Last Thursday was a big day in Cherryville. If you didn't see the Parade, you missed a treat. It was the largest parade ever held in Cherryville. The parade also officially opened the Christmas shopping season in Cherryville. The colorful Christmas lights were turned on East and West, main streets and North and South, on Mountain streets and everything is in full swing for a real Christmas celebration. In connection with the opening of the Christmas season you will find in the Christmas shopping editions of The Eagle from now until Christmas thousands of suggestions for a Merry Christmas for your family and friends. If you have been guilty of going out of town to do your shopping in the past, a visit to local places of business will convince you that local merchants carry the best and their prices are most reasonable, and you will save the wear and tare of the car and several gallons of gasoline too—so there is no point in running all over other counties to buy what you can buy at home cheaper. Look over the advertisements in this issue and each issue from now through Christmas and do your shopping while stocks are good and complete in every department.

Voting Dec. 14 Cotton Referendum

Raleigh—M. G. Mann, general manager of the N. C. Cotton Growers Association, said today the issue in the December 14 cotton referendum is simply this: Farmers will be voting on price supports, not acreage allotments. Acreage allotments, he explained, have already been fixed by law and will be in effect next year regardless of the outcome of the referendum. Unless growers comply with their allotments, they will be subject to penalties. If two-thirds or more of those voting favor marketing quotas, then prices will be supported at around 90 per cent of parity. If less than two-thirds favor quotas, support prices will be dropped to 80 per cent of parity. Therefore, Mann said, the main issue in the balloting is this: "Do you want price supports at approximately 90 per cent of parity or around 80 cents a pound in 1955 or do you want supports at 50 per cent of parity or about 16 1-2 cents a pound?" The referendum will be held by secret ballot in every cotton-producing county. All farmers who grew cotton in 1954 will be eligible to cast a ballot. Under a marketing quota program, growers who do not exceed their cotton acreage allotments may market, without penalty, the entire production of cotton on the farm. Growers who overplant their allotments will be subject to penalties of 50 per cent of parity on their excess production. "Since the price of cotton next year will depend on how farmers vote December 14," Mann said, "it is important that every eligible farmer cast his ballot. Unless the referendum is carried, farmers will be faced with nothing short of calamity. Prices, in my opinion, would drop a minimum of 10 cents a pound before another crop is made should the referendum fail to carry."

SHELBLY SOLDIER IS SERVING IN GERMANY
Schwaebisch Gmuend, Germany—Army PFC Joe D. Moore, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moore, Route 3, Shelby, N. C., is serving with the 35th Field Artillery Group in Germany. Moore, a field wireman with the group's Headquarters Battery, entered the Army in December 1953 and arrived overseas last May from Fort Riley, Kan.

Cotton Vote Set For December 14

Tuesday, December 14, is the day cotton growers will decide whether marketing quotas will continue in effect on the 1955 cotton crop, officials of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee have reminded farmers. All farmers who grew upland cotton in 1954 will be eligible to vote in the upland cotton referendum. At least two-thirds of the growers voting by secret ballot must approve the quota if they are to continue in effect. The vote follows the Secretary of Agriculture's proclamation, on October 14, of a national marketing quota and a national acreage allotment for the 1955 crop of upland cotton. Such a proclamation must be made under the law when the prospective "total supply" of cotton exceeds the "normal supply." The total supply of upland cotton for the 1954-55 marketing year was estimated in October at 21.5 million running bales, more than 2.8 million bales above the normal supply of 18.7 million bales. If farmers approve quotas by the necessary two-third majority voting, the price support available to eligible growers will be at a level between 82 1/2 and 90 per cent of parity. If the quotas are voted down, the maximum level of support to eligible growers for 1955 crop cotton will be 50 per cent of parity.

REFERENDUM COMMITTEE MEETING ON DECEMBER 14

The Cotton Referendum is to be held on December 14th and community Committees will hold the referendum in the Communities of the county. In order that we may make plans for the referendum, there will be an important meeting of all community committees at the ASC Office on S. Marietta Street, Gastonia, N. C. on Tuesday, December 7th at 10 o'clock in the morning. We hope you can arrange to be here. If you cannot attend please notify one of the alternates on your committee.

Unique Foods And Sparkle To Your Yule Festivals

It's time now to begin thinking in terms of what you'll serve when friends drop in during the holiday season. Russian tea is always a good old weather beverage, but for the sake of variety, try this hot spiced grape juice. It's a recipe taken from the files to Ruth Current, state home demonstration agent. Hot Spiced Grape Juice: Juice of 1 lemon, 1 quart of grape juice (canned or frozen), 2 cups boiling water, 1-2 cup sugar, 2 nutmegs (cracked), 1-2 sticks cinnamon, 4 pieces orange rind. Cut the orange rind into small pieces (free from white inner skin). Heat all ingredients together and simmer for about 10 minutes. Strain. Serve hot. Serve with the hot grape juice cheese straws or several kinds of your favorite Christmas cookies. For a festive holiday touch, float a lemon slice in each cup of punch and top it with a red cherry and a small leaf of holly. This deep red punch is unique in its flavor and will keep conversation flowing smoothly as the guests try to name its unusual ingredient combination.
