Merchants To Make Plans For Christmas Shopping Season

The members of the Cherryville Merchants Association are making plans for the Christmas shopping season which is expected to be the busiest shopping season since the Christmas of 1941.

The local merchants are hopeful that they will be able to get the quantities of special Christmas merchandise they will need, while shipments are slow they feel that the Christmas shopping season will find an increased stock for the Christmas shoppers.

Again Cherryville will have the Christmas street lights after four long years in the dark, the streets will again be brilliantly lighted for the holiday season this year.

The lights will be green, red and blue. Employees of the city water and light department will put the lights up. They will be strung up and down the Main street and across the square on Mountain Street. The center at the square will have some kind of a special decoration, probably a star. The lights will be put up and ready to turn on soon after Thanksgiving and will burn each night until Christmas.
