WASHINGTON TOPICS.

INTEREST FELT IN THE ACTION OF THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

Harrison will use the full power of the Government Machinery to secure his reelection—Affairs of State will be left to take care of themselves during the Campaign—Other Notes.

Correspondence of THE REVIEW.

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 21.

All eyes political are now turned towards Chicago. The result at Minneapolis has been received with varying comment and feelings here, but outside of those whose places and political fortunes are dependent upon the administration there is a pretty general notion that the Republican party enters the campaign with a hard row to hoe. Much depends upon the act on at Chicago. Had Mr. Blaine been nominated at Minneapolis Cleveland's nomination at Chicago would have been a foregone conclusion, but as Harrison has once beaten Cleveland the question arises whether the advantage of that fact would not be fatal to the latter in the coming struggle. Among over twenty prominent Democrats with whom your correspondent talked yesterday, including four or five delegates to the convention, fully one half, while expecting Cleveland's nomination, questioned deep down in their gizzards whether a new man like Flower or Whitney would not make more certain of carrying New York, or whether Boies or Palmer, Campbell or Gorman would not on the whole be more likely to win. These questions are raised by many who are really Cleveland men at heart but who care more for success than for any mere sentiment.

The real trouble and anxiety of the President is now just beginning. After bending all his energies and every resource of his office to securing a renomination, he now begins to realize that a still harder fight must be made in the canvass, and that even then he may lose. He already finds that he has his hands full. As he proposes to take general direction of his own campaign, of course the public business must suffer. To keep track of the legislation of Congress and pass upon the bills sent to the White House for his signature, and at the same time give proper consideration to all the matters brought before him by his cabinet officers, while his days and nights are given up to consultations with politicians from every where, is an utter impossibility. Another perplexing feature of the situation is the filling of the large number of offices now vacant, and taking care of the promises made before the ballot at Minneapolis. It is no secret now that every office in the gift of the President has been promised two or three times over, not only for the present but for the second term, should there be one. John C. New had carte blanche at Minneapolis, and he used it unstintingly. Should Harrison pull through in the election there will be lots of fun over this situation. All this emphasizes the necessity of making the President ineligible for a second term.

It is the idea of Mr. Harrison to have a money campaign. He knows that Quay and Dudley bought Indiana and New York for him four years ago, and while he went back on them after he got possession of the office, he thinks somebody else will be found to carry out the same programme this year. It is proposed to raise a corruption fund even larger than that secured by Quay and Wamamaker in 1888. That is why Whitelaw Reid was put on the ticket. Mr. Reid has himself come to be a very rich man by the questionable methods employed by the money-getters of Wall street, and his paper, the New York Tribune, has been the organ of this element ever since Reid obtained control of it. This thrifty young man claims in public that the nomination was unexpected to him, yet he was sending electrotypes of his portrait around to the newspaper offices in New York two days before it occurred. It is said also that he furnished the cash to solidify the southern delegates for Harrison, and stands pledged to secure the largest campaign fund ever raised. That is Mr. Reid's sole strength. His weakness will be fully explained before the campaign is far advanced. One illustration of his character is furnished in his treatment of poor old Horace Greely. In 1872 Mr. Greely made Reid what he was. He gave him an opportunity on the Tribune, and favored him in every way. Yet when Greely was nominated for President and temporarily left the editorship in charge of his protégé the latter proceeded through rich friends to get permanent control of the paper, and supplanted his patron. After the campaign was over Mr. Greely learned the truth. And it was that which broke the poor old man's heart. An editorial which he wrote and sent up a few days after the election was even suppressed by Reid. From that time to the present the great Tribune "founded by Horace Greely" has been the organ of monopoly and Wallstreet—"conducted by Whitelaw Reid."

Judge Holman, the great Indiana economist, and his wife celebrated their golden wedding on the 16th inst. So happy an event is rare in the careers of public men in Washington, and when the person most concerned is a national figure like Judge Holman, whose name and nicknames of "Great Objector" and "Watch Dog of the Treasury" are household words all over the land, the occasion becomes an especially notable event. Judge Holman's pre-eminence as the greatest "objector" who ever sat in Congress and his picturesque and lovable personality in private life have made for him countless hosts of friends, who will unite everywhere in congratulations. The anniversary was celebrated in a characteristic and unostentatious manner. Mr. and Mrs. Holman were married young, aged 19 and 17 years respectively. They have had a happy life and are now seventy-nine and seventy-seven. They neither look nor feel old and have many more years of life in prospect.

