IN PRESENTING this citation, Rear Admiral J. T. Mathews, (CEC) USN, Superintending Civil Engineer, Area IV, said in part:

“Through the Utilities War-time Aid Program, your company rendered invaluable service to the Naval shore establishments and to those defense plants engaged in building ships and planes and numerous other items required by the Navy to wage successful warfare. This service was outstanding in efficiency and continuity, resulting in great savings of manpower and materials, and was a real contribution towards victory.”
