Household Steelwool Prices to Be Checked

There appears to be developing in certain areas a black market on household steel wool at both wholesale and retail levels. This is to request that you give special attention to the prices on this commodity in your area and report your findings immediately to this office if the prices found are in excess of those in effect during March 1942.

Steel wool is covered by the General Maximum Price Regulation; therefore, the prices today should be the merchant's selling prices during March 1942, for the same or similar commodity. In the event that the merchant did not handle this item in March 1942, then the highest price charged by his most closely competitive seller of the same class, for the same or similar item, will become his legal selling price.

Seaboard Railway Advertises N. Car.

NORFOLK, Va., May 2.—Anticipating substantial postwar expansion in industry and agriculture, and as part of a campaign designed to further publicize the territory it serves, the Seaboard Air Line Railway is currently featuring the State of North Carolina in its advertising in newspapers and national magazines.

Announcement of this was made from Norfolk, Va., by L. R. Powell, Jr., and Henry W. Anderson, receivers of the railway, adding that it is the Seaboard's aim in advertising North Carolina to focus attention on the natural advantages and resources of the state, and thereby attract the favorable consideration of those who may be interested in the opportunities for future development in this state.

The advertisement featuring North Carolina, which has already had its preview in newspapers in the state, is attractively illustrated and enumerates some of the states

Gaston Residents Urged To Register

Appointment of registrars and judges for Gaston county's 34 polling places was announced today by chairman L. B. Hollowell of the Gaston county board of elections.

Registration books opened on last Saturday, April 29, and will remain open through Saturday, May 13. Those who are not registered—or who are not sure whether they are registered—are urged to go to the polling place for the precinct in which they live and register on any of the three Saturdays of the registration period, preferably the first Saturday, April 29th, or if they are not able to go on Saturday to go to the home of the registrar of their precinct at any time during the registration period (April 29-May 13).

Chairman Hollowell estimates that not more than 50 per cent of the residents of Gaston county who are otherwise eligible to vote are registered.

One very important rule in the qualifications for registration, as Chairman Hollowell pointed out, is that not only those who are already 21 years of age are permitted to register, but also those who will become 21 years of age by November 7, 1944, the date of the general election. Thus, many citizens who may be only 20 years old on the date of the Democratic primary, May 27, can register and vote in the primary if they will be 21 by November 7, 1944.

Persons who have moved from one precinct to another must obtain a certificate of transfer from the registrar in their old precinct and give it to the registrar in the new precinct.

Previously unregistered persons must have lived within Gaston county four months and within the state of North Carolina one year to be qualified to register. (See Advertisement)
