Funeral Services Held Sunday For John T. Perkins

Funeral services were held in Lincolnton Sunday for John T. Perkins, 77, long-time editor and publisher of The Lincoln County News, and for many years a civic leader and booster of Lincolnton and the county.

Mr. Perkins was well-known and admired not only in his own county, but through the Carolinas and elsewhere. This year he was elected commander of the North Carolina Department of Spanish-American War Veterans. He served in Cuba in 1898.

Last rites, attended by persons from a wide area, were conducted at 3 p. m. in the First Methodist Church by the Rev. Cecil Heafner, with burial following in Hollybrook cemetery.

Mr. Perkins died at 2:30 p. m. Friday in the Veterans Hospital at Swannanoa, following a partial stroke which he had suffered at his home here about a month ago.

A former publisher of the Lincoln County News, he had done newspaper work on the Durham Herald, The Greensboro Daily News, The Columbia State and the Rock Hill.

John Tilden Perkins was born on a farm near Roxboro in Person County October 7, 1876, the son of the late Charles P., and Mildred Nelson Perkins. When only nine months old, his parents died and he and his brothers spent six years in the Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville.

As a boy he learned the printer's trade and for many years was connected with the newspaper industry.

In September, 1913, Mr. Perkins came to Lincolnton from Columbia, S. C., and purchased the Lincoln County News from the late Milton Tilden. In 1918 he was named by the board of aldermen to serve an unexpired term.

In 1919 he was elected mayor for a two-year term.

He was a member of the Lincolnton Rotary Club, Masonic Lodge, Knights of Pythias and Woodmen of the World. In faith he was a Methodist.

In 1898 he volunteered for service in the Spanish-American War, having enlisted in Co. I, First North Carolina Volunteer Infantry. He had one year of active service in Cuba during this enlistment. During World War I he was chairman of the publicity committee of the war organization in Lincoln County.

BISHOP ROBINSON MUCH IMPROVED

Bishop A. P. Robinson of Roan Mountain, Tenn., writes he is much improved now and is feeling pretty good. He wants to thank the good friends of he and his wife for the beautiful get well cards and letters they have received. Especially do they want to thank the Mothers Bible Class of the Second Baptist Church, signed by the pastor, Rev. Waldo Mullen and the teacher, Mrs. Dan Black and everyone of the 32 class members.

Rev. Leroy Trexler Gives Report On Church Meeting

An opportunity which comes only once-in-a-lifetime has just been offered the clergy of this country. It was the chance to attend one of the Ecumenical Institutes held in the Chicago area just prior to the opening of the World Council of Churches on August 15. Churchmen from all over the world, assembled here for the second assembly of the World Council of Churches, participated in these Institutes. These Institutes met simultaneously on six campuses of the Chicago area for two periods of a week each, August 2 - 14. Two pastors from Cherryville attended the second week. Rev. Walter R. Kelly, of the First Methodist Church and Rev. Leroy C. Trexler of St. John's Lutheran. They stayed on the campus of the University of Chicago. A grand total of 1500 were registered for this second week at all six centers.

The lectures on the University of Chicago campus were sponsored by the Federation of Theological Schools, which include the Disciples Divinity House, Chicago Theological Seminary, the Divinity School, and Meadville Theological School. The Disciples Church on the University Campus, served as the site for the lectures. The first lecturer heard each morning was a fat, jovial, balding Frenchman, with a thick, stubby mustache, Pierre Maury, who is a past president of the Reformed Church of France. He set forth the "Calvinistic teaching on 'PREDESTINATION'". The second speaker, a kindly and gentle man with a wonderful command of the English language, Dr. Hendrick Kraemer, is from the Reformed Church of Holland, but at present is director of the Ecumenical Institute in Bossey, Switzerland. His first two lectures were on the Bible, Its Uniqueness, and Its Relevance. He pointed out that it is only as we return to the Bible that we can learn our situation today, and the calling before us.