THE EXPLOSION OF A BOMB.

startles all within hearing. So the pains which are from derangement of the liver, stomach and bowels, quickly alarms those who experience them. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets afford a speedy and inexpensive cure. Sick head-ache, bilious headache, constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks yield like magic to this wonderful specific. Only one tiny, sugar-coated Pellet for a laxative dose. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. The action is prompt and pleasant. Absolutely the best Liver Pill made. Your money given back if they do not give entire satisfaction. The only pill possessed of such merit as to warrant their being sold on trial.

Decidedly Bull-Headed.

The nomination of Mr. Lindsey in the Third Party District Convention, at Durham, for Congress, which was made unanimous, vice Baldy Williams, the present representative, is a first rate illustration of the efficiency of that party for mischief, provided they can defeat Williams. But so bull-headed are the leaders of that party—bull headed and mule heeled—that if they can just butt hard enough, or kick hard enough to make an impression, it matters but little what sort of an impression it is. They seem to have a motto that the best way to go forward is to go backwards. —Greensboro Workman.

A Refuge for Sore-heads.

COLONEL MALLOY'S motion at the Third party meeting last Saturday, makes room for the disappointed sore-heads of both old parties who have gravitated to the "Gideon Banders." The selfish Colonel says: "No man who has received the endorsement of either political party can receive the support of this party." The Colonel, nor Messrs. Davis, Lindsay, Schoolfield, Wall, etc., have this year received endorsement from either of the old parties, therefore they are all eligible to Third party support. Draw straws for the offices, gentlemen, and divide them up among yourselves.—Leaksville Gazette.

Gleanings from the Neighboring Papers—Political and Other News.

Leaksville Gazette. Mr. N. B. Scales, of Stoneville, died last Monday evening. Mr. Scales was a prominent and popular citizen of that section.

Tobacco factories have commenced active operations in Leaksville, and the morning and noon bells sound like business.

The Disciples of this vicinity will build a church at once. It will be erected on a beautiful site near the Factory burying ground. The lumber for the building has been ordered.

The public school at this place closed without much nonsense. The teacher kindly treated her charge to a liberal supply of good things, and then quietly dismissed the children, in the good old style of lang syne.

Danville Times. Nine convicts left Danville yesterday for the penitentiary.

The tobaccoists of Danville have decided to make an exhibit of leaf and plug tobacco at the Columbian Exposition.

Mr. George Vernon has a game cock two years old which was blood red; but recently, shed its feathers and is now white as snow.

The new Methodist Church at South-erlin—a nice building—was dedicated Sunday, Rev. H. M. Hope preaching the dedicatory sermon. There was a very large crowd present.

The presidency of Roanoke Female college has been offered to Dr. C. F. James, of the Alleghany Institute, and he has accepted it. The building are to be put in nice trim and every effort made to make the institution more prosperous than ever.

Greensboro Record. Dr. J. R. Brown was run over by the northbound through freight on the depot grounds at High Point Saturday and killed.

Saturday the Executive Committee of the State Normal closed its session. They decided to erect two more buildings, one of 20 rooms for boarders, and one for the home of the President. The contract has not yet been closed for their erection, but will be soon.

Mrs. Squire Shelton, near Pomona in this county, went out yesterday evening to milk her cows; not returning, some of the family went out to see what was detaining her, and found her dead. Heart disease was the cause of death, as she had been afflicted with this disease for some time. No inquest was held. She was a very portly woman, weighing about 240 pounds.

The R. & D. is Placed into the Hands of a Receiver.

The great Richmond and Danville railroad, including its leased lines, has been put in the hands of a receiver. The following official circular has been issued: By the Degree of the Circuit Court of the Eastern District of Virginia, the Western District of North Carolina and the Western District of South Carolina, the undersigned have been appointed receivers of all the railroads, property, assets and money of said corporation, with instructions to take immediate possession of all such railroads, property, books, papers and accounts, and hold and operate such railroads.

