

COLLEGE DAYS THURSDAY - FRIDAY & SAT.

CHEERLEAGUE BATTLE SHELBY THERE MON.

Winners Meet KM Hovis To Toss At 4;

Ronnie Hovis, who turned in five no-hit, no-run games in seven starts this season, will get the supreme test next Monday afternoon when Cherryville takes on Shelby in the first round of the Area Four play-offs at Shelby. The game, booked for City Park behind the Shelby Community Center, is slated to get under way at 4 o'clock.

Original plans called for Kings Mountain to scrap Shelby and Cherryville tangle with the Bur-Mill All-Stars of Gastonia but when the Gastons were forced to withdraw from the affair, new pairings were drawn with the Cherryville-Shelby winner colliding on Tuesday at 4 o'clock with Kings Mountain for the area crown.

RONNIE HOVIS

There are four districts of play in the old North State with each district composed of four areas. Area One of District Three will hold their two-day tournament in Charlotte with four Queen City all-stars teams - namely, Dilworth Rotary, Civitan, Myers Park and North Charlotte YMCA - vying for honors. Four Gastonia all-star clubs - Harold Mercer, United Service, Little Southern, and Textiles - take the field at Gastonia with Monroe, Belmont and Mecklenburg County hitting for Area Two honors at Monroe. Should the Cherries take Shelby and Kings Mountain into camp, they will go to Gastonia to play the three other area winners for the district title. That tournament is slated for Friday and Saturday at Todd Field in the Spindle city. The state affair is held at Charlotte August 9 and 10 with the regionals at Rome, Ga. Williamsport, Penn. is the site of the Little World Series.

Hovis, who has fanned 84 men, walked 20 in seven games, will go against a hard-hitting club in the form of Shelby, topped by Charles Noggle, Dwight Street, Gene Blanton, the Sheliens have a club that could go all the way. Other members of the Shelby nine, coached by Oatis Cash and Howard Lee, are Eckle Hollifield, Dean Howard, Dean Yarbough, Gene Holland, Dennis Morrison, Julian Wray, Mike Pasmore, Bob Sherrill, Roger Cash, and Dan O'Shields.

Hovis carries a torrid .681 batting average into the state play-offs. Ronnie has collected 30 for 44 with eight home runs, and six triples among his collection. He has batted in 31 runs. Larry Turner, who will probably be behind the plate Monday afternoon, has an average of .577 (26 for 45). Other members of the pennant-winning Carolina outfit expected to be in the starting lineup next week are Jim Clawson and George Lohr, who are the other local stars with Lail, Craft, and Jenkins around to aid Hovis and Watts in the pitching department.

Probable Starting Lineups: SHELBY
Clawson, R.F. Noggle, S.B. Turner, C.R. Cash, C.F. Hovis, P. Howard, 3B L. Jenkins, C.F. Blanton, 2B R. Jenkins, 3B Morrison, C. Lail, SS Street, 2B Craft, 2B Sherrill, 1B Lohr, LF O'Shields, SS Moss, 1B Wray

Carry overs of wheat, corn, cotton, rice, minor feed grains, and some oil crops, will be at or near the peak this year. Much of this is held by Commodity Credit Corporation.

"Pretty Boy" The Eagle's Talking Parakeet Is Dead

"Pretty Boy," the Eagle's talking parakeet is dead. It accidentally broke its neck last Saturday evening about 6:45 o'clock at the home of its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Fred K. Houser, when he flew against a door he thought was open. The bird, which was 17 months old, was purchased from Mr. Hal Peeler when it was only one month old and had made its home at The Eagle Office ever since, therefore coming in contact with thousands of people from far and near during its existence here on earth.

Many school children from the Cherryville City Schools, Tryon High Schools, North Brook Schools, Crouse Schools and Waco Schools had visited the Eagle Office Printing Plant last year and was entertained and they were all thoroughly appreciative of seeing and watching the smart Parakeet do tricks as well as talk to them on each occasion. Hundreds of customers and dozens of Paper and Stationery Salesmen were amazed at the bird's vocabulary. Hon. David P. Dellinger, Walter Pope, J. C. Beam, Buck Thornburgh, Ralph Towery, Mrs. Ambros Hendricks, L. Webb McGinnis, Slim Sigmon, Mrs. Slim Sigmon, Prof. Fenton L. Larson, Mrs. Fenton L. Larson, Miss Bill Mauney, Claude C. Beam, A. K. Melton, A. Sidney Beam, John Hovis, Jack W. Beam, David Beam, Thomas Beam, Phil Datnoff, Henry Michael, Blanche Self, Miss Helen Mauney, Walter Chapman, the Rat Man, Paul Towery, the Towel man, Emmett Houser, Jr., Janie Dellinger, Rex Eaker, Genie Browne, Jerry and Joe Gaine, the delivery men and many other people called in The Eagle Office quite often to see and talk with the wonder bird. It had a vocabulary that was unequalled to any other parakeet in this section of the country, and Hal Peeler, a Parakeet raiser and fancier, said it was among one of the finest birds he had ever seen and could say more words and phrases than he had ever heard in his long years of dealing with Parakeets. He even placed emphasis on some of his words.

