LETTERS FROM SOLDIERS

Davisville, R. I.
Camp Thomas

Hi, Fred.
It seems that I have waited quite a while before dropping you a line or two. But I have been pretty busy since I got back to this Yankee land. You see I am not with my old outfit any more. I was transferred out into station force. I don't know how long I will be here in R. I. but I hope to be here until spring anyway. As that would be a good time to come home on leave. If I would have remained with the 29th I would be on my way sometime this week for the west coast, and I have a good idea where they are going after they get to Camp Parks.

Fred, I guess you know this without me saying it, but the Eagle reads just as good up here as it did overseas, and I look forward every week for my copy. Well Fred, as time is short I will close for now, and hope the Eagle continues in future as it has in the past.

Always a friend,
PARKER GEORGE

Mr. and Mrs. Sneed of Crouse have received the following letter from their son.

Germany
My Dear Mother and Dad,
It makes me feel good to know that I can sit down and write you a few lines today. I pray that this letter will find both of you in the best of health. For myself I am feeling fine, only a little tired. But I still have plenty of faith. That is what it takes in this horrible life we are living.

I went to church services today to beat it all the Germans started to shell us in the middle of the sermon. We had to fall on the floor, till it was over. Then the preacher carried on. Thank God not a man was hurt. We have a wonderful preacher.

The people in the States seem to think the war is over. I will tell you this for the truth, Germany is the sixth country I have been fighting in. We are doing the hardest fighting we ever did. I have been fighting the Germans long enough to know what fighting is. Especially in their home land. Every move you make is dangerous. We have no help from no one.

I just read it. The paper that some one had wrote, wondering if the boys over seas were homesick, that sure did burn me up. Who wouldn't be homesick after fighting at the front for two years.

We eat, sleep, fight in the rain and mud. I don't know what a good bed is. I think God that he has been with me and kept me in good health.

Mother, I know that you are expecting me home for Christmas. God bless your soul. I hate to say anything to make you feel bad. Don't expect me until after the war. If it is the Lord's will, for he is the one that makes the preparations that a man has to do.

While fighting in the battlefield I never worry about myself. You and Dad are my greatest worry, and what I am fighting for I have to see my home go through the same thing that is going on here. It is terrible. I would never start to tell you about it. It might be a wrong thing to say, but I don't have any mercy for this country we are fighting in. What hurts me so bad is the price we are paying in nice young men, to conquer the devil. I see it every day with my own eyes. If the people in the states only knew what it costs to fight a war, the suffering and exposure of young men, they would get down on their knees and pray more to help us boys to fight this horrible war.

Mother, I'm sure your prayers have been answered, my confidence tells me that every day. It is hard for a soldier to live the right kind of life on the road we are traveling. We pray and do the best we can.

I had a new Bible today from the preacher. But I still carry the one you gave me 3 1-2 years ago. Hoping that I may carry it home before long.

How do you like your new home these days? I guess I will have a lot of new things to see when I get home.

I don't have much more to say, so you keep praying and smiling. Hoping to be home with you before long with a world of love.

Your son,

One of the outstanding faults in brooding chicks is overcrowding. Not over 2 chicks should be started for each square foot of floor space, is the recommendation of Prof. Roy Bearstyne at State College.

Six-Inch Sermon

† REV. ROBERT H. HARPER †

Christ in the Home.
Lesson for December 10: Gen. 1:27, 28; 2:18; Matthew 19:4-6; Golden Text: John 15:17.
II Timothy 1:3-6.

Luke 10:38-42; Ephesians 6:1-4; In Genesis we learn that marriage is ordained of God—certainly it is necessary to the ongoing of the race, and it brings to man and woman the finest blessings earth can give and opens to them the obligation and the opportunity to live for good in their children.

From Jesus we learn that marriage is for life and the home to be permanent. "What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder." The Master did not approve the easy divorce which Moses had allowed, and He named only one cause for divorce.

In the home at Bethany we find two sisters and a brother loving and devoted, with Jesus honored and a welcome guest. In Ephesians 6:1-4 we learn of the right relation between children and the parents—children should honor and obey, fathers should not deal harshly with their children, "but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

Someone said a child's education should begin 20 years before he is born; another said it should begin with his grandparents. Nearly 2000 years before these statements were made Paul had written Timothy of the faith of the young man's grandmother and mother. It was an inheritance of faith which had brought Timothy to Christ; rather was it both inheritance and environment—for much was inherited and from a child Timothy was trained by precept and example to love God.

Samples of bales of cotton going through the Government classing laboratory at Raleigh are about 10 per cent higher than of last year.

By actual measurement the temperature in the woods is about 90 degrees lower during the hot weather and about the same amount higher during cold weather than in adjoining fields.
