CAUSED BY A WOMAN.

CECIL RHODES' CAREER THOUGHT TO BE ENDED.

The Diamond King said to have been upset by ambition and love—What May Be the Result if He is Ordered Home For Trial.

Cecil Rhodes' career is regarded as ended.

There seems to be no possible way for him to rehabilitate himself, and it is quite probable that he will be ordered home by the imperial government to stand trial with Jameson.

His friends are profoundly apprehensive that such a command might result either in the tragic termination of his life or in his flinging back a defiance at the imperial authorities which might result in war with the mother country and the ultimate establishment of the United States of South Africa.

The circumstances connected with Jameson's Transvaal raid daily grow more disgraceful to British good faith and national honor, since, despite the revelations of the captured cipher telegrams, the ministerial newspapers, with the Times the most reactionary, continue to defend Jameson and Rhodes and intimate that the Boers must still be forced into submission.

Here is a little story current in the clubs, which, if true, may explain the previously cautious, self-contained Cape dictator's amazing recklessness in all these recent proceedings:

When in London last year, the report goes, he fell in love with the widowed Georgina, dowager Countess of Dudley, still one of the most admired of English beauties, although she has now been a grandmother for two years. This lady is said to have declined immediately and finally his offer of marriage, declaring that she is resolved never to marry again.

Ever since this rebuff Rhodes is said by his friends to have been a changed man, having grown tenfold more reserved and arrogant than before, and acting offhand the restraining counsels of his former advisers. He had never before been known to show the slightest fancy for any woman. He had always made it a point to have about him no married men.

The effect of such a disappointment on a man of his immense self will and pride may well have been what his friends now assert—London Cable to New York World.

A LONG FELT WANT.

Richmond, Va., May 13.—A special to the Dispatch from Charlottesville says a terrific wind, rain, hail and thunder storm visited that place yesterday afternoon. It was the worst in the memory of the oldest citizens. Houses were unroofed and trees uprooted, and in the unroofed houses great damage was done by water. Several partially completed frame houses were levelled. No one was hurt, but men, women and children were greatly frightened.

A terrific hail storm also swept over the Massena section there doing great damage to fruit trees. The hail was in some places three inches deep.

When you take your Simons Liver Regulator this Spring for your blood and for Malaria be sure to note how well it works, and how quickly you find yourself improved in health and spirits. It was induced to try Simons Liver Regulator, and its action was quick and thorough. It imparted a brisk and vigorous feeling. It is an excellent remedy." J. R. Hiland, Monroe, Iowa.

Shot Dead on the Street.

Columbus, Ga., May 13.—A terrific tragedy was enacted on the street yesterday afternoon, in which Walter Wright, a young man 21 years of age, avenged an insult offered his sister by Dr. J. T. Blackwell, by shooting the latter dead. Blackwell, it is said, made improper proposals to Miss Wright.

She is so sweet.

She is sweet she never knows
Aught but to pity human woes;
And in her pathway blooms the rose—
She is so sweet, so sweet!

She is so sweet the violet stir;
The spring's best blossoms raig on her—
She is so sweet, so sweet!

She is so sweet that a song
Had quivered in its music wrong
God's love would bear the strain along—
She is so sweet, so sweet!

LATEST BICYCLE STORY.

A Wheelman Carries an Injured Man on His Back For Four Miles.

The story is told that while returning from a bicycle run to Paterson with a friend on a recent evening Mr. Robert Young, a member of the Atlanta wheelmen and a well known rider, had a unusual experience and performed a feat which few men would care to undertake. He and his friend were going along at a moderate pace, when they were surprised to see a dark mass of something in the road ahead of them. They slowed down, and on dismounting discovered the form of a man, bleeding and unconscious and apparently severely injured.

By his attire it was judged that he was a wheelman, and after a little search his bicycle was found in a ditch at the side of the road. Neither Mr. Young nor his friend could do much for the unfortunate, who had apparently taken a serious header, without getting him where medical assistance could be had, and the nearest place was Belleville, which was about four miles away.

They discussed the situation hurriedly, and then Mr. Young volunteered to take the prostrate wheelman to Belleville on his bicycle. With the assistance of his friend he got the unfortunate upon his back and started off at a good pace, reaching Belleville without making a stop and quickly procuring help for the injured man.

