Reminiscences Of Cherryville

DAVID P. DELLINGER, A. W.
DAVID P. DELLINGER, A. M.

The death of Senator Clyde R. Hoey brings to mind many things of interest politically and otherwise. In the first place Mr. Hoey was elected a member of the 1899 House of Representatives of North Carolina before he had attained the age of 21, which is the age required by the Constitution for a person to serve in the House. However, after he was elected and on the 11th day of December following he became 21 and served one term in the House. Then he served a term in the State Senate. He later served in the National House of Representatives. Following that he served as Governor and in the course of time was elected to the United States Senate, the highest and most powerful legislative body in the world, and served until his death last week.

Next we note some of the interesting men serving with Senator Hoey in 1899. Honorable L. H. J. Houser, father of the editor of the EAGLE, was a member and served during that session. Mr. Henry G. Connor of Wilson County served as Speaker of the House during the session. Later he became Judge of the Superior Court and then of the Supreme Court of North Carolina. Climaxing his career he was appointed a United States Judge by a Republican President and served to the end of his days in the Eastern District of the state.

The Honorable Locke Craig of Buncombe County was a member with Senator Hoey. He was one of the most polished speakers and orators in the state for many years. As time went on Mr. Craig became governor of the state and made a fine record for himself in that capacity. The writer recalls that Governor Craig had many calls to make college commencement addresses.

Samuel M. Gattis of Orange County was a member of this distinguished legislative body. He was State Solicitor for some years and served as one of the most noted Grand Masters of the Grand Lodge of Masons of North Carolina.

The Honorable Ed J. Justice of McDowell County was a member of this noted 1899 session of the General Assembly. He was a powerful, influential member. In due time he served as Speaker of the House, the third highest office in the state government. After a number of years Mr. Justice moved from his native state to Greensboro and became one of the ablest and most noted attorneys in the state. Strange as it may seem he came back to the House after many years, and the writer had the honor of serving as a member with him.

The Hon. Walter F. Moore of certain responsibilities: to maintain the bicycle in good mechanical condition, to obey traffic rules and to watch out for others. Explains and demonstrates the rules of the road and other safety practices for bicycle riders.

2. CHOOSING YOUR MARRIAGE PARTNER. 14 minutes-sound-black & white. Describes the problem of Joe, a college student who is trying to decide which of two girls he should marry. The marriage counselor suggests an evaluation of the girls on the basis of emotional maturity, family background, philosophy of life, and harmony of personalities. Joe also realizes that he must evaluate himself.

3. GERMANY. 10 minutes-sound-color. Provides an interesting pictorial overview of Germany today—her scenic points of interest and historic shrines, aspects of her industry and agriculture, and salient facts concerning her people and their heritage.

4. HISTORIC NEW ENGLAND. 20 minutes-sound-color. Not a travelogue. It places primary importance on the historical, economical and geographic significance of the six New England states.

5. LAMENT. 18 minutes-sound-black & white. Features Jose Limon who interprets in the idiom of modern dance a poem by the Spanish poet Garcia Lorca. He appears as a Spanish bullfighter, tempted by Love and by Fate, who meets his death in the ring.

6. MAN'S PROBLEM. 17-minute-sound-color. A sequel to the film NATURV'S PLAN, this film makes amazingly clear our absolute dependence on an adequate supply of clear fresh water.

7. FROM TEE TO GREEN. minutes-sound-color. A tour of fine Canadian Golf courses, from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island. Setting out to hitch-hike across the country, a youngster earns his way by caddy-ing at courses in each province including the courses in such national parks as Prince Albert and Banff. Final scenes are of Bing Crosby enjoying a game of Jasper.

closed to the people, Scarborough has regularly met with various groups of city and county commissioners in his division. He has held many public meetings and hearings where road needs and problems are aired.

He is familiar with the duties of public service as he has been Chairman of the Iredell County Board of Welfare since 1952. In 1950, he was signally honored by his fellow citizens when he was named "Man of the Year" by the Statesville Civitan Club. Scarborough is past-president of the Statesville Kiwanis Club.

The Commissioner was born June 6, 1903, in Star. He is the son of Lillie Leach and the late George N. Scarborough. He graduated from Briscoe High School and then studied at old Trinity College (Duke) in Durham. July 15, 1939, he was married to Alice Elizabeth Lentz of Salisbury. They have a teen-age son, J. Fielding Scarborough, Jr., and a grandson, Franklin F. Smith, Jr.

The Scarboroughs are members of the Broad Street Methodist Church in Statesville. The Commissioner is a well-known figure in the automobile business. He is president of both the Scarborough Chevrolet Company (which was organized in May, 1935) and of the Auto Finance Company of Statesville. He is owner of the J. F. Scarborough Distributor Company, which deals in Gulf Oil Products. Division headquarters for the Twelfth are in Statesville. E. L. Kemper is Division Engineer.

Society would be delightful were all women married and all men single.—Edgar Saltus.

The worst thing about history is that every time it repeats itself the price goes up.

Know Your Commissioner

JUNE F. SCARBOROUGH

Raleigh, N. C.—As Commissioner of the Twelfth State Highway Division, June F. Scarborough directs the state's road maintenance and construction program in Alexander, Catawba, Cleveland, Gaston, Iredell and Lincoln Counties.

A year ago Governor Umstead named Scarborough along with thirteen other prominent business men to serve a four-year term in the newly created fourteen-division State Highway Commission. Umstead appointed A. H. (Sandy) Graham chairman of the Commission.

In his first year on the Commission, Scarborough has quickly grasped the varied demands and responsibilities of his job. Since his appointment, he has traveled extensively in his division and learned a great deal by observation and listening. In an effort to bring the state's road program
