, behind good interference. In offense "Deed" McGinnis and Boyd Eaker were outstanding, while on defense Hugh Dellinger, and the entire line played good ball.

The Gaston County United War Fund campaign opens November 13th. S. M. Butler is chairman for Cherryville and he is expecting the complete co-operation of all merchants, industrial plants and each individual in this drive.

The quota for Cherryville is $4,800.00 and as in the past Cherryville has always met her quota and past the mark and that is what the chairman is expecting in this drive.

Henry A. Lineberger of Belmont is general chairman in charge of the Gaston county campaign.

Mr. Butler was called out of town on business and was unable to give out any information or details which might have been already worked out, however, on his return, the canvass will be stepped out and all set for the drive.

Nearly 50 percent of proceeds of the United War Fund campaign will go to the USO, the remainder being allocated to 16 other war service agencies and to an 18-million dollar contingency fund which will be set up and held intact for use in providing immediate rehabilitation and relief for people of Axis-occupied countries as rapidly as they are freed by the American and other Allied armies.

Presbyterian Sunday Preaching Services At

Rev. J. Walker Cobb, D. D., of Atlantic, Tenn., will preach at the Presbyterian church Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Cobb will arrive Friday night and will remain for the month of November, supplying one church during his stay with a view of accepting the work for the duration.

Dr. Cobb on Sept. 1st resigned as evangelist of the synod of Tennessee after completing a very successful term of a little more than six years. He hopes to get back into the pastorate again. Dr. Cobb comes very highly recommended and we tell the Presbyterian congregation will be very fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Cobb.
