Foot Ball Season Opens Sept. 22nd.

Again it is time for us to draw our attention to the football season. Coach Carson's "Iron Men" for the 1944-45 year promises to be one of the best teams we have had in several years.

This year we have with us Hinson Quinn, who is a former Cherryville boy and Lenoir-Rhyne Star, to help pull our team thru to victory. Coaches Carson and Quinn will work together to bring Cherryville a fine team.

The "Iron Men" have been working out several weeks to get in shape for their first game next week. Cherryville will open their season by playing Cramerton here September 22nd.

This year we have back with us nine letter men of last year. They are: Hugh Dellinger, Boyd Eaker, J. T. Sigmon, Backs, Yates, McGinnis, end, Harold Blackwood, center and tackle, Edward Elliott and Tommy Summer. Guards, also we have Ned Beam, back, Harry Rudisill, Guard, R. B. Robbs, Guard and Hoyle Dellinger, tackle, who played last year.

The new players for this year are: Howard Henkle, Carroll Wright, Tommy Quinn, and Lawton London, backs, Ted Leonhardt, end, Bobby Carpenter, Guard, and Bill Beam center. We are expecting Voyde White and several others to report between now and the beginning of the school term.

We lost this year Bob Franklin, Capt. Hilbert McGinnis, Co-Capt. Frank Knight, Hoover Knight and Wayne Jenkins. These boys will be greatly missed but we are sure that the "Iron Men" will continue to carry on.

It is not positive whether or not Kent Jenkins will be with the team this year. He is a star of last year.

This year, the school has a great team and should go places. Let's show the boys we are behind them by being present for the opening game, Friday, September 22nd.

The schedule for this year is as follows:

- September 22—Cramerton at Cherryville.

BELFORT PASS FACING DRIVE BY 3 COLUMNS

ROME, Sept. 13.—A three pronged Allied Seventh Army drive was aimed tonight at the Belfort pass—southwestern gateway to Germany—as the Seventh and Third Armies completed a junction in force near Chatillon, closing the major enemy retreat routes out of southern and western France.

All three drives toward Belfort were meeting bloody resistance, but one spearhead was near Montbeliard, eight miles southwest of Belfort. Sixteen miles south of the gap French troops engaged in bitter fighting at Font le Roide against strong German fortified positions extending to Villersaxel, 20 miles to the northwest.

Americans moving directly east toward the German-French-Swiss border pass from captured Vesoul, 30 miles from Belfort, encountered Nazi tanks and self-propelled guns, but advanced four miles to Damp valley. The Americans captured Vesoul after a two-day fight and successfully hurled off a counterattack from the northwest. Other units drove six miles north to Flagey.

The junction in force by Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army and Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third seals a noose around some 20,000 Germans trapped in a bulge to the west, remnants of the 19th German army. An official announcement said the 29-day-old southern France campaign already had gathered a bag of 75,000 prisoners. In addition, thousands of Germans have been killed and wounded.

With the fall of Chatillon, 30 miles southeast of Chamont, headquarters of Gen. John J. Pershing in the first World War, many German garrisons in towns to the east were reported desperately trying to escape toward the border.

Headquarters said there was a noticeable slackening of enemy resistance west of the Soane river. French troops pushed forward in the upper Urcue valley, cleaning out pockets southeast of Chatillon.

TEXTILE SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY

North Carolina Vocational Institution at Belmont Ready to Resume Work

BELMONT, Sept. 13.—The North Carolina Vocational Textile school at Belmont, which was dedicated early in June, will open to begin its fall session on Monday, September 18. It would have opened on September 1, had it not been for the state board of health restrictions due to infantile paralysis.

The school, situated on Wilkinson boulevard near the Catawba river and on the outskirts of Belmont, Gaston county, got off to a good beginning last year in its first session of operation. During the year which closed June 3 the school enrollment exercises certificates in carding and spinning were awarded a number who had completed the course.

The coming year's program of activities is unusual in scope, due in large measure to the work and planning of Tilden W. Bridges, principal.

Mr. Bridges has succeeded in the face of acute man power shortage, in building up his faculty by bringing in practical mill men from the surrounding territory who will work in close cooperation with the fulltime instructors. These men are master mechanics, superintendents and overseers who have answered a plea for help in his program. The friends of the school have exerted a great effort in obtaining the materials, and operating supplies to the extent of complete simulation of actual textile mill operation and maintenance.

This school is operated for the purpose of acquainting inexperienced hands with the general principles and practices of the major phases of textile mill work and operation, embodying the practical day to day requirements in this field.
