Mrs. J. N. Neill, 207 Dixie Street, was the winner of the first prize at Doby's Men's Shop dur-ing the registration opening last week-end. Mrs. Neil won $25 in merchandise. Mrs. Fay Wright of the Dell-view Road won the second prize which was choice of a pair of Jarman Shoes.

Third dose 7 to 9 months after second. There will be no make-up clin-ics, children that miss the clinic in the schools will be referred to private physicians for vaccina-tion. If, however, they make up the dose they missed by private vaccination, they can attend the next clinic in the schools. No child will be vaccinated in the schools unless the child has a signed parental request dated AFTER September 1, 1955. Before clinics can be set-up, the following information will be needed: 1. The number of children who have returned to the teacher a signed parental request who have since decided to go to private physicians instead of the clinic. 2. The number of children whose parents have failed to re-turn parental request who and/or third doses in clinics. Forms are being distributed to supply this information, The co-operation of teachers and parents is essential for smooth operation of the clinics.

WHAT ABOUT IT?

I have had my feelings hurt By women I say to you. But, often it has been my fau't Now, wait, this may get you.

We men are just like women, Have suspected us all the time; When I get out and investigate I find the fault's part mine.

I say I cannot please myself As I go along the way, Why should I expect a woman to Now to you, let me say.

Men stay away from certain places Such as the gambling hall, Don't go around and just get drunk, Now that won't do at all.

Just stay at home with your wife She's the best friend of all. I'm not impersonating no special one

I am trying to say to all. Now if we do promise her To not get drunk no more, She simply will not trust us The way we done before.

This thing of just lazing round Now let us cut that out, Then when we men come in at night We'll find our wife about.

You many find her a singing When you come home at night, Then you both feel at heart That you were treated right.

Now I have made many mistakes I say because it's true, My wife has never got on to me For things I didn't do.

Gastonia Girl Gets March of Dimes Scholarship Recently

Scholarship Recently Miss Elizabeth F, Little of 205 South Ransom Street, Gastonia, has been awarded a March of Dimes scholarship by the National Foundation for Infantile Paraly-sis, it was announced today by Julius Sanders, Gaston County Chapter chairman. March of Dimes scholarships are part of a comprehensive pro-fessional education program which today ranks as the largest ever undertaken by a voluntary agency. Since 1938, when the Na-tional Foundation was established, §20.250,000 has been authorized to train the minds and hands of professional personnel for service in fields relating to poliomyelitis and other diseases which beset the community.

community. The scholarship awarded Miss Little was conferred upon recom-mendation of a national commit-tee of leaders in the medical soci-al work profession, and affords op-portunity for graduate study in this field. She will study at Tulane University School of Social Work, New Orleans. Medical social workers, accord-ing to Mr. Sanders, play an im-portant role in providing assist-ance to polio-stricken patients and their families. A total of 675 awards in this field have been made to date, but a critical short-age of medical social workers still exists, he declared. In announcing this award, Mr. Sanders pointed out that the Na-tional Foundation's educational program also provides grants, en-abling schools and professional as-sociations concerned with medical and associate medical personnel to maintain and improve their edu-cational standards and services. The professional education pro-rma is directed by Dr. Catherine Worthingham.

Saturday morning about 2 A. M. the home of Mr. Walter White-sides on Angle street was com-pletely burned down and all the furniture was destroyed. Firemen were called to the seene but the house was already falling m when they arrived. Mr. Whitesides was at work on the second shift and no one was at home. Origin of the fire was unknown. Monday morning about 9 o'clock the firemen were called to Free-dom where the house of Haywood Mackey (occupied by Will Bar-nes) was on fire. This house was unable to battle the blaze when cas from the gas pipes began leaking and spreading the fire and finally resulted in an explosion. Faulty wiring was blamed for this blaze.
