Flowers and Kisses Go Hand In Hand For Some

By ANNE SEXTON

It's nice to know someone reads what I write and then thinks enough about it to remember . . . and that's just what Mrs. Maywood Taylor of Gates did.

Mrs. Taylor stopped by the office Saturday morning, and as luck would have it, I happened to be out at the time. I didn't know of the pleasant surprise she had brought me until I returned.

The boss (Mr. Morris) and his son, Dale, left late Friday afternoon to go to Cape Hatteras to go a bit of fishing. When he left he asked if I would call on his "better half" (Mrs. Morris) to see how she was getting along. She had been quite ill last weekend and he wanted me to check and be sure all was well with her. Of course, I was more than glad to do it.

I went to the post office, got the mail, sorted it and did the necessary filing, then I ambled up to the Morrises to see how everything was going. I am happy to report, "all was well on the home front." I guess I stayed there about 15 or 20 minutes, messing with their small son, Davey, and of course, running my mouth a little. After wishing them a nice holiday weekend, I departed and came back to the office.

As I stepped in the door I saw the most beautiful bouquet of flowers on my desk along with an old newspaper—the Suffolk News, dated Saturday afternoon, February 27, 1926. I was so surprised I couldn't move for a moment; then I saw a little note close beside them. It said: "Anne, the Index said you like flowers. I just couldn't come to Gatesville without bringing you a bud. Here is an old paper I found. Thought you might like to read it. I read all that you write and like it." The note was signed, Mrs. Maywood Taylor.

I don't have to tell you this, but I will anyway. I was thrilled speechless. Not only were the flowers beautiful, but the note was so nice, too. I just had to sit down and write her a little note of thanks. Surely hope I was able to express my heartfelt appreciation for her thoughtfulness and kindness. It made my day much brighter. Little things mean so much to me!

The old newspaper which Mrs. Taylor brought me contained many interesting items. The headline is what really took my eye. It read: "Only Two Young Girls of the Suffolk Schools Have Not Been Kissed." You can be sure I read that story carefully.

Here, briefly, is a summary of that story. Dr. Burke Culpepper, evangelist, holding services in the Christian Church in Suffolk, asked the girls who had never been kissed to stand up and only two stood up and they were scarcely over ten years of age. He warned the high school girls against automobile rides late at night with their petting parties and necking events and their going to road houses to eat hot dogs. He scored the girls who kissed the boys freely and stated that the best time for the first kiss was three days after marriage! Remember, that was back in 1926!

Another interesting news item was headlined, "State Speed Law Raises Limit." A bill was passed allowing vehicles to travel at 40 miles an hour replacing the old bill which allowed 35. Times sure have changed!

The only picture on the front page was that of a boxing match. Calvin Coolidge was President of the United States at that time, and his son, John Coolidge, lost a three-round bout at Amherst to Matt Silverman, a fellow student.

The whole paper was interesting. I enjoyed it immensely. From the Pepper-Culls, a feature of that paper, I would like to leave this thought with you: One First Class Purpose can make a man or a woman out of you!

Religion for Living

By J. L. WALTER MOOSE

"Some went down to the sea in ships, doing business on the great waters; they saw the deeds of the Lord, his wondrous works in the deep." Psalm 107:23-24.

Sometime during these summer months many of us visit the seashore. We shall be going mainly for recreation—a quiet time of rest or a hurried sightseeing trip. We shall not be interested in "doing business on the great waters," but in a few moments we can be made aware of the wondrous works of the Lord in the deep.

Personally, I am always awed by the vastness of the sea, and its tremendous power. Here is something that is far beyond man. He cannot control it. He must have respect for it. And, then, I am impressed by the strange and varied life that inhabits the deep, as is evidenced by the countless lifeless shells that come and go with the tide. Here is a world of life unknown to many of us. I always come away from the sea with a deepened sense of the greatness of God.

Eternal God, in whose hands rests this little planet we call the Earth, help us to realize thy greatness and to put our faith in thy ultimate control; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
