James Roosevelt Victory Laid To Several Factors

Several Factors

Los Angeles, June 6.—Hew o'id Junes Roosevelt hurdle such political formidable obstacles as charges of adultry and opposition from his party's chieftain to win such a resounding victory in yesterday's primary election?

This question is being widely asked today as tabulations continue to show Roosevelt better than five to one ahead of his nearest rival for the Democratic homination for Comeess in California's king-size 26th District.

Some observers say the opposition against the late President's eldest son piled so high during the campaign that it reached the point of diminishing returns. That is, he won admiration and often symmathy for staying in the race against odds which would have forced most candidates to run for cover.

One of the greatest hurdles he against dougs which are to run for cover.

One of the greatest hurdles he overcame was publicity about his estranged wife's adultery charges; which he denied, contained in her separate maintenance suit.

Roosevelt himself gave one reason for his victory; the new state law which orders the party affiliation of candidates listed after their names on the ballot. Thus a Republican who has cross-filed in the Democratic race is listed in that race as a Republican.

Perhaps the biggest reason for Jimmy's triumph is the make-up of the 26th District, It is traditionally New Deal Democrat, with a registration of 158,987 Democrats and 74,801 Republicans.

Other victory factors: The political magic of the Roosevelt name. His pleasing personality. His intensive campaign, mostly in homes and chiefly in the form of question and answer sessions. And his stand on issues. His political omes and chiefly in the form of destion and answer sessions. And its stand on issues. His political lews are about the same as those f his father.

National Democratic Chairman tephen Mitchell had virtually orleved Roosevelt, who had the acking of the district Democratic Council, to withdraw until his antital affairs were settled.

This statement drew from California Democrate C h air m a nicorge Miller Ir. the comment: Mitchell would do well to keep its nose out of California politics.

Rioseveit also had the advan-age over his eight opponents of enig an experienced campaignes only politicism. He ran unsuccess-fully for governor against Earl Warren in 1950. He is a former state Democratic chairman and orante California National Demo-cratic Committeeman. And he was in aide to FDR.

Far outdistancing his six Demoaide to FDR.

far outdistancing his six Demotic rivals, Roosevelt ran secin the Republican race against c opponents and will face GOPsked Theodore (Ted) Owings, y clerk of Culver City, in the yember runoff.

As of April 30, 1954, the in-estment of the Commodity Credit or poration in price-supported ammoditics amounted to 86,188,-
