These books are "Creative Ceramics," by Katherine Morris Lester, given by Mrs. J. L. Putnam, Jr.; "The Old Testament and the Fine Arts," by Cynthia Pearl Masus, a gift from Mrs. Barbara M. Goldiners To Be Honored Aug 17th.

The Cherryville Merchants Association will sponsor a "Going-Away Dinner" for Mr. and Mrs. Max Goldiner, Wednesday, August 17th, at the Woman's Club House at 7:30 P. M., who will move to Florida from here about September 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldiner came to Cherryville 32 years ago and opened the Racket Store in the present location where the New Goldiner's is now located. They operated the Racket Store for a number of years, later putting in a modern and up-to-date Dry Goods Store, selling everything a modern store would handle, and changing the name to "Goldiner's Department Store". They made a great success out of the business and Max and his good wife, Clara, retired a few years ago, due to ill health.

The Goldiners have made many friends in Cherryville since coming here, who regret to see this good family leave for Florida, where they will make their future home. They have three children: Irving, Hilda and Manuel Goldiner, all three graduating in the Cherryville City Schools.

Max has always been a civic minded person, always being for anything that would help Cherryville and her people by contributing of his time and money for the advancement of Cherryville.

The following letter has been sent all members of the Merchants Association here. However, not only members are invited to this farewell dinner for the Goldiners, but any one who might wish to attend. Just notify Guy Howell, Henry Michael, J. E. Costner or Kenneth Beam, who have been appointed on the committee:

The letter follows:

August 8, 1955

SUBJECT: Going away dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Max Goldiner and family.

After 32 years service to Cherryville and community, Mr. and Mrs. Goldiner and family will leave Cherryville for Florida around the first of September.

The business people of Cherryville believe it appropriate and fitting to honor the Goldiner family with a dinner before their departure. Also, a plaque will be presented to the Goldiners with the following engraving: "Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Goldiner and Family for 32 Years Service to Cherryville and Community."

This is a co-operative event and you are invited to participate. The cost has been estimated at $5 per couple which covers a full course dinner for two, cost of plaque, and printing and mailing costs.

If you wish to take part in this event please return the bottom half of this letter with check and number reservations required no later than Saturday, August 13th, 1955.

The dinner will be held Wednesday, August 17th, Woman's Club, 7:30 P. M.

Committee: Kenneth Beam, Henry Michael, J. E. Costner and Guy Howell.

Wants It On Voluntary Basis DIRECT APPEAL MADE TO THE NEGRO CITIZENS

RALEIGH—A program which would, in effect, continue segregation on a voluntary basis to avoid a choice between integration or abandonment of public schools was urged by Governor Hodges Monday night.

In a direct appeal to Negro citizens of the state, the governor urged them to "take pride in your race by attending your own schools."

He contended that citizens or organizations which attempt to force the state into a decision between integration or abandonment of schools will "have done North Carolina the greatest disservice... in the 180 years of its existence as a state."

Hodges coupled his plea for voluntary continuation of separate schools with strong criticism of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in a 36-minute address broadcast state wide by television and radio stations.

A Negro spokesman commented that Gov. Hodges' speech on segregation showed no evidence "of a plan or program acceptable to the freedom-loving Negroes of North Carolina to de-segregate public schools."

NAACP HEAD
Kelly Alexander, of Charlotte, head of the North Carolina chapter of the NAACP, said Hodges' speech was "an appeal to the Negroes of North Carolina to compromise on their fundamental constitutional rights."

He said it is "contrary to the law of the land" and an act without faith "for a high state official to encourage the continuation of public schools" on a segregated basis.

Hodges pictured North Carolina as being "at the crossroads" in meeting the decision by the U.S. Supreme Court that racial segregation in schools is unconstitutional. The course the state follows, he said, will involve "the future of our children—and our children's children."

He called on white and Negro to cooperate and "through good will and pride in the integrity of our respective racial cultures and way of life, continue our separate school voluntarily."

Death Takes A. C. Dellinger Of Quency

QUINCY CAL., Aug. 4.—Quincy lost one of its most prominent citizens and businessmen this morning when A. C. Dellinger, owner of the local Ford agency and the Quincy Water Company, died in the Pudmas Industrial Hospital at 7:05 o'clock.

"Dell" as he was known to his many friends and business associates, had been confined to a hospital since his collapse with a heart attack, July 7, while testifying at a water rate hearing in the court house. He had not been in good health, having suffered several previous attacks, the first one felling him in Paris, France, in 1952, while he was taking a trip around the world.

Dellinger was born Oct. 4, 1907 in Cherryville, N. C., where his father, David Greer Dellinger, and several relatives are still living. While still a young man Dellinger came west to launch himself on a career as a business man.

He was married August 28, 1930, to Ruth Henrietta who survives him.

Dellinger became occupied in mining, first in Randsburg and then in Georgetown, California.

He settled in Plumas County in 1934, becoming manager of the Five Bear Mine at Nelson Point, a post which he held for the ensuing two years.

In 1936 Dellinger moved to Quincy and became the owner of an automobile agency in an old building on West Main St. He later moved the agency to the corner of Main and the intersection with Highway 40A, and then sold the business to Jim Patterson.

Dellinger began expanding his business enterprises in 1938, when he joined in partnership with Ken Metzker to purchase the Plumas Logging Co., at Twain and go into the logging trade. During the war years his lumber business prospered and flourished, and he retired from logging and mining in 1951, selling out to High Sierra Pine Mills. Later in the same year he bought the Quincy Water Company.

Band Director Grabill Urges All To Be Present

Band summer pre-school training will commence Monday, August 15. This pre-school training will include instrumental students in grades 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12. It is of the utmost importance that all these students register with Band Director F. D. Grabill in the high school band room on this date during the hours of 8 to 12 and 1 to 4. It would also be appreciated if a student is out of town on this date that his parents notify by telephone or a visit to the band room.

The importance of this pre-school training is emphasized and endorsed very strongly by the school administration as the band activities and performances take place the first of September along with the opening of the football season. Marching practice, playing with instruments as a band, private practice, readiness of equipment and issuing of band uniforms are emphasized during these two weeks.

A tentative schedule has been drawn up and is as follows:

8:30 to 9:30—7th, 8th and 9th grade students marching drill.
9:30 to 10:30—7th, 8th and 9th grade ensemble instrumental practice.
10:30 to 11:30—Majorettes drum major, etc.
1 to 4—Supervised individual private practice of 10th, 11th and 12th grade students. Time for each student is optional according to their wishes.
6:30 to 7:30—Full marching band drill.
7 to 8—Inside band rehearsal.

The evening practice schedule will be on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. This schedule will be followed August 16th till the opening of school. Mr. Grabill stated that any conflict whatsoever can be worked out satisfactorily. August 15 has been reserved as registration day for band students from the above grades. Beginning band students from the 5th and 6th grades will be accepted in October.

Mr. Grabill is most optimistic on the prospects of the coming school year, although it will be a great challenge to better last year's band which everyone knows ended up as superior band in the state classification remain with the students themselves.