In compliance with such decree we have taken possession of all the system of railroads and property of said corporation, and assumed the operation thereof as officers of said Courts.

With the approval of the Court the office of the receivers will be maintained at Washington, D. C.

The following officers are hereby appointed: W. H. Green, General Manager, Sol Haas, Traffic Manager, John W. Hall, Treasurer, M. C. Figg, Auditor. Their orders, as such officers, will be obeyed and respected accordingly. F. W. HUIDEKOPER, R. HUBEN FOSTER, Receivers.

Of Vital Interest

It would be interesting to know, not what the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina, but what Baldy Williams said to the agent of the Third party convention when he asked him if he could stand on the St. Louis platform with both feet until next November. —Greensboro Workman.

Gov. McKINLEY said in his speech at Minneapolis that his party could look back at its past without feeling ashamed, which shows how utterly lost to all sense of shame a party may sometimes become.—Burlington Herald.

SPLINTERS.

And "Granny" Blair, where was he? The Harrison "ice-wagon" will make tuis a cold campaign for big Tom Reed.

Chorus of Blaine editors: "No, we don't know crow, but we can eat it, as you can see."

The upsetting of the Blaine craft may have a decidedly injurious effect upon Warner Miller's Nicaragua canal scheme.

It is Boss Depew now, instead of Boss Platt; but it is not apparent what benefit the charge will be to the Republicans of New York.

The members of labor organizations cannot help calling the Republican ticket a rat ticket. Its tail suggests the name to them.

Ex-Boss Platt would better give his attention exclusively to the express business hereafter. Politics, evidently, is not his forte.

The labor organization rejoice at the nomination of Whitelaw Reid for Vice President; it gives them an opportunity to even up a long score.

The Republicans of Maine might do many worse things than sending Mr. Blaine to the Senate in place of the nonentity little Eugene Hale.

Hon. Levi P. Morton could a tale unfold of the ingratitude of the Republican party. He should go up to Bar Harbor and whisper it to Blaine.

Some people were fooled by the promise in the '88 republican platform of one cent letter postage, but the same promise will fool nobody a second time.

It would be impossible to find a more pitiable sight than a Republican honestly trying to work himself into a state of enthusiasm over Harrison and Reid.

Minister Porter shows his sense when he declines to resign the salary and pleasant surroundings of Minister to Italy for the barren honor of leading the republicans of Indiana to defeat this year.

Ex-Congressman Perry Belmont, is a little hard on Blaine, of whom he says: "He has in vain publicly exhibited his treachery to President Harrison just as he in vain betrayed President Arthur."

The people of the country have one thing to be profoundly thankful for. The defeat of Blaine will prevent the organization of plumed knight clubs, wearing tin helmets with paper plumes in them.

Tom Platt before the nomination—"Harrison cannot by any possibility carry New York." After the nomination—"I shall support the ticket." Even Mr. Platt lacks the "gall" to say that Harrison and Reid can carry New York.

The old Grant Republicans have good memories, and they are fond of revenge. They have not forgotten the many bitter things Whitelaw Reid wrote of Grant, before and during the '72 campaign, and they will not neglect the opportunity to "get even" that his running for vice President gives them.

An exchange says Harrison's nomination was a victory for the conservative wing of the Republican party. Brother, you are away off your base; it was just the reverse. Mr. Harrison is chief of the radical wing of the Republican party, the wing that wishes to enact the force bill into law, and to put the ignorant vicious negroes in control of a number of the Southern States, even if rivers of blood—not their own, mind you—have to be shed to do it. If that be conservatism, our dictionaries are all wrong.

Lindsay Don't Like Newspapers. It is stated that in his harangue last Saturday W. R. Lindsay was "very rough on newspapers." This ought not to be so. Whose fault is it that newspapers can say no good of him? How can a man who goes into a Democratic convention, and is there, trusted to represent an entire township, while at the same time harboring treachery to that party in his heart, expect any one to think well of him? His rough denunciation of newspapers brings to mind the familiar old couplet:

"No rogue e'er felt the halter draw, With good opinion of the law." —Leaksville Gazette.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE BETTIE LEWIS CASE.