The remainder of his time was devoted to "THE LAY ISSUE". Layti, he said, means "people of God." There is a ministry of the clergy and a ministry of the laity. Both are a part of God's continuing ministry to the world. The laity must be made conscious of being called and sent into the world of God, he stated. Dignified, eloquent, and scholarly, Dr. S. L. Greenslade, Anglican Canon of Durham Cathedral in England, was the concluding speaker. He traced some crises of Christian unity and gave something of their historical setting. The crisis he discussed were the early heresies, the schism of 1054, and the reformation schism. He concluded that schisms or divisions are right only if there is a threat to the central doctrine and the threat can be remedied in no other way. We should always be sure that the evils against which we protest are greater than the evil of disunity.

Other lecturers heard during the week included M. M. Thomas, first-chairman of the World's Student Christian Federation, and a member of the historic Mar Thoma Church, of Malabar, India; Lesslie Newbigin, a bishop in the Church of South India, whose latest contribution to the Ecumenical movement, HOUSEHOLD OF GOD, is a recent Religious Book Club selection; and Reinhold Ch. Thadden, a German layman. Dr. von Thadden is the founder of the famous Kirchentag in Germany, which brought 650,000 Christians together in July at Leipzig, Germany, behind the Iron Curtain. He is a sick man, having undergone eight throat operations since the war. He said that the chief task in the next decade is to make manifest the existence of the Christian community. The world today needs to know how to live together. Who else but the Church is fitted to show the world a spirit of unity and cooperation? He concluded by saying, "We must not sit waiting in an ecstatic hope, waiting for the work while it is still 'y'." On Wednesday evening, at the Chicago Lutheran Seminary, the Summer graduation service was held, with a Presbyterian missionary the chief speaker, Dr. Samuel Hugh Moffett, who has recently returned from China, where he was interned by the Communists. He spoke of the zeal and evangelistic fervor of the communists — 2,000,000 communist missionaries are at work today to win China for Christ.

Summer Activities End At Carlton

The playground activities at the Carlton will end this week. Events have been met with much enthusiasm and participation has exceeded past summers.

Those receiving credit for the course were Mike Altran, Harriette Seals, Mary Leslie Seals, Kay Henkle, Dennis Anthony, Tommy Howell, Vance Schrum, Wade Moss, Jerry Tate, Dean Tate, Kenneth Page and Re Morison. The pool was enjoyed by the old and young and in addition to Carlton members, there were approximately 459 guests.

The recreational baseball program was considered a success. Two types teams were fielded. One type was the midget group; the other being adult. The midget group was divided into two teams and were called the Cardinals and the Bluebirds. There were sixteen games played before a "Little World Series" was held and each team won eight games each in the "Little World Series".

The Cardinals won two games and the Bluebirds won three games thus giving the Bluebirds the championship. Members of the Cardinals team were Alanzo Morrison, Kent Seism, Jimmy Sisk, Gary Cook, Nicky Anthony, Ralph Randall, Keith Reep, Gerald Yount and Keith Black. Members of the Bluebird squad were Dennis Anderson, Buddy Tate, Johnny Black, Bobby Peeler, Wayne Kester, Gary Willis, Johnny Ford and Dennis Ramsey. The adult team showed up well at the end of the year after a slow start. Victories for this team were at the Mills of Gastonia, Dover of Shelby and Lowell.

Also included in the recreational program were tournaments in tennis, croquet and ping pong. Fishing trips and hikes were held and for the first time under the supervision of Mrs. Hugh Sneed. Arts and crafts were met with interest as the children made rock ends, stools, baskets, Indian hatchets, bows and arrows, paintings, rugs and jewelry boxes.

The Ten Club was under the supervision of Mrs. Hugh Sneed. She had as her assistant Mrs. Rachel Beam. This club made drawings, sang, colored, played games and, of course, had refreshments each day.

Softball has had a part in the program with the difference shifts playing each other. These teams are still in action and going strong.

The highlight of this week is the New York trip. This trip consists of Carlton employees and Carlton citizens who will spend five days seeing the city.