"Pretty Boy" will not only be missed by its many admirers, but will be greatly missed by the entire Eagle Office force, as with his cheery way of life always in the office, he brought a pleasant disposition made work here at the Eagle much easier for all of us.

He seemed to look forward to paper day when he picked up the nickles from the sales of Eagles, off the table and dropped them off the edge of the table on the floor and then peep over the edge to see where they went.

Pretty Boy was carefully and tenderly laid away Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in a little white box lined with red in the shade of the fig bush in the back yard at the Houser home on West Church Street, under a marker slab. Houser, Pretty Boy is gone, his cage is empty, the home is silent, but his memories will live on forever. And let us say in closing, that if you have a Parakeet or any bird with above the average intelligence, please be very careful with the fine feathered friend, because when it passes away, it hurts much deeper than you think.

Mr. Smart expressed his regrets on having to leave here and had given plans laid out for the coming fall months at Rose's.

CAROLINA FREIGHT CARRIERS PARTNERS IN SAFETY CAMPAIGN

William Carl Fraley Killed By Tractor

Funeral services were held Monday at 4 p. m., at Holland Memorial Baptist Church, Bessemer City, for William Carl Fraley, 51, who was killed Saturday morning in a tractor accident on the John Dameron farm.

Officiating were the Rev. J. N. Grant, pastor of Holland church, and the Rev. Yancey Carter of Ragan Wesleyan Methodist Church. Burial was made in the Bessemer City Memorial Cemetery.

Fraley had gone to the field to plow about 7 a. m., and his body was discovered near the tractor about an hour later. He apparently died of a broken neck, in a fall from the careening farm vehicle.

Coroner W. J. McLean convened a jury for an inquest, although investigations indicated that Fraley's death occurred from an accident. Members of the jury were Joe Cappe, Henry L. Davis, J. J. Costner, Jr., Lee Costner, Major Costner, Clayton Stewart, and F. M. Carswell.

Surviving Mr. Fraley are five sons, two brothers, and five sisters.

Graveside Service For Gilbert Infant

Graveside services were held Tuesday afternoon, July 19th, at 4:30 o'clock for the infant daughter, Regina Lynn, of M/Sgt. and Mrs. Billy Gilbert.

The baby was born on Saturday, July 16th, at the Shelby Hospital.

Freida Beth Kelly To Attend Meeting

Miss Freida Beth Kelly of Cherryville is one of 80 Methodist women who will attend a national seminar August 2 to 11 in Kansas City, Mo., to discuss what the Christian woman's attitude should be toward community, national and world problems.

The women, representing the two-million-member Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, will consider questions such as integration, the United Nations and the relations among churches around the world. The seminar, to be held at the National College for Christian Workers, will be sponsored by the Department of Christian Social Relations of the Woman's Society.

The theme, "A Christian Woman Understanding Her World," will be emphasized in speeches, panel discussions and work sessions of small groups. On the last two days, findings of the work groups will be presented to all delegates for adoption.

In most cases, a delegate has been chosen to represent the Woman's Society in one of the 105 Methodist annual conferences across the country. Most of the women will hold similar seminars in their areas when they return home.

Miss Kelly is a youth representative for the Woman's Society in the Western North Carolina Conference.

Mr. Boyles lives on North Mountain Street and said he had the nicest garden and plenty more tomatoes just as large as the ones he presented to the Eagle Office.

Carlton Team Takes Shelby Industrial Lead; Faces Civics, Shelby Mill Soon

LAWDALE. Carlton took a one game lead in the Shelby Industrial circuit here Monday afternoon by trimming Lawsdale 10-3, while second place Civics was idle. Last weekend, Civics the club that had led the loop all season, fell before Shelby Mill to give the Cherries a one-half game advantage.

Righthander Don Saine, who did some pitching at University of North Carolina last spring, was in complete command Monday. He fanned seven batters in the five inning contest, walked one, and gave up four knocks. The winners secured nine blows off three Lawndale hurlers with starter Bruce Richards charged with the defeat.

Charles Randall, who entered the game with a 500 average, blasted out a grand-slam home run and double in three trips to the dish with Ted Leonhardt and Bill Beach, also getting two blows. Two legion performers—T. L. Sain and Darrell Lail—garnered a hit apiece with another junior, Ronald Turner, playing fine ball in centerfield.

Bill Beach turned in the games' sparkling defensive gem. The Catawba College athlete raced far to his left to pull down a drive near the left center field bank in the third frame. The drive, by ex-Shelby legion star Roger Pearson, would have been a sure double.

Carlton broke a scoreless duel with two runs in the top of the third on T. L. Sain's single, a walk to Lail, Don W. Alexander's perfect sacrifice, another free ticket, and an error. Randall's two-bagger and a single by Beach netted another tally in the fourth.
