North Carolina Cuts Forest Fire Losses
RALEIGH — North Carolina, with a vigorous Keep Green organization, whacked its forest fire losses almost in half in 1953, the American Forest Products Industries reported.
The report, based on new government figures, showed 3,782 fires burned over 186,209 acres during the year. In 1952 the record was 4,280 fires and 357,843 burned-over acres. All but eight per cent of North Carolina's fire-lands is under organized fire protection.
"The educational fire prevention campaign conducted through the Keep North Carolina Green organization is certainly to be commended for its part in achieving this improved record," said Carr Gibson, Elizabethtown, chairman of the North Carolina Forest Industries Committee. "Our industries, government agencies and woodland owners are working to keep forest fires at a minimum."

Other forest fire losses shown in the report for 1953 included: Georgia, 401,573 acres; South Carolina, 72,867; Virginia, 35,197; Tennessee, 256,066; Mississippi, 773,620; and Alabama, 292,365.

Staying off a Seminole attack are Warren Stevens, Steve Cochran, Carole Mathews and Eugene Fox, in a scene from Technicolor's "SHANK RIVER" starting Wednesday at the BOSLAND DRIVE-IN THEATRE.
