Gaston Tuberculosis Assn. Making Plans

Plans being worked out by cooperation of the Gaston County Tuberculosis Association, the Gaston County Health Department, doctors in private practice and the schools of Gaston county including Gastonia and Cherryville, have developed satisfactorily and the first actual clinics were held this week, according to the president of the Gaston County Tuberculosis Association. Dr. T. H. Williston held in his office the first one for negro personnel on Wednesday afternoon and to it came representatives of all groups to whom the examinations are being offered: teachers, bus drivers, workers in school lunch rooms, and janitors and maids. This group came from Highland School in Gastonia.

Dr. W. A. Anthony held clinic in his offices on Thursday afternoon, taking the Flint Grove faculty and some teachers from the Dallas school. Dr. Forest Houser will hold the first clinic for the section of which Cherryville is the center in his office on Tuesday afternoon October 10.

Details of the clinic for which Blomont is the center have not been completed but will be announced later. The Gaston County Tuberculosis Association is paying all financial costs and furnishing clerical help. The Gaston County Health Department is furnishing the nursing service.

The clinics will be held weekly at the stated places and times until the approximate 10400 persons are given opportunity for examination.

Mrs. Kenneth Todd of Gastonia has accepted appointment by the president of the Gaston County Tuberculosis Association as county Seal Chairman to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. D. Lathan Friday, who resigned recently on account of her health.

Mrs. Friday has done excellent work in developing a unified county seal from the several communities which have been making plans for a county-wide seal sale and has been successful in getting people in various sections to help in compiling the mailing list. Letters containing seals will be sent to people whose names are on the list. These letters will be delivered on Monday November 20, which is the opening date of the 38th annual Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale, and it is hoped that everyone will be ready to mail contributions promptly to Mrs. W. L. Balthus, Treasurer of the Gaston County Tuberculosis Association, when the seals are received.

Mrs. Todd has been working some time as local chairman for Gastonia and several of her committees are already functioning. She will announce committees for Gaston county as soon as they are completed. At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Gaston County Tuberculosis Association it was decided to "set aside a sum not to exceed $40 per month to be used to furnish milk, pajamas, or other personal necessities to people who have been receiving such aid from the local seal sale groups." Each community has the privilege of calling upon this fund when a need exists and requests made to Mrs. Nichols, Executive Secretary, by personal call, by mail or by telephone to the association office, Room 408 National Bank of Commerce Building, Gastonia, will receive prompt and careful attention.

State Democratic Campaign Underway

RALEIGH.—The State Democratic campaign gets under way this week with meetings scheduled in every precinct Thursday night, preceded by a statewide conference at Raleigh Tuesday and to be followed by district rallies in each congressional district beginning Monday, Oct. 9. The first rally is scheduled for the twelfth district at Waynesville Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The eleventh district folks will gather at Rutherfordton on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the tenth district at Hickory Wednesday at 2:30, the ninth at Statesville Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, and the eighth at Monroe Friday at 2:30. The following week the eastern districts will be visited, beginning with the first district meeting at Plymouth on the 16th.

The state organization is depending largely upon these rallies to put the campaign over. Besides the candidates for governor, United States senator, and all other statewide elective offices it is expected that members of congress and candidates for legislative and local offices are expected. State Chairman Umstead National Committeeman Norton, and other headquarters attaches will also attend the meetings. There will be two main phases to the gatherings. State party officials will confer with local leaders on campaign strategy, and the assembled voters will be given an opportunity to see and hear the candidates. However, Chairman Umstead pledges there will be no long-winded oratory permitted. The entire program is not expected to last over two hours.

The precinct gatherings on Thursday night have been arranged for the dual purpose of "getting down to brass tacks" on ways and means of getting all Democrats registered and then getting them to vote on November 7 for the full ticket from constable to the president, and to hear national party leaders on the radio. The radio program is on at 10 o'clock with a coast-to-coast hookup featuring President Roosevelt, National Chairman Hannagan, Vice Chairman Mrs. Tillett and perhaps others.

The conference at Raleigh on Tuesday proved to be a good starter for the campaign. All county chairmen and vice chairmen, state and county managers for gubernatorial candidates in the recent primary and other registered party leaders had been invited and about two hundred came. Campaign strategy was discussed and several pep talks were heard.

Six Inch Sermon

Jesus Understanding of Men. Lesson for October 15; Genesis 1: 27; Psalm 8; Matt. 12:9-21 Golden Text: John 2:25. It is in his personality that man is created in God's image, set above the lower animals by the power of thinking, feeling, and willing—in kind like God far less in degree.

Psalm 8 declares man's primacy among all created things. Pitiably small compared to worlds in pace, his mind is greater than matter. And from the days of the cave men to the present, man has overcome the disparity between his physical powers and those of the beasts—by weapons and means he has learned to use.

The healing of the withered hand in the synagogue Jesus employed for giving valuable teaching concerning the design of the Sabbath—He also taught the supreme worth of a man over a brute. Man is better than a sheep. All agree to this, but how many exalt their fellows, by their loving attitude toward them, above lesser creatures and material things? In their long, sad history, the great host of men have been used as mere pawns. The unmarked dust of millions of enslaved workers would plead for the rights of every man.

The closing section of the lesson gives a beautiful picture of Jesus carrying on the service He indicated by His own teaching in the synagogue—by His compassion toward the suffering and the sorrowing, amply fulfilling the prophecy of Isaiah. And through 20 centuries the gentiles have found hope through the Saviour of men. And all should be led to give their lives to the Blessed One who knows all about them and sets an infinite worth upon them.

Mrs. Everett Urges Women To Vote

North Carolina women do not take the interest in affairs of government that they showed a decade ago, in the opinion of Mrs. B. B. Everett, vice-chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee. Pointing to the pride which women in this state showed in their first opportunity to participate in the affairs of State and National governments twenty-five years ago, Mrs. Everett declared that the prediction at that time was that women would bring about great changes and reforms. "Although possibly for a time we tried to live up to our new opportunities, in recent years we have suffered a lapse of interest. Not only have we failed to show the proper interest in public affairs, but we have neglected to use our right to vote, and we have failed to train our young women to realize their opportunities," said Mrs. Everett.

She explained that women this year are expected to cast more than sixty per cent of the vote and warned that this goal will not be met unless each woman in the "smallest, most remote precincts of North Carolina register and vote." "In this year of decision it is every woman's duty to get out and help. We must not leave this matter entirely to the registrars and the election officials," asserted Mrs. Everett in pointing to the opportunity women of North Carolina have to play a part in the decisions of Government.

Mrs. Everett reminded Democratic women of the State that registrars will be in designated places in their respective precincts with books open for registration on October 15, 21, and 28. She urges all women of North Carolina to keep these dates in mind, but in doing so not to forget election day—November 7.

12,000 WOUNDED FLOWN TO U. S. SINCE D-DAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—A total of 12,000 wounded service men have been returned by airplane across the North Atlantic since June 6, D-Day, Col. Gordon G. Bulla, senior flight surgeon of the North Atlantic Division, Air Transport command, announced today.

The figure, he said, included litter and ambulatory cases. "The figure, he said, included litter and ambulatory cases. The figure, he said, included litter and ambulatory cases. The figure, he said, included litter and ambulatory cases."