The matter is a subject of discussion among the Atlanta wheelmen, and Mr. Young is getting heaps of compliments for his plucky deed, but he takes it modestly. He is the holder of the double century record between Newark and Philadelphia, weighs about 180 pounds and is a powerful rider and athlete.—Newark (N. J.) Call.

A GREAT ISLAND SOLD.

Anticosti Passes Into the Hands of a Rich Frenchman.

Henry Menier, a wealthy manufacturer, has just closed a remarkable real estate transaction in the purchase of the island of Anticosti, which lies in the mouth of the St. Lawrence river. The island is 185 miles long by 85 miles at its widest part and has an area of over 4,000 square miles. The encyclopedia describes it as rocky and swampy formation and with a population of about 800 French speaking fisher folk. The purchase price was $150,000. Mr. Menier intends to spend $500,000 in the development of the island, which he means to colonize with Frenchmen.

Its forests are large and valuable. Sawmills will be put up, agriculture will be developed, lobster canneries will be erected near the coast, but the most ambitious effort will be the establishment of a model beaver farm, in which the projector thinks there is a fortune. The island remains subject to the British authorities politically, but Mr. Menier will conduct its internal affairs on the lines followed by the British chartered companies of India, Africa and the great northwest.—New York Journal.

There's Something Wrong.

New Yorkers are asking why they have to pay 70 cents for 100 pounds of pepper when the figure is only 35 cents in Savannah and 25 cents in Boston. There is room for improvement in greater New York when a heated term makes 100 cent double the amount asked in Georgia.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

An Old World Tournament.

It is announced that the University of Utrecht is to have an old world tournament this summer. Students representing most illustrious personages (among them Maximilian, king of Bohemia; the Duke of Bavaria, the prince elector of Saxony, Augustus I. Ferdinand of the Tyrol and Charles of Steiermarken, all of them with their retinue of nobles) will parade through the town and present the same spectacle as that seen 350 years ago, when a similar tournament was given at Vienna in 1550 by the real Maximilian.—New York Tribune.

WAITED CENTURIES.

CLAUDE FALLS WRIGHT AND MARY LEONARD WEDDED AT LAST.

The Great Unknowns Performed the Ceremony—The Marriage in Accordance With Freetholder Rites—One For Theosophy Now.

A prehistoric courtship resulted yesterday in the marriage of two theosophical leaders, Claude Falls Wright and Miss Mary Katherine Leoline Leonard, in accordance with the rites of the ancient Egyptian mystics. The adept in occultism, the secret head of the Theosophical society in America, and the recent successor of William Q. Judge performed the ceremony, assisted by Alderman Robinson. It was very gracious, indeed, of the adept to do so, for Mr. Wright wanted to get married two years ago, and he said: "After not two so young, you know," or words to that effect.

Mr. Wright had waited many thousand years, according to his idea, and he thought that in justice to the bride elect he should not postpone the nuptials beyond a reasonable time. Miss Leonard, however, named a day which met the approval of the adept, and Mr. Wright lectured and wrote and was very happy indeed.

Bride and bridegroom do not remember exactly when they first encountered each other. Mr. Wright says that he has seen Miss Leonard's face in his dreams ever since he was 4 years old. They met for the first time of which they have any definite recollection in Chicago. The exact details of this meeting are not known, as Mr. Wright, with his usual reticence, declined to speak of it.

"I think we have met before," he is supposed to have said. "It must have been either when we were cave dwellers or when we were traveling down the Yang-tse-Kiang river in a houseboat in the time of the Wish Wash dynasty, in the year 1575 B. C."

"I think you have the advantage of me," it is said she archly replied.

They both believe in reincarnation, though, and it seems that she had been dreaming about him occasionally. They felt very bitterly toward the adept, but finally they realized the wisdom of his

DEATH OF A LEAD-TIP MAGNATE.

Columbus, O., May 13.—A private telegram from Pittsburg, Pa., this morning announced the death of John McKelvey, president of the Lead Trust.

BABY MCKEE HAS THE PNEUMONIA.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 13.—Benjamin McKee, a grandnephew of General Harrison, and son of J. R. McKee and Mrs. Mamie Harrison McKee, is seriously ill with what appears to be pneumonia. Mr. McKee, who was in New York, who was summoned here yesterday, arrived early this morning. Mr. and Mrs. McKee recently moved from Schenectady to this village.

THE A. P. A. CONVENTION.

Washington, May 13.—At this morning's session of the A. P. A. Convention, the annual reports of officers were received and referred to the committee.

President Trayner's address related to internal affairs of the order and touched upon politics in a general way. The McKinley boycott is being considered by the advisory board this evening, and confidence was expressed by a majority of delegates that when presented to convention it will be annulled.

WANTS THE VENEZUELA BOUNDARY DISPUTE SETTLED EARTHQUAKE.

Caracas, Venezuela, May 14.—The first earthquake in Venezuela is sending the British government to the aid of the settlement of the boundary question between Venezuela and Colombia, representing that the local interests are suffering greatly. An early settlement of the dispute is urged without delay to avoid further rights.

Women go on "Blank" stands for the occult organization within the Theosophical society, the name of which is known only to the few. It is never spoken above a whisper. These persons, resp. ident. in a check, were arranged in a mysterious way. The front of the stand was held by the adept in occultism, otherwise known as "He Who Must Be Observed."

This adept was on the platform, yet he was so closely veiled that no one was able to distinguish his features. He wore a long purple robe, which reached to his feet. A full view of him was cut off by a purple magic stump, covered with Grand Street artificial leaves. It was symbolical of the tree of life. On the right of He Who Must Be Observed sat Ernest T. Hargrove, president of the society, and on the left the theosophical bridegroom, Mr. Wright, in becoming attire in a black suit and a patient smile.

Behind the inner circle were 30 persons, who are not so proficient in mysticism as the inner circle. They were called the outer guard. Besides these were 150 invited guests sitting on the benches. They were all theosophists.

Mr. Hargrove, at a sign from the veiled figure, arose and delivered a disquisition upon marriage in general and this union in particular.

"Ceremonies in these days," he said, "are generally used as shows to draw the multitude and create sensation. But this ceremony will have quite another purpose. Let us free our minds once more and face the fact that a ceremony, if carried out scientifically, has a power and a meaning."

He then briefly related the trials and tribulations of the young couple and how the opposition to the match was overcome. He asked that everybody

THE MISSOURI REPUBLICANS

END OF A LONG AND STORMY CONVENTION AT SPRINGFIELD.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 13.—At 3 o'clock this morning the roll was called in the Republican State convention on delegates at large, there being six names before the convention, with three to be selected, Chauncey L. Filley, of St. Louis, having been unanimously chosen. The first ballot resulted in the election of Maj. Willam Warner, Kansas City, N. C., Niedringhouse, of St. Louis, withdrawing in his favor. Warner received 462 out of 675 votes cast.

The next contest was between R. C. Kerens and F. G. Niedringhouse, of St. Louis. Fitter opposition to Kerens made itself manifest in voting. He had a record of 462 out of 675 votes given Warner, the vote being 222 for Kerens and 451 for Niedringhouse.

The Niedringhouse election was made unanimous. Colonel Bittiger, of St. Louis, drew his name, urging his friends to vote for Kerens but they did not save that gentleman.

On the third ballot John H. Bithwell, of Sedalia, was made fourth delegate-at-large to St. Louis.

The following delegates-at-large were elected by acclamation: Louis Benke, Chariton; James T. Monroe, Laeade; Leon Jordan, Jackson; John L. Farmer, St. Louis. The latter two were re-elected.

The last and crowning act of the convention immediately before adjournment at 4:30 this morning was the adoption of a motion instructing the delegates to the national convention to instruct the delegates to the party given Warner, the vote being 222 for Kerens and 451 for Niedringhouse.

DOINGS IN THE SENATE AND HOUSE AT THE CAPITOL TODAY.

Washington, May 13.—The Senate committee on foreign affairs this morning discussed Senator Morgan's joint resolution on the recognized belligerency of the Cuban insurgents, but no action was taken and the sentiments of the members were not disclosed by discussion. The meeting was not largely attended, so the adjournment until next Wednesday. Nothing was said in the committee about asking the president before it of the Diaz brothers, who were expelled from Cuba on the charge of aiding the insurgents. There is a movement on foot to have the gentlemen appear before the committee and relate the condition of affairs on the island as they know them, but no steps have as yet been taken looking to such a hearing.

Washington, May 13.—The River and Harbor bill was taken up pending the question on an amendment offered yesterday by Gorman to restrict the annual expenditure under the bill and under former river and harbor bills to $10,000,000.
