Health Habits For Third Shift Workers—The article discusses factors affecting the health and welfare of third shift workers. The number of whom have greatly increased during the war period and points out that absenteeism is greater on the third shift than in the other two shifts. It suggests proper periods of sleep and gives a schedule of proper times and suitable foods for the three or four meals for night workers. As a result of the recent publication on a nationwide basis in "Factory," requests are coming to the WMC State office for copies of the folder from many states in North Carolina many of the larger firms have asked for copies and given a copy to every third-shift worker. Dr. Dorton announces that sample copies are available for all employers who may desire to see the folder, with a view to reproducing and distributing it among their third shift workers, by writing to the State office or by calling at any of the six WMC area offices or any local U. S. Employment Service office.

Polio Victims Moved From Hickory To Memorial, Charlotte

CHARLOTTE.—The caravan was two miles long, and its 74 automobiles and 15 ambulances transported 88 victims of infantile paralysis from the emergency hospital in Hickory yesterday afternoon to Charlotte Memorial Hospital. With them came 45 nurses and six physio-therapists. The long line curved with night and swung up hill and down at an average speed of 30 miles an hour, leaving the Hickory hospital at 2:35 P. M. and arriving at Charlotte Memorial hospital at about 5 P. M. The 88 ranged in age from 10 months to 29 years. There were 48 girls and 41 boys and one man. Fifteen traveled in ambulances, the remaining 74 being distributed to the 74 cars. Some of the patients were carried in the arms of hospital attendants and the 10 "men who went to Hickory from Charlotte to lend aid, and some a majority went to the automobiles in wheel chairs. The girls, in many instances, carried dollies, jigsaw puzzles, books and other toys. One boy was accompanied by his dog. In all cases where a nurse was in constant attendance, that nurse accompanied her patient. FROM 42 COUNTIES The 88 hail from 42 counties in North Carolina. During the past summer and fall, 450 polio victims were admitted to the Hickory hospital. Twelve died, five of whom gained consciousness. Therefore, were unconscious upon entering the hospital and who never returned to their homes, virtually all again. Arriving in Charlotte they were assigned to beds in the new polio ward at Charlotte Memorial Hospital. Here accommodations have been set up for 130 patients; also nearby nurse quarters have been established.

The history-making transfer of 88 persons from the infantile paralysis section of the Hickory Emergency hospital was conducted under the auspices of the Variety club in Charlotte, with Max Bryant, chairman of the committee. The club was aided by Hickory police, as well as by 10 State highway patrolmen, five police officers from Charlotte and five from Mecklenburg county as well as 10 firemen from the Charlotte fire department.

Fire Chief W. Hendrix Palmer led the procession. He carried the first child to the caravan. Then came the remaining 72 cars, passing the pivotal point before the

SOLDIERS HOME NOW NOT AFFECTED BY NEW ROTATION POLICY

ATLANTA, Ga., March 7.—Soldiers home from overseas on 30-day temporary duty for rehabilitation, recuperation and recovery are not affected by the War Department's new rotation policy which states that rotational returns ordinarily will not be sent back on foreign service until they have had a tour of duty in this country. Major General Frederick E. Uhl, Commanding General of the Fourth Service Command, pointed out here today.

General Uhl stated that the ruling applies only to those men returned on rotation to the United States for a permanent change of station, and for reassignment—the immediate reassignment to be in the United States. Soldiers at home from foreign theatres on temporary duty for a period of thirty days except that privilege that they will be returned to the same overseas command in the same manner as if they were stationed at some military installation within the country.

Dr. A. G. Hahn of Hickory, and Dr. H. C. Whims of Newton, fathers of the polio division of the Hickory hospital, were there to lend aid. Miss Ethel M. Greenleaf, chief of the nursing corps, who was in charge, also directed operations. Dr. Hahn remarked that the mortality at the hospital from polio was the lowest of any treatment center in the United States, a fact of which he is proud and happy.

Miss Greathouse came to the hospital last summer from wide experience in the Public Health department of Hawaii, private work in Kentucky, Colorado and Florida. She praised highly the devotion to duty and efficiency of the nurses serving under her. During the course of the year, 530 nurses were sent to the hospital, which had 300 beds. The institution stands on a slight hill, two miles north of Hickory amid deep rural surroundings.

As the caravan pulled away, Chairman Max Bryant thanked his valiant aides for valiant service rendered. They are J. R. Bachman, R. O. Jeffries, and Jay Schrader. Also aiding was John Ward.

FLATH ASSISTS—Carl I. Flath, administrator of Charlotte Memorial Hospital, was at Hickory, also, and assisted in directing operations, as well as in Charlotte when the caravan arrived. He commented that the transfer not only was a record-breaking but a history-making event as well. He said that Dr. Robert Bennett, director of physical medicine at Warm Springs, Ga., had pronounced the patients well enough to be removed several days before the transfer was made.

Dr. Hahn said the structures at Hickory will be retained temporarily for future emergencies. The youngest child removed was Sherwood Brown, 10 months, of