The Colored Claimant Gets the Bulk of the Thomas Estate.

A despatch from Wytheville, Va., says: In the Supreme Court of Appeals to-day in the case of Thomas' administrator vs Lewis, popularly known as "the Bettie Lewis case," Judge Fauntleroy delivered the opinion, affirming the judgment of the Chancery Court of Richmond, as entered by Judge Leak. Judge Lacy delivered a dissenting opinion.

By this decision the personal estate (said to be worth $225,000) of the late Mr. W. A. Thomas, who was a citizen of Henrico county, passed to his illegitimate daughter as a death-bed gift. Judge Leake was sustained on all points.

It is understood that the counsel for the heirs at law will at an early day ask for a rehearing of the case.

Ingersoll's Libel Suit Against Rev. A. C. Dixon.

It is quite likely that the libel suit brought by Col. Robt. G. Ingersoll against the Rev. Mr. Dixon of Brooklyn, for alleged libel may become a celebrated case. The clergyman admits uttering the words which the colonel pronounces libelous, and his defence is going to be justification. That raises the much disputed question in this State as to what constitutes libel, what justifies the utterances which without justification would be libelous, and what the difference is between libel and slander. The question has not been passed upon by our higher courts since Alexander Hamilton established in a famous libel suit at the beginning of this century the principles which have guided newspaper publication since that time.

Dixon expects to get an opinion from the highest court that it is not a libel to declare that such utterances as Ingersoll has made in his addresses and his essays are blasphemous and prevent the morals of youth. Dixon says he will take no technical advantage. He expects to have the case decided upon its merits, and to get a decision from the highest courts upon the extent to which a clergyman can criticize the utterances of an avowed agnostic.—Philadelphia Record.

Their Schemes Given Away.

Inadvertently last Saturday Yankee Davis divulged the Republican-Third party plot in this county, and possibly all over the State. He said that upon "good authority" he had learned that if a satisfactory Third party ticket was nominated the Republicans would present no opposing ticket. In other words, a combination could readily be effected between these parties so the Republicans and Third party men would combine against the Democrats. It is indeed a delectable "reform" party, opposed as it pretends to be, to monopolies and trusts, and demanding free silver, but at the same time combining with the party pledged to a continuation of all these grievances.—Leaksville Gazette.

The Globe learns that a new candidate for State printer will announce himself later on; that already he is trying to set pins to capture this winter's Legislature. The Globe hopes that this vicious and iniquitous law which authorizes the payment of three or four thousand dollars a year to a middle man, for doing nothing will be abolished, and the money thus needlessly squandered will be saved to the tax payers. The papers of the State should raise their voices against it now.—Durham Globe.

The Progress of the Split.

The Third party is forging ahead. It will prove a potential factor in electing Republicans and bringing back into power the Radicals who despoiled and ruined in the past. They are putting candidates in the field for the U. S. House. We are surprised to see our old personal friend, Capt. Edward A. Thorne, of Halifax county, nominated for Congress from the Second District. We hope it is without his consent. We would be profoundly sorrowful to see him in such bad company.

In the Fifth District the Third party has nominated one W. R. Lindsey for the Congress in opposition to Capt. Baldy Williams, present Alliance Representative. The Third party in the Fourth will nominate a candidate for the Federal House on 15th prox. It also decided to put full county and State tickets in the field.

The milk in the cocanut is found in the statement the Republican leaders assure the Third party fellows that their party will have no ticket in the field. What does that mean? Anything to beat the Democrats. That is all. The Republicans will swallow all the Third party favors, and do this to split up and defeat the Democracy and finally control North Carolina. Smart Radicals! And the white men are playing right into the hands of the black and tan. We said rightly weeks ago that the Third party was only an annex of the Radicals. Watch the corks and you will see just what sort of fish will bite at the hooks now being thrown into the water by the Third party fanatics. Any men who are trying to give party aid and comfort to the Third party disintegrators are not only no Democrats at heart, but they are the enemies of the white race of North Carolina.—Messenger.
