"YES, MA'AM!"

"YES, MISS!"

"YES, SIR!"

"YES, INDEED!"

He'd love to be a "Yes" Man

THE LOT of your electrical appliance dealer is not an easy one these days. Your appetite has been whetted to a fine edge for all the wonderful electrical appliances promised in the post-war world.

And you've noted with hopefulness our frequent reminder — "Buy Electrical Appliances from Your Dealer."

Reconversion, production and distribution problems of many varieties have beset the industry as a whole, and have been reflected in your dealer's stock. He has had some of the appliances you wanted, in limited number. Others are available from time to time, some are still in the dream stage, some may be waiting for you at your dealer's tomorrow. Probably his own wife gives him a bad time about "That old washing-machine! Can't I have a new one?"

He'd love to be a 'yes' man. We mean it when we say:
