COME HOME, GENTLEMEN, COME HOME!

The Labors of the Bimetallic Commission Are Finished.—Come Home.

To the American bimetallic commission: Come home!

Your work is done, your labors are over. You have accomplished all that it was possible to accomplish. You have, in fact, won a great victory for truth and honesty. Rest upon your laurels now and come home!

You have done more for the cause of bimetallic than any other agency has ever done. You have done more in that direction than any monetary conference has ever been able to do. Therefore, come home!

You have done what the whole Democratic press and Democratic party have been unable to do. You have demonstrated the fact that the cry of international bimetallic was a piece of folly at the beginning and a fraud at the ending—a bait concocted to deceive the honest voters of the United States and to lure them further into the clutches of the tools of gold monometalism. In accomplishing this you have won a victory for truth and honesty, and you have also won a great political victory. The people of the United States without regard to parties—we mean the honest voters—will care for nothing but the truth—are under great obligations to you. Come home and receive their thanks!

Whenever the people of this country have grown restive under the crushing effects of the single gold standard, they have sought a disposition to throw off the shackles of hardship and poverty thus imposed upon them, they have been told to wait—to wait for international cooperation. The very men who had been most active in promoting the gold standard, when they are the authors of their own troubles.

We say again—gentlemen of the American bimetallic commission, come home! You have done your duty neatly and far more completely than we had anticipated. You have shown that international bimetallic is a mere political bait thrown out by the Republican party to catch gudgeons. Having made this exposure, come home to your friends and prepare to take part in the campaign in which the financial issue will be so definite and clear-cut that the Republican party and those who control it will have no opportunity to evade it.

By demonstrating the futility of the mission on which you were sent, you have cleared the path for the United States the long desired opportunity of settling this great question unmixt with other issues. By laying bare the hypocrisy of the whole scheme, you have driven the Republican party to the alternative of either clearly stating its position, or that party has pledged itself to maintain the gold standard until international bimetallic takes its place. As you have demonstrated that the plea of international bimetallic is a fraud, and that an honest party should not be in a position to have accomplished a work wholly out of proportion to its importance to that which you were appointed to perform. The people of this country, without regard to party, owe you a debt of gratitude.

As the result of your earnest and active negotiations, you have compelled the Republicans in all parts of the country to advocate the gold standard or stand discredited before the country. Henceforward the people of the United States will know how to make their choice. Nothing but a wheat famine in other parts of the world and good crops at home have prevented the farmers of the West from raising their wheat at a loss. And there has been no such presidential interference with the cotton crop in the South. They are now selling their cotton at but little more than five cents a pound.

If, under all the circumstances, the people of the United States want the gold standard, dear money will be the result. It will be the result of the South. They are now selling their cotton at but little more than five cents a pound.

Many people who do not understand the situation will no doubt be surprised that England refused to play the same part assigned her. The British government was not asked to abandon the gold standard on its own account, but merely to re-open the mints of India to free coinage and to consent for the Bank of England to keep a silver reserve in the mints. The latter being a mere question of detail, it was supposed even by some well informed persons, that England, considering the deplorable state of affairs of the Indian empire, would accede to these proposals. As a matter of fact, however, the English cabinet is not the governing power in England in matters financial. That power is exercised by the money barons in the "city"—the area being not more than a mile square. Quite recently the city raised up in its might against the cabinet to understand that the proposals laid before it were intolerable and not to be considered.

Why did these money barons of the "city" of London protest so vehemently against the re-opening of the Indian mints as an aid to international bimetallic? Simply because international bimetallic would cheapen gold, and this would injure the selfish interests of England in two ways. In the first place, it would cheapen the dollar in which the rest of the world pays its debts to Great Britain, and in the second place, it would raise the prices of the products that England is compelled to buy—cotton and other staple products. Now the very thing that the money power of London—the city—has been trying to do for a quarter of a century, and with a success absolutely wonderful, considering the ruin it has wrought in other countries, is to make the dollar dearer and dearer, so that the dollars owing to them may be more valuable and so on. The cheapening of commodities, which England is compelled to buy may be cheaper. Gold monometalism is just as certainly to the interest of the money lenders of Great Britain as bimetallic is to the interest of the people of the

COL. JOHN S. CUNNINGHAM.

The Newly Elected President of the North Carolina Agricultural Society.

At the recent annual meeting of the North Carolina Agricultural Society, under the auspices of which the State Fair is held, Col. John S. Cunningham, of Person county, was unanimously chosen president for the ensuing year.

This is an honor worthy bestowed and a better selection could not have been made. Under his wise management we predict that the society will reach a higher degree of prosperity and usefulness than ever before in its history.

COL. JOHN S. CUNNINGHAM.

United States. Those who desire to criticize the policy of Great Britain as selfish and narrow are welcome to do so. Each nation has its own interests, and if its rulers do not clearly state their policy, it is the authors of their own troubles.

We say again—gentlemen of the American bimetallic commission, come home! You have done your duty neatly and far more completely than we had anticipated. You have shown that international bimetallic is a mere political bait thrown out by the Republican party to catch gudgeons. Having made this exposure, come home to your friends and prepare to take part in the campaign in which the financial issue will be so definite and clear-cut that the Republican party and those who control it will have no opportunity to evade it.

Col. Cunningham is a young man in the prime of life and vigor, possessed of ample means, a thorough-going gentleman and popular with all classes. He enjoys the distinction of being the largest tobacco planter in the world, and his whole life has been devoted to matters pertaining to agriculture. He is possessed of rare business qualifications and good, old-fashioned common sense. He will apply to the management of the affairs of the Agricultural Society the same business methods so successfully employed in the conduct of his own extensive interests, and no one doubts for an instant the results.

Col. Cunningham represented his county in the State Legislature of 1896 and made a brilliant record as one of the minority leaders. Although Person is usually a Republican county, Col. Cunningham was elected by a large majority on the Democratic ticket, which attests the high esteem in which he is held by the people of his own county.

When a young woman sits down and ponders over her future life, there is one all important subject which she should not forget. In a day dream she may build castles in the air with a happy home, laughing child and a loving husband in the foreground. At that moment she may be facing death. Matrimony and motherhood hold out no happiness to the young woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. The woman who suffers in this way is a weak, nervous, sickly, petulant wife, an incapable mother and an unamiable hostess. Not knowing the truth, her acquaintances will not understand that she is deserving of pity rather than reproach.

Any woman may be strong and healthy in a womanly way if she will use the right remedy. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all medicines for weak and ailing women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It makes them strong, healthy and vigorous. It banishes the dangers that surround maternity. It insures a healthy baby and an ample supply of nourishment. Thousands of women who were weak, sickly, nervous invalids, are now healthy, robust wives and competent mothers of healthy children, as the result of the use of this medicine.

Mrs. John M. Conklin, of Putnam, Putnam Co., N. Y., (Box 104), writes: "I am enjoying perfect health and vitality, and took the bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I had falling of the internal organs, or female weakness, and flowing caused by miscarriage, and was very weak when I commenced taking your medicine."

WILMINGTON STAR'S SAVINGS.

The presumption is that Hor. David H. Hill is still "a Democrat." But he hasn't come down from his roost yet.

Karl Decker, who rescued Evangelina, is a handsome fellow and was at one time an actor. Perhaps that accounts for his playing his part so well in the Cisneros drama.

Speaker Reed isn't enjoying the outcome of the recent municipal elections in this country. He fears it does not augur in favor of his grip on the Speakership of the next Congress.

According to the New York papers the registration of voters foots up $67,000, which they say means that between $25,000 and $30,000 votes will be cast. Here will be a chance to distribute some boodle.

A St. Louis bacteriologist imparts the interesting information that it isn't the healthy microbes in a food which hurt but the others. The general impression was that it was the able-bodied mikes that did the work.

Some of the Democratic papers in Ohio are howling about colonizing, bulldozing, etc., by the Republicans, which might lead an outsider to conclude that the Republicans stand a pretty good chance of coming out on top.

The Public Prosecutor of Mexico seems to mean business. He demands the execution of ten men implicated in the assassination of Diaz, among whom are some high police officials.

The London Post thinks President McKinley is trying to pick a quarrel with Great Britain. Mr. McKinley is not so fond of pickle as that. He is thinking a good deal more about Ohio and New York city, I would think, than he is about John Bull.

Some of the Georgia papers are poking fun at those Alabama doctors who insisted on fumigating some pig iron before they let it come into their town. Perhaps they thought the pigs might have been feeding on microbes.

Some of the highly moral editors don't think that Mr. Decker should have resorted to bribery, forgery and lying to carry out the Cisneros affair. Probably they might also object to the distribution of that drugged taffy by Evangelina.

There are 30,000 colored voters in Greater New York who, it is said, are kicking against the Platt machine and it is further said will vote for Van Wyck. If that be true it will be had for Tracy and adds color to the claim that Van Wyck will get there.

An Old Doctor's Favorite.

Dr. L. M. Gillam, who practiced medicine over forty years, originated, used and claimed that Botanic Blood Balm, (B. B. B.) which has now been in use about fifty-five years, was the best tonic and Blood Purifier ever given to the world. It never fails to cure the most malignant ulcers, sores, rheumatism, catarrh and all skin and blood diseases. Beware of substitutes. Use this standard remedy. Price, per large bottle $1.00.

AFTER SEVERAL DOCTORS FAILED.

I have been afflicted with catarrh for many years, although all sorts of medicines and several doctors did their best to cure me. My blood was very impure, and nothing ever had any effect upon the disease until I used that great Blood Remedy known as Botanic Blood Balm, (B. B. B.), a few bottles of which effected an entire cure. I recommend it to all who have catarrh. I refer to any merchant or banker of Athens, Ga., and will reply to any inquiries.

THE PENITENTIARY BOARD.

Declares Dr. Kirby Smith Guilty—J. R. Smith Superintendent Only in Name.

The penitentiary directors Thursday unanimously decided that Dr. Kirby Smith, son of the superintendent, had committed a felony of the female criminal insane; that the charges against him were fully proved, and Dr. George L. Kirby and Superintendent Smith were commended for promptly discharging him as supervisor.

The board also decided to place the penitentiary absolutely in charge of the executive committee, composed of Directors Chadburn, Martin and Cotten, thus taking control entirely out of Superintendent Smith's hands. Smith made no protest, but was immediately removed from office.

It was decided that the penitentiary should be leased as the general sentiment in the State is strongly against leasing. Chairman Dockery says an excellent showing was made by Superintendent Smith as to farming operations and that after paying the debts there will be $25,000 surplus putting cotton at a basis of 5 cents, and that there will be also plenty of grain and feed for another year.

A proposal from a Petersburg firm for convicts to make shirts in the penitentiary was referred to a committee.

It was decided that all incompetent employes should be dropped and the penitentiary not made a refuge for office-seekers.

INCORPORATED.—Dr. E. Decker, during sleep stopped immediately by Dr. E. Decker's Anti Diabetic. Cures children and adults alike. Price, $1. Sold by W. S. Allen, druggist, Reidsville.

Too Much Knife!

The use of the surgeon's knife is becoming so general, resulting fatally in such a large number of cases, as to occasion general alarm.

Mr. William Walpole, of Walkersville, South Dakota, writes: "About three years ago, there came under my left eye a little blotch about the size of a small pea. It grew rapidly, and shooting pains ran in every direction. I became alarmed and consulted a good doctor, who pronounced it cancer, and said that it must be cut out. This I would not consent to, having a little faith in the efficacy of the many cures made by Dr. S. S. S. I determined to give that medicine a trial, and after I had taken it a few days, the cancer became irritated and began to discharge. This after awhile ceased, leaving a number of scars, which finally dropped off, and only a healthy little scar remained to mark the place where the doctor had held full sway."

A Real Blood Remedy.

Cancer is in the blood and it is folly to expect an operation to cure it. S. S. S. (Genuine Serravallo's) is a real remedy for the blood. It cures cancer of every description. Books mailed free. Address: Swift Blood Purifier, Atlantic City, N. J., or New York, N. Y.
